Sixteenth Century Journal Publishers, Inc. Wins Award

The Sixteenth Century Journal Publishers, Inc. was the recipient of an award in the 20th annual Typographic Composition and Prepress Composition Awards Competition sponsored by the National Composition and Prepress Association, Alexandria, Va. The competition was designed to recognize outstanding examples of typographic excellence in graphic communications. One hundred and sixteen awards were granted nationwide. Three teams of specialized judges evaluated each entry, with awards being presented to those deemed most representative of quality craftsmanship and production.

The Sixteenth Century Journal Publishers, Inc. received the Award of Excellence in Electronic Composition for the summer issue 1991 of The Sixteenth Century Journal. Only two awards were made in this category.

The Journal's office has been supported by Northeast for the past 22 years. With over 2,200 subscribers, it is the leading journal for early modern studies. Professor Robert M. Kingdon of the Institute for Research in the Humanities at the University of Wisconsin-Madison is the editor; Professor Robert A. Kolb of Concordia College, St. Paul, Minn., is the associated editor; and Northeast's Robert V. Schnucker, professor of history and religion, is the managing and book review editor. The Journal also publishes a monograph series and Scholars of Early Modern Europe.

Diversity in Higher Education

A teleconference titled "Diversity in Higher Education" will be broadcast live via satellite at noon, Nov. 20, in the SUB Tangerine Room. The program is presented by Black Issues in Higher Education and sponsored by the Minority Services Office.

The teleconference will discuss the "issue of including while distinguishing different cultures, ethnic groups, races and ages into a sense of collegial community."

Some of the topics which will be discussed include: "the political correctness debate: what's at stake?"; "campus civility: how to achieve and maintain it"; "the first amendment and campus harassment codes: can they co-exist?" and "the give and take in creating a multicultural campus."

Student Legal Assistance Available

A new means of assistance is now available for students with questions concerning legal matters. There will be a non-practicing attorney at the Help Desk, Baldwin Hall 100, between 3-4 p.m. on Tuesdays. They will be available to answer student's questions and, if necessary, refer the student to a practicing Kirksville attorney. The attorneys at the Help Desk will include: Bryce Jones, associate professor of business administration, Ray Klinginsmith, general counsel and professor of business administration, Steve Smith, assistant professor of business administration and economics, and James Turner, assistant professor of accounting. The service is coordinated by the Dean of Students Office, McClain Hall, and will be available beginning Nov. 19. For more information, contact Adrienne Smith, Dean of Students graduate assistant, McClain Hall 204, 785-4123.

American Foundations at Northeast

American Foundations at Northeast, a "crash course" in American culture, will take place on Nov. 21. The lectures are based upon a summer course taught at the Reynolda House Museum in Winston-Salem, N.C., and will be given by the course faculty, which includes Bob Mielke, assistant professor of English. The course offers an interdisciplinary view of American culture from colonial times to the present, covering literature, history, art history and music. In 1986, this course was called the best summer course in America.

The lectures will include audience participation and discussion. Mielke calls the faculty of the course "the most dynamic and electrifying faculty imaginable." The lectures are sponsored by the Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Division of Language and Literature, the Division of Social Science, Missouri North residential college and Ryle North residential college.

The schedule for Nov. 21 is:

Mark Meng (middle), freshman sociology/anthropology major, assists Vicki Joslin (right), senior nursing major, in teaching first aid during the Boy Scout merit badge conclave held Nov. 9 at Northeast. Boy Scouts came from central Missouri to earn merit badges. Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity helped organize the event; faculty and other students volunteered to help instruct.

Introducing . . .

Center for Service-Learning

Barnett Hall 120
785-4572 and 785-4265

Robert Stephens, director
Paula McCartney, secretary
Brian Gill, peer counselor
Ann Lohman, peer counselor
Beth Murano, peer counselor
Julie Seeley, peer counselor

What is the Center for Service-Learning (CS-L)?

The Center for Service-Learning is an office that acts as a liaison between the human resources at the University and the service needs of the community. The primary function of the office is to help individuals find placement in volunteer positions.

How can a student become involved with the CS-L?

Interested students can come in and talk to a peer counselor, a student trained to help other students find appropriate volunteer work. After the interview with the student, the peer counselor will refer the student to a community service agency with an opening which matches the student's interests.

Why should a person volunteer?

Research indicates that students need some other type of activity aside from study and social activities. It has been recognized by volunteers that when they are finished, they feel good about the work they do and feel good about themselves for doing it. Volunteers report that their social life improves because, while working, they meet people with similar interests. Research indicates that between two and eight hours volunteered per week is the optimum amount.

How can faculty become involved?

