

NORTHEAST MISSOURI
ARCHIVES
1997
STATE UNIVERSITY

Miss T. P. ...

Journal
Printing Co.,
Kirkville, Mo.

Dedication.

TO THE MEN AND THE WOMEN, WHO HAVE MADE THIS SCHOOL GREAT, ES-PECIALLY TO THOSE WHO ARE NOW
LABORING SO EARNESTLY FOR ITS ADVANCEMENT, THIS BOOK IS DEDI-CATED, WITH HEARTFELT GRATITUDE FOR THE OPPORTUNITIES THAT SUCH LABORS HAVE MADE POSSIBLE TO THE YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN OF THIS STATE.

Introduction.

ITH malice toward none, with charity for all," the editors of this volume have attempted to place in its pages that which will be both instructive and pleasing. And by many, we feel sure, it will be received with appreciation and thanks.

To the Seniors, now about to pass from the immediate shadow and influence of this institution, we hope this volume will, in after times, serve to bring recollections of a Four Years, the memory of whose days will be as the memory of pleasant fields and green pastures—days wherein some laughed, some loved, and all worked and wished well.

'06 SENIORS '06

Yell:

F G N! F G N!

Wir sind da! Wir sind da!
Zusammen stark und Kraftvoll in Simplex!
Senior Klasse! Senior Klassee!

1906.

(Neunzehnschs)

MOTTO:

"Of course you can never be like us,
But be as like us as you're able to be."

COLORS: Garnet and Gray.

FLOWER: Crimson Rose.

OFFICERS:

President, Floyd Shoemaker.
Vice-President, W. O. Pool.
Sec. and Treas., Lena Fuller.

Class History.

IN the fall of 1904 the inhabitants of Kirksville were amazed at the large verdant bunches of students, who plainly showed by their scared, rustic air that they were Freshmen. They had flocked from all over the state to get wisdom at the great State Normal.

From this verdant Freshman stage these students passed into the egotistic Sophomore period. Then, slowly and painfully, they rode through this period into the noisy and enthusiastic Junior year. Some of them, being unfamiliar with the queer animals that Sophomores are accustomed to ride, were left behind in the race, and did not reach the longed for Junior class. Others, having reached the end of the Sophomore, decided to show the world the result of two years at the Kirksville Normal, and left for various rural districts.

There were still many who remained, and they plodded industriously on until they finally reached that very serious stage of their school life, the Senior Year. Their verdure, egotism, and noise had by this time given way to seriousness, determination, and ambition. The faculty wondered, and we wondered too, at the sturdy looking group who entered as Seniors in September, 1905.

The class showed its spirit and enthusiasm by organizing early in the year and electing its class officers: Mr. Shoemaker, President; Mr. Pool, Vice-President, and Miss Lena Fuller, Secretary and Treasurer.

A pleasant and profitable year has been passed. Just before Christmas the Seniors gave a very interesting program in Chapel, which was enjoyed by our fellow students. In February the class entertained the faculty with a banquet, and an exceedingly pleasant evening was spent.

As the time draws near for us to leave, it is with great pleasure that we look back upon the years spent amid such enjoyable surroundings, and our great desire, is that by our earnest and capable work in the future, we may show the president and the faculty that their efforts have not been in vain.

NELLE FULLER, Kirksville.
 CALTHA JOHNSTON, Kirksville.

IRMA MATHEWS, Revere.
 NINA KINTNER, Bethany.

BERTHA MATHEWS, Revere.
 KATHERYN VARNON, Mexico.

ELLA McCLAIN, Williamstown.
 FLOYD SHOEMAKER, Bucklin.

WILLIAM STEINER, New Haven.
 AVA FINEGAN, Kirksville.

LENA FULLER, Kirksville.
 CLARA CRAWFORD, Clarksdale.

MARY BEATTY, Kirksville.
EDNA MCKENZIE, Kirksville.

E. O. JONES, New Boston.
DORA THOMAS, Liberal.

VIVIAN DOBYNS, Shelbina.
OLA HOLLOWAY, Kirksville.

