KOHLBERG LYCEUM SERIES

Centennial Celebration

Presents

ROBERT URICH

accomplished actor
and advocate for the arts in America

Saturday, April 8, 8 p.m.

Baldwin Auditorium

A student reception is scheduled from 9-10
p.m., April 8, in the SUB Alumni Room.

All students are welcome.

*Urich is the replacement for Beverly Sills, who had to cancel
her April 8 appearance
due to a family
emergency.*

Tickets are available at the SAB office for students, faculty and staff, and at the Edna Campbell Book Store
and Truman Business
Office for $7.

Call 785.4016 for more information.

Robert Urich Will Culminate Centennial Anniversary of Lyceum Series

Robert Urich, Emmy award-winning actor and advocate for the arts, will speak at 8 p.m., April 8, in Baldwin Auditorium. Urich's presentation on the importance of arts will bring to a close the year-long celebration of the role the Kohlenberg Lyceum Series has played on the Truman campus over the past 100 years. Urich is replacing the previously scheduled Beverly Sills, who had to cancel her appearance due to a family emergency.

Urich has starred in ten television series during his career, including the long-running series Spenser: For Hire and the mini-series Lonesome Dove. In 1992, Urich received an Emmy Award for his narration of the National Geographic Explorer film U-Boats: Terror on Our Shores, and a Cable Ace Award for his work hosting the Explorer series.

Urich's list of accomplishments stretches far beyond the television screen. In 1996, he went public with his diagnosis of synovial cancer, a rare form of soft tissue cancer. During his year-long battle with the disease and year of remaining cancer-free, he was given numerous awards, including the Gilda Radner Courage Award from then-Roswell Park Cancer Institute and the John Wayne Cancer Institute's Three Tyler Award.

He currently continues to host TBS' National Geographic's On Assignment series and performs in the Broadway hit Chicago. He is also the official spokesman for The CyberAngel, the first Windows-based security program that detects and reports unauthorized access to computers, prevents the transmission of data across the modem, and reports the location of stolen computers.

A student reception is scheduled from 9-10 p.m. in the SUB Alumni Room.

The Truman State University Foundation is a co-sponsor of this event and the Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine is a platinum-level sponsor and special guest at this performance. Free tickets will be available for students, faculty and staff at the SAB office, lower level SUB. Call 785.4016 for more information.

Travel Around the World in Seven Days

Truman's International Week will continue through April 8. Students who attend all of the week's events and get a "passport" punched each night will be entered into a drawing to receive free tickets to the International Dinner and next year's SAB concerts. The passport contest is being sponsored by SAB and the International Club.

Thursday's events will begin with a rugby demonstration by the Bulls rugby team from 4:30-6 p.m. on the rugby fields. From 8-9 p.m., Truman soccer players will challenge International Club students in a soccer game at the Student Recreation Center.

Students are invited to attend a spa night from 4-6 p.m. Friday in the Ryle College Main Lounge. SAB will sponsor a hypnotist at 7 p.m. in Baldwin Hall, and "Kissing Around the World" will follow at 8:30 p.m. These events are free to students with a Truman ID.

Saturday's activities will conclude the celebration. They include a cricket workshop from 3-5 p.m. in the Rec Center, and a reggae dance from 8-11 p.m. in the Ryle Commons.

Call 785.4215 or Nancy Homan at 785.5707 for more details.

Students living in on-campus or Greek housing will receive census forms A.S.A.P.!

CONFUSED ABOUT THE CENSUS?

The Missouri Census Bureau has had a delay in sending forms.

REMEMBER, students WILL NOT be counted at their parents' home!

To be counted, students must fill out census forms at their Kirkville residences!

Foreign Language Festival Scheduled

This year's Foreign Language Festival will take place April 6 at Truman State University. High schools from throughout Missouri, Iowa and Illinois will be represented by over 350 students proficient in French, German and Spanish.

Foreign language faculty and students from Truman will lead various sessions on these languages and others such as Chinese, Russian and Greek. Fifty of the attending students are concentrating upon German, 100 upon French and 200 upon Spanish. They will have the opportunity to choose sessions from their target language and from the "Other Language Sessions."