The CS-L is encouraging faculty members to introduce a service component into their classes. However, the service component does not have to be connected with the content of the class. A few professors on campus have begun encouraging their students to do volunteer work. Some arrange a relevant service experience for their classes, while other professors have begun requiring a certain amount of volunteer work but do not specify what kind.

What plans are in the future for the CS-L?

The CS-L is looking at several possibilities for future projects. One possibility is developing an off-term experience for people who are not on-campus, such as a summer project in St. Louis or Kansas City, places where many Northeast students live. This would enable the students to volunteer and impact their home community.

Another possibility is outreach assistance for members of the local community. There are over 3,000 individuals in the immediate area who have been identified as being below the poverty level. Many of these people are in need of help with everyday activities such as raking leaves, cleaning out gutters and winterizing their homes.

The CS-L is also interested in helping students become involved with Habitat for Humanity, an international organization that provides housing for people who cannot afford it. Habitat for Humanity is sponsoring a Collegiate Challenge, which is an alternative spring break. Students are challenged to take the time and money they would have spent on spring break and go work on one of these housing projects. The CS-L has a list of 22 different sites all over the country for the Collegiate Challenge.

For a project in cooperation with the local Social Security Office, the CS-L needs "volunteer payees," volunteers to assist Social Security recipients who do not have the capability to manage their money. Individuals and groups interested in volunteering can contact the Center for Service-Learning for more information.

Center for Service-Learning Volunteer Opportunities

Representative Payee—Requires a caring person, interested in spending several hours a month assisting a disabled or aged person manage his/her Social Security or Supplemental Security income. Specified qualifications apply.

For more information, contact a peer counselor at 785-4265

Outreach Services—Male and female volunteers needed to provide assistance and comfort to elderly, disabled or disadvantaged persons, in and around their homes. Time commitment varies depending upon needs of the individual. It is an ideal service opportunity for couples. For more information, contact Brian at 785-4265

Habitat for Humanity—Anyone interested in participating in a Collegiate Challenge work experience during the week of March 15, 1992 (spring break), contact Dr. Stephens at 785-4572. Also, persons interested in establishing a Campus Chapter of Habitat for Humanity should contact Dr. Stephens at 785-4572

Nutrition Site—Two or three responsible people with transportation are needed to assist with delivery of meals to shut-ins and the elderly. For more information, contact Ann at 785-4265

Outreach Services—Groups are needed to assist qualified individuals with winterizing homes, raking leaves, cleaning downspouts and similar projects. For more information, contact Brian at 785-4265

Seasonal Service Activities—Service agencies throughout the Northeast Missouri area have special seasonal projects prior to Christmas. Many of these projects achieve less than optimal results because of the lack of personnel at critical times. An example is the Salvation Army Kettle Drive. When Bell Ringers are absent, donations drop dramatically. Clubs, fraternities, sororities and other groups can obtain information on ways to assist by calling Julie at 785-4265

Notables

The team will go on to the regional competition on Nov. 20-24 in Ft. Knox, Ky.

Notes

Game Fish Management BIOL 310 and Basic Aviation IS 390 are being offered during the Spring 1992 semester but were not listed in the schedule of classes. Game Fish Management is a two semester-hour second block course. The instructor is Hollis Crawford; the class meets from 7-9 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday. Basic Aviation is a three semester-hour course. The instructor is Mark Thompson; the class meets from 7-10 p.m. Thursday.

Applications for early retirement at the end of the current year should be filed before Nov. 30. This deadline applies to the original program for a single lump sum payment to be made in fiscal year 1991-92. Applications for the optional program with supplemental payments to begin next year should be filed by April 30, 1992. For more information, contact the President's Office, McClain Hall 200.

1992 Educator of the Year nomination forms are available. Any student wishing to nominate a professor can pick up a nomination form at the Student Senate Information Center, SUB. Nomination forms are due at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 26.

Windfall, NMSU Literary Magazine, is accepting submissions of poetry, fiction, short drama, art, and black and white photography. Submitters should not put their name on their work; include your name, address, and work(s) titles on an additional sheet. Send submissions to Windfall, SUB-NMSU. Deadline for submission is Nov. 22.

Lambda Alpha Epsilon criminal justice fraternity is raffling gift certificates for $25, $50 and $100 from the bookstore of the winner's choice. Tickets are $1 and will be sold from 4:30-6:30 p.m., Nov. 18-22, in front of Ryle Hall cafeteria. Tickets can also be purchased from any Lambda Alpha Epsilon member.

