Workshops to Focus on Using Performance in the Classroom

Baldwin Lecturer, Sally Roesch Wagner, will present two workshops to faculty, staff, and K-12 teachers. The workshops are Feb. 6, 1:30-3:30 p.m., and Feb. 7, 9:30-11:30 a.m.

The "Using Performance in the Classroom" workshops will build upon Wagner's Baldwin Lecture, explaining how research-based performance may be used as an educational tool.

In the Baldwin Lecture, Feb. 6, Wagner will present 19th century feminist Elizabeth Cady Stanton in costume and character. She has presented "Elizabeth Cady Stanton" and associated workshops to colleges and universities, K-12 schools, state legislatures and summer Chautauquas across the United States. Participants from all disciplines are welcome to attend the workshops.

The deadline for registration is Feb. 4. Workshops are free, but participants must register to assure enough materials and refreshments. Call the Office of Faculty Development at 785.4391 to register.

Career Expo Scholarship Information

Approaches

Students seeking internships and jobs can start looking at the Career Expo Feb. 9 from 1-6 p.m.

Sponsored by Truman's Career Center, the Career Expo has opportunities for students in all majors. The Career Center can help students draft resumes to take to the Expo.

"Students can also come to the Career Center to do mock interviews and get tips on how to be successful at the Expo," said Jan Fishback, Career Coordinator.

"This year's Career Expo represents the largest number of companies to ever come to Truman, and they are coming from farther and farther distances to recruit Truman students," Fishback added.

Companies interviewing at the Career Expo are Aerotek Inc., Boys Hope and Girls Hope, ConAgra Frozen Foods, Department of Veterans Affairs, Enterprise Rent-A-Car, Hannibal Regional Hospital Group, IAC Group, Inroads, Kelly Scientific Resources, Mass Financial Group, Midwest Data Center, Northwestern Mutual Life, Prudential Insurance Company of America, Prudential Preferred Services, Sigma Chemical Company, Six Flags Midwest Division, U.S. Navy, USDA/Office of Inspector General and Walgreens.

For more information on companies that will be at the Career Expo, stop by the Career Center in McKinney Center.

For more information about or applications for the following scholarships contact the Financial Aid Office, McClain Hall 103.

The National Federation of the Blind of Missouri will award scholarships which total in excess of $2,500. Students who are blind or visually impaired are eligible for these awards.

Truman students Maria Augusta Carrasco, James Bang and Polina Vlasenko will present papers to the Missouri Valley Economics Association Feb. 26. Carrasco will present "Government Spending and Crowding Out." "Drug Enforcement" will be presented by Bang. Vlasenko will present "Investment Demand: What Happened in 1980?" David Gillette, associate professor of economics, will serve as a discussant for these and other papers on the panel.

Violinist and Pianist To Visit Truman

The Division of Fine Arts will present violinist Ben Sayevich and pianist Rita Sloan in concert Feb. 6 at 8 p.m. in the SUB Activities Room.

Sayevich is concertmaster of the Kansas City Chamber Orchestra and associate professor of violin at the University of Kansas at Lawrence. A recipient of the prestigious Artist Diploma from the New England Conservatory, he has concertized extensively throughout North America, Europe and the Far East, including frequent appearances as soloist with the Kansas City Chamber Orchestra. Recent solo engagements have included the Brahms Double Concerto with cellist Colin Carr and the Longmont Symphony, Colorado, and the Beethoven Violin Concerto with the Kansas City Camerata.

Russian-born pianist Sloan began studies shortly after her Polish family immigrated to Detroit. The winner of numerous local scholarships and prizes, she attended the Juilliard School as a pupil of Martin Canin and Rosina Lhevinne. At Juilliard, she won the Concerto Competition and was awarded the Pro-Mozart Prize to study at the Mozarteum in Salzburg. She has also studied with Leon Fleisher, Aube Tzerko and Vladimir Ashkenazy. As a soloist, Rita Sloan has performed in recital and with orchestra throughout the United States and Europe, as well as on radio and television. Also a chamber musician and collaborative artist, she performs internationally with many of today's outstanding instrumentalists. Repeat appearances at chamber music festivals include the Chicago Symphony Orchestra Chamber Music Services, New York's Bargemusic, and the Aspen Music Festival, where Sloan is a member of the piano faculty.

In addition to Friday night's concert, Sayevich and Sloan will be joined by Lawrence Stomberg, assistant professor of music at Truman, in a midday concert earlier on Friday. The trio will perform Mendelssohn's Piano Trio in C minor in the SUB Georgian Room at 12:30 p.m. Admission for both concerts is free.