FLORENCE BAYLEY, Knox.

HENRIE W. TOLSON, Kirksville.

MABELLE MILLS, Kirksville.

CHAS. G. BEARDSLEY, Kirksville.

RUTH MARTIN, Kirksville.

DELLA BRENZ, Kirksville.

JULIA F. STORM, Kirksville.
 JOHN BAUM, Rosendale.

B. A. STAGNER, Hale.
 MATTIE BUCHANAN, Moberly.

NELL ALEXANDER, Paris.
 L. A. COSTLOW, Kirksville.

ZETTA GOODE, Kirksville.
LILLIAN SCOTT, Canton.

BLANCHE NIXON, Maryville.
LENA M. STARRETT, St. Joseph.

MARGARET SMITH, Monticello.
HUGH WEBBER, Memphis.

LURAH LOOMIS, Kirksville.
 MARY C. WEYAND, Kahoka.

JESSIE STEPHENS, Moberly.
 W. O. POOL, Kirksville.

JESSIE MURRAY, Bethany.
 EDNA HAWKINS, Hematite.

CHARLES M. WEYAND, Kahoka.
 FAY KNIGHT, Milan.

EDNA CREEK, Kahoka.
 M. O. BROWN, Ewing.

I. M. HORN, Wyaconda.
 LEILA McREYNOLDS, Rutledge.

F. B. NANCE, Pattonsburg.
C. E. BONNETT, Gallatin.

DAGMAR DONEGHY, Kirksville.
NELLE FREELAND, Shelbina.

C. R. STONE, St. Joseph.
BELLE LOWE, Chillicothe.

Senior Class Quotations.

NELL ALEXANDER—

“Multum in parvo.”

DELLA BRENZ—

“Of manners gentle, of affections mild.”

MATTIE BUCHANAN—

“There never was just such another.”

CHAS. G. BEARDSLEY—

“If to your share some horrid troubles fall,
Look on his face and you'll forget them all.”

M. O. BROWN—

“O! that thou didst know how many fathoms deep I am in love.”

JOHN BAUM—

“If I had such a nose I'd amputate it; when you sup,
Indeed it must annoy you, dipping in the cup.”

C. E. BONNETT—

“Greater men than I may have lived, but I doubt it.”

FLORENCE BAYLEY—

“Witty to talk with,
Pretty to walk with.”

MARY BEATTY—

“In framing artists, art has thus decreed
To make some good, but others to exceed.”

T. A. COSTOLOW—

“He taketh much delight in music, instrument, and poetry.”

EDNA CREEK—

“Fling away ambition, by that sin fell the angels.”

CLARA CRAWFORD—

“I speak in a monstrous little voice.”

DAGMAR DONEGHY—

“She reclines in the arms of languid indifference.”

VIVIAN DOBYNS—

“Love, love, love, love is like a dizziness,
It winna let a body gang about his business.”

NELLE FULLER—

“A maiden, blithe and debonair,
With blue eyes and undressed hair.”

LENA FULLER—

“Her face has a wonderful fascination in it,
It is such a calm quiet face.”

AVA FINEGAN—

“For I'm not so old and I'm not so plain,
And I'm quite prepared to marry.”

NELLE FREELAND—

“God made but one image from this mould.”

ZETTA GOODE—

“Howe're it be, it seems to me,
'Tis only noble to be 'Good.'”

OLA HOLLOWAY—

“Her only occupation was to kill time.”

EDNA A. HAWKINS—

“Her ways are ways of pleasantness,
And all her paths are peace.”

I. M. HORN—

“There are some men who remind us of angels
—they are so different.”

E. O. JONES—

“Some are, and must be, greater than the rest.”

CALTHA JOHNSTON—

“As charming as sweet,
And as sweet as modest.”

NINA KINTNER—

“For I am nothing, if not critical.”

FAY KNIGHT—

“With vollies of eternal babble.”

BELLE LOWE—

“She seeketh diligently after knowledge.”

