DR. ARTHUR MALLORY, the Missouri commissioner of education, will be the guest speaker for Phi Delta Kappa education honorary at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Conference Room of the Student Union Building. Admission is free and the public is invited.

"MAJOR BARBARA," a comedy by Bernard Shaw, will be performed by the University Players at 8 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday in the Little Theater of Baldwin Hall. Admission is free for NMSU students and staff. Advance reservations may be made in the Student Union Building beginning today.

"DEATHTRAP," a comedy thriller-chiller, will be presented at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 20, in Baldwin Auditorium as part of the 1979-80 Lyceum Series. The touring company, Tom Mallow's American Theatre Productions, will perform the play by Ira Levin, author of "Rosemary's Baby," "The Boys From Brazil," and "The Stepford Wives." "Deathtrap" concerns a playwright who, after writing nothing of consequence for years, gets his hands on a play from a student that is so remarkable he would do almost anything to get it under his own name. Tickets for the performance may be obtained from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, Feb. 18-20, at the Student Activities Board Office in the Student Union Building. Faculty, staff and students may receive free tickets with a University ID.

ABOUT 200 STUDENTS from area high schools will visit the University for Fine Arts Career Day on Thursday. These students will audition for scholarships in music, art and drama, listen to addresses on career possibilities, and have their work critiqued by members of the NMSU faculty.

VIP WEEKEND will be Saturday and Sunday. About 500 high school students from the area who are interested in previewing college life at NMSU will participate.