Residence halls and colleges will close for the fall semester at 10 p.m., Dec. 19. All residents will be required to leave by that time. Students, faculty and staff living in the Kirksville community willing to provide space for a resident in case of a last minute emergency should contact the Residential Living Office, McClain Hall 204, at 785-4227.

An escort service is available from dusk until dawn, 365 days of the year, between any two locations on campus. Escorts originating on campus and ending off campus are limited to a five block radius of campus. To arrange for an escort, call Safety and Security, 785-4176. A uniformed security officer or a member of the Residence Safety Patrol (RSP) will be sent to meet you. The RSP personnel carry two-way radios for communication with Safety and Security and may be identified by their RSP identification tag.

Students entering the Master of Arts in Education program (MAE) in 1992-93 might be interested in seeking joint admission to one of NMSU's Master of Arts programs (M.A.). For example, a person planning to be a high school history teacher or a school counselor might gain admission simultaneously to the MAE and the M.A. in history or the M.A. in counseling. Since as many as 12 graduate hours in one program can usually be counted in the other program, a student would receive the MAE and be well on the way to the M.A. Students admitted to both graduate programs could also apply for GTRA's and other financial aid in both degree programs. For further information, contact Miles Lovelace, head of the Division of Education, 785-4383, or the heads of the other divisions offering M.A. degrees (Social Science, Language and Literature, Science or Fine Arts).

A spades tournament, sponsored by Kappa Mu Epsilon honorary mathematics society, will be held beginning at 10 a.m., Nov. 23, in Violette Hall 170. Registration is Nov. 18 and 19 outside the math division office, Violette Hall 287, or with Dr. Beersman, Violette Hall 206. There is a $5 registration fee. Prizes are $50 for first place and $20 for second place.

Missouri Teacher Education Scholarship applications for the 1992-93 school year are now available in the Financial Aid Office, McClain Hall 100. Applicants must be Missouri residents in their freshman or sophomore year majoring in education. Information on additional requirements and conditions are available from the Financial Aid Office. The application deadline is February 15, 1992.

A make-up date for speech clearance for students currently enrolled in COMM 170, Fundamentals of Speech, will be from 8:30 a.m.-noon and 1-5 p.m. on Dec. 11. Students should come to Violette Hall 161 for the speech screening.

Students seeking off-campus housing for second semester should stop by the Student Senate Info Center, SUB, or the Dean of Students Office, McClain Hall 204, and pick up a listing of available housing. The listing will be available beginning Nov. 20.

All faculty using journals, reading logs, etc. in their classes are asked to assist in the research for a study of journal use across the NMSU curriculum. If you can participate, please leave a note for Greg Siering at the Language and Literature division office, McClain Hall 310.

Filming sign ups are being taken in the SAB Office, SUB for "Farce, Flicks, Folks and Jokes" NMSU's Funniest People/Candid Camera. The event will take place at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 14, in the Main Street Market, SUB. Sign up to set a friend up for a practical joke.

Voting for Phi Lambda Chi's Outstanding Woman on Campus contest will take place from Dec. 2-13. Tables will be set up in Violette Hall, McClain Hall, the SUB and in the residence halls at various times during that time period. A portion of the proceeds will go to Violence Intervention Services.

Any on-campus student may apply for membership in the following CHANL committees: Cultural Diversity Week, Uniform Discipline Code and Parking Policy. Applications for CHANL Secretary are also available. CHANL is a new inter-residence hall organization formed to facilitate policy change and leadership development. Applications are available at any hall desk and at the Residential Living Office, McClain Hall 204, and are due by Nov. 22 in Box 600 of the Ryle Hall desk. For more information, contact Mark Miller at 785-4731 or Steve Eiken at 785-4970.

De Paul University, Chicago, Ill., is sponsoring a multi-cultural student job fair on Jan. 3. There will be approximately 130 companies seeking candidates for internships, part-time and full-time employment. Deadline for pre-registration is Dec. 18. See the Career Placement Center's "Hotfile" for additional information.

Campus Apartments is sponsoring "Reality Check Week," a week-long series of programs starting Nov. 19 and ending Nov. 25. Various experts will focus on such topics as finding a job in a recession, putting together a resume and finding loans to cope with post-graduate life. All students and all majors are encouraged to attend. See page 6 for times and places.

The Newman Center formal dinner will be held Dec. 2. Cost is $20 per couple or $10 per person. For a reservation, contact Sherrie Volleroy at 665-3718.

Tickets for the Alpha Kappa Alpha 12th Annual Playboy Ball will be on sale Nov. 18-19 in McClain Hall and Nov. 20-22 in Violette Hall. The Ball is at 10:30 p.m., Nov. 22, in Kirk Gym and at 7 p.m., Nov. 23, in SUB Activities Room.