LURAH LOOMIS—

“She does nothing in particular and does it well.”

J. C. LILY—

“The fair Unknown.”

LELIA McREYNOLDS—

“My heart is turned to 'Stone.'”

ELLA McCLAIN—

“Her eyes dark charm 'twere vain to tell.”

BERTHA MATHEWS—

“I love not men less, but nature more.”

IRMA MATHEWS—

“First in the council hall to steer the state,
And ever foremost in a tongue debate.”

JESSIE MURRAY—

“Of sweet and gentle grace, and unassuming mien.”

MABELLE MILLS—

“Happy am I, from care I'm free,
Why aren't they all content like me?”

RUTH MARTIN—

“For she's as good as she is fair,
None, none on earth above her,
As pure in thoughts as angels are,
To see her is to love her.”

EDNA MCKENZIE—

“Short and sweet.”

EDNA MAE MIDDLETON—

“It is good to think well,
It is divine to act well.”

BLANCHE MAY NIXON—

“Let me have men around me who are thin.”

F. B. NANCE—

“For he's a jolly, good fellow,
Which nobody will deny.”

W. O. POOL—

“Benedict, the married man.”

B. A. STAGNER—

“We grant altho' he had much wit,
He was rather shy of using it.”

C. R. STONE—

“And still they gazed, and still their wonder grew,
That one small head could carry all he knew.”

WILLIAM STEINER—

“Beauty took vacation at the time of his creation.”

MARGARET SMITH—

“Her voice was ever soft, gentle, and low, an excellent thing in woman.”

JULIA F. STORM—

“They talk of love and pleasure, but 'tis all a falsehood. Life's made up of gloom.”

FLOYD SHOEMAKER—

“'Tis well to be merry and wise,
'Tis well to be honest and true,
'Tis well to be off with the old love,
Before you are on with the new.”

E. M. SIPPLE—

“A man of strong characteristics is he.”

JESSIE STEPHENS—

“I know a maiden fair to see,
Beware, take care, she's fooling thee.”

LILLIAN SCOTT—

“'Tis not her talent to conceal her thoughts.”

DORA THOMAS—

“Oh! that this too solid flesh would melt.”

LENA M. STARRETT—

“I do know of these that therefore are reputed wise for saying nothing.”

HENRIE W. TOLSON—

“The finest quality of goods comes in smallest packages.”

KATHERYN VARNON—

“Fond of pleasure, never still,
She has never worked and never will.”

HUGH WEBBER—

“Week in, week out, from morn 'til night,
You can hear his bellows blow.”

CHARLES M. WEYAND—

“Though modest, on his unembarrassed brow, Nature has written gentleman.”

MARY C. WEYAND—

“Ah! what lovely things
Are fashioned out of eighteen springs.”

A STORY WITH A MORAL.

HEARKEN unto me, my son, for my words have wisdom for thine ears.

When thou seest a man rushing through the corridors with his arms full of books and a glassy stare emulating from his orbs,

And his trousers bagging at the knees, and his necktie flaunting from under his ear,

Set him not down as one whose head buzzeth with wheels, but rather have pity on him and likewise scoff him not.

He is one who taketh three fountain pens and four red-backed note books,

And he sitteth himself down before ye mighty instructor and jotteth down all that he heareth, even unto the twittering of the sparrows; and likewise the stale jokes of the faculty.

Then he rusheth home and gulpeth down a morsel of food and swalloweth coffeine galore.

Then he putteth his feet beneath the table and be crammeth until the sun riseth, yea until dawn.

And he hieth himself back unto the halls of learning.

Soon cometh the wise men who ask jaw-breakers.

And a great fear riseth within him, but it is subdued.

Then doth he write much that is wise and other wise—

And his knowledge dwindleth, and soon it has left him.

And then he sitteth himself down and waiteth.

Now cometh to him the returns and his name is not among the chosen ones.

Then did a great wrath rise up within him, and he said unto himself:

“Behold it was for naught, now must I work for hire.”