New to this year's festival is a poster contest and "Language Labyrinths." The poster contest, "Great Achievements during the 20th Century by German, French, and Spanish Speakers," will award 1st, 2nd and 3rd place ribbons to students from each level of the language divisions. At Language Labyrinths, students will guide each other through a maze, using only their target languages, and stop at various stations to complete a task or answer trivia questions.

At the closing assembly of the festival, the students will also have an opportunity to perform skits, songs or other presentations in their target language.

The Foreign Language Festival is sponsored by the Classics/Modern Language faculty and the Division of Language and Literature.

Notables

Jerry Mayhew and Jack Boen, professors of exercise science, recently received notification that their research titled "Contributions of Strength and Body Composition to the Gender Difference in Anaerobic Power" will be published in the Journal of Sports Medicine and Physical Fitness. Recent graduates Kristin McQuire Hancock ('99) and Lisa Prather Rollison ('97) assisted in the research.

David McKamie, professor of music, was adjudicator for the 25th annual Des Moines Symphony Young Artist competition in which contestants competed for over $15,000 and opportunities to perform with the Des Moines Symphony. McKamie also performed the premier of a new work for alto saxophone and piano with composer Kelly Vernon Mahon at the College Music Society Conference at UMKC on March 24.

Symposium Focuses on Critical Issues

The Multicultural Affairs Center and Vice President for Academic Affairs Office is sponsoring The Image of Blacks II: The Politics of Race Symposium April 8 in Violette Hall Auditorium. The symposium is designed to address how politics, music, literature and film link culture and race; how Black tactics, voices and images have changed from the past; whether historical Black expressions are still relevant today; and whether contemporary Black expression has changed the way America views African-Americans or how they view themselves.

Saturday's events begin at 8:45 a.m. with a welcome ceremony. At 9 a.m., Robert Weems, associate professor of history at the University of Missouri-Columbia, will present "Maya, Puff, or Alan...Who Shall it Be?: Black Culture and Experience Defined." The session will examine whether it is possible to obtain accurate understandings of African-Americans through media portrayals.

Following this session, actress and singer Anita Jackson will discuss what defines marketability and what political forces set trends among Black females in entertainment with "Black Women in Entertainment: As Good as it Gets?" at 10:30 a.m.

Beginning at 1:30 p.m., Black activist Jamala Rogers and Truman alumna Nyasha Nyamapfene will discuss the New York City shooting of Amadou Diallo by a group of policemen in "Linking Grass Roots Activism and Economic Empowerment."

"Hip Hop Nation Divided" will be presented by top-rated radio personality and authority on hip-hop Kevin "Kevy-Kev" Pulley at 3 p.m. A question and answer session with all of the panelists from the day's sessions will follow at 4:30 p.m.

In addition to the day's activities, lunch will be served at the Multicultural Affairs Center from noon to 1:20 p.m. For more information, call 785.4142.

Children's Lit Festival Celebrates 17th Year

The 17th annual Truman State University Children's Literature Festival will be held from 9 a.m. to 2:15 p.m., April 14, in the SUB, Violette Hall and Pickler Memorial Library. Hundreds of fourth, fifth and sixth-grade students will participate in 30-minute sessions with guest authors and illustrators.

An informal meeting with the authors and illustrators is scheduled from 3-4 p.m. in the SUB Conference Room, and is open to all interested participants. The festival will conclude with a dinner at 6 p.m. in the SUB Alumni Room, and is limited to preregistered adults and children accompanied by an adult. The cost of the dinner is $9.

Following the dinner, Paul Robert Walker will give a storytelling presentation at 7:30 p.m. in the SUB Down Under.

All University faculty, staff, students and other interested adults are welcome at any of the sessions, but must be preregistered. To register, call Ann McEnderfer at 785.6010, Brewer Basement 31.

Unfortunately, there are no remaining openings for children to attend. The festival is being sponsored by Truman State University. Call McEnderfer for more information about the event.