And verily it was so, for now doth he carry the hod, yea, even to the tenth story, and his wage is small;

But now doth he live as one who is content. He eateth three meals each day and sleepeth as a child.

Seest thou, my son, the moral which loometh up in this tale, yea, even as an old maid loometh up at a church social?

It is, that he, who dependeth on cramming his note book instead of filling his brain, will surely fail—yea, even flunk. Verily it is so.

And this is all;
Our part we end;
Our plea for grace to you we send.
Of course there're faults,
Step gently by,
Let only virtue take your eye.

The task is done,
We're bidden stop;
Our pen from tired fingers drop
All in good part,
Nor our intent,
To feelings sear, or hearts to dent.

VIVIAN DOBYNS, Class Editor.

Class Officers

J. L. JONES, President;

W. G. SEE, Vice-Pres.; LETA TOWNSEND, Sec.;

WALTER FISH, Treas.; EUGENE BRASHEAR, Marshal.

COLORS: Lavender and Gray. FLOWER: Pink Carnation.

MOTTO: "Beyond the Alps lies Italy."

CLASS YELL:—Hoorah! Hoorah! Boom-alack-eleven!

Hoorah! Hoorah! 1907.

Hoorah! Hoorah! Nary airy, pang!

Whack-alack-a-Boom-alack-a-

Boom! Zipp!

Bang!

Class Song

Tempo di Marcia

1 We are juniors worthy juniors Each one with a cheerful, cheerful heart, You may slight us but we'll see, But we know our know our cost,
 2 We are healthy, not so wealthy, But we have our dough to dough to spend, So bring 'em by, we're not greedy, We're a hand to hand to lend,
 3 We are rising, truly rising, To a height that will, that will, and we, If you think you seem to think, You were coming some way,
 4 While you're dreaming we are dreaming, Fresh in nature of the soil, While you're sleeping we are keeping, To meet our hand, hand, goal.

1 We are juniors bright and gay, Have our brains, every day, Pounding high, we're bound to stay, We're the worthy juniors,
 2 Some back things are they, And some day, they'll fade, they'll fade away, they are heavy, some day, We're the worthy juniors,
 3 Like a flash, Sophistos, And then comes to get through, We have something else to do, We're the worthy juniors,
 4 As a flash, will pass you by, Can't mistake us if you'll try, For our aims are at too high, We're the worthy juniors.

Introduction.

Standing far above
the rank of the Professor's "Twice Told Tales" is a band of sturdy Juniors, fifty-eight in number. To name all the important events in the history of the class of 1907 would be to enumerate the eventful epochs in the life of each and every one of its members. At different times and places, each individual began to turn a wheel of evolution. At the same time, like the hermit weaver, each began steadily to unwind a line, which should follow through whatever channels a career might lead. To-day the members of the Junior Class have drawn their lines together and platted them so that each supports all others, and is by all others supported. With united efforts, energy, and enthusiasm, all have plunged into the thickest of the forest which falls before them as falls the withering blade before the south wind, or as the king leaf releases his hold and descends before the hour frost. With earnestness of heart and strength of purpose, this hopeful band is moving onward and upward to higher and more noble achievements. By and by, they must disband and enter fields yet untried, each to be distinguished and admired by new, as well as old, companions. However, none can go so far away that his peculiar line can not be retraced to its union in the inseparable clasp which is now being made. Finally, here and there, one by one, these lines will be drawn together into the one invincible mould; and, in this solemn hour, are all things hoped for, gained; frail margins in the lines have power, and all is left unstained.

Stolen Sweets(?)

J. L. JONES:—To speak the word, he accents thrice.

LETA KNOX TOWNSEND:—The while, she blushes most complete,

WALTER E. FISH:—"I often weigh my money twice,

EUGENE BRASHEAR:—But once I dared to weigh my feet."

MRS. MINNIE V. WALLACE:—Her blush is gone, she smiles instead;

BLANCHE C. DAUGHERTY:—With lowered eyes, she gently speaks;

WALTER G. SEE:—"You've weighed your feet, why not your head?"

ELIZABETH TANNEHILL:—Another tint is on her cheeks.

KEITH HOLLOWAY:—In this, he seems to look his worst,

LETTIE NORTHCRAFT:—She fain would hide, he's such a pest,

AGNES CRIGER:—She wishes now she'd known him first.

L. W. OSBORNE:—His hope is gone, and he's distressed.

A. J. NEWMAN:—His headlet towers above the sky,

DORÉ W. GOODE:—His face seems even like the sun.

MARY ETHEL COCHRAN:—Indeed, she fain would seem quite shy;

INA E. HOLLOWAY:—It seems that now she's just begun;

BERTHOL E. VAUGHN:—"How dare you thus address me so!

HELEN M. GASTON:—Cannot your spirit once relent?

LINNIE H. NUTTER:—Will you still kind indifference show,

GEORGIE B. VAUGHN:—Until my courage all is spent?"

KATHERINE FEATHER:—She sinks into a solemn mood.

LAURA L. HURD:—We fancy now her better half.

BESSIE GERTRUDE POWELL:—Her smiles are lost in solitude,

ISABEL H. ELMORE:—Her greatness must forbid a laugh;

LUCILE MILLER:—A flush, a smile, she droops her eyes.

A. V. FISH:—He smiles a little on the side;

E. L. HARRINGTON:—His next achievement can't surprise;

CARRIE E. KELLEY:—Yet, she may chance to be his bride.

L. JENNIE DEYOE:—Her only grief was his mustache;

ALLEN BERGER:—The same, his joy, and pride, and loss.

FLOY VAUGHN:—But she might take him for his cash,

LILLIE M. POLLARD:—If she could only be the boss,

GRACE QUIGLEY:—She's so determined in each plan

A. F. ARNOLD:—That still, by woman, he's deceived.

LUCY R. EMBERSON:—She leads him on howe'er she can,

H. L. BECKNER:—He groans in secret love, is grieved.

VIRGINIA CONN:—His wounds at last have broke her heart,

FRANCES E. POST:—Now, true and sweet, she seems to be.

ELIZABETH NORTHCRAFT:—She stands a ransom on her part;

A. P. SHIBLEY:—He stands a worthy man to see.

FLORENCE BRASFIELD:—"Ah, yes! I knew 'twas only love."

WILL R. ADAMS:—His words were gentle, low, and sweet.

VERA FINEGAN:—"You truly are a turtle dove,

GRACE E. DIXON:—So innocent, queenly, and discrete."

A. E. SLOAN:—His make-up, no one could describe,

GEORGE E. MCFADDEN:—His legs and neck both made him tall;

EARL W. SMITH:—His face could never take a bribe,

E. A. FUNK:—But for his sweet heart he would fall,

GRACE MAY HARRIS:—Her fate must be a comely bride;

LEE STURGEON:—He, too, must be her one and all.

HENRY J. KING:—'Tis best he keep her near his side,

GROVER STUKEY:—That he may answer to her call.

GRANT O. OBERG:—Note him carefully, if you please,

J. H. MCKINNEY:—He couldn't do a thing amiss.

OPAL GRACE MARKEY:—See how she moves with greatest ease;—

IONA M. LAKE:—None could be nearer perfect bliss;

WARNER MILLS:—For he's the impulse of a squeeze.

MERTIE BOHON:—While she's the shadow of a kiss.

Finis.

All diamonds have their worth in par,
When polished, have their price;
But diamonds like our Juniors are,
Are few and pretty nice:
We've diamonds fair, and diamonds rare,
And diamonds quite explicit.
If you suppose we stop to doze,
You're truly sure to miss it.

When you can read our epitaph,
And count us fifty-seven,
The fellow left will only laugh,
And say we've gone to Heaven.
We're bound to roll from pole to pole,
Unless we strike a river,
We'll then rebound to solid ground
Without a twitch or quiver.

WALTER E. FISH,
CLASS EDITOR.

Each member got his photograph,
In spite of mud or weather;
Then brought along his autograph,
And had them put together.
So now this rhyme is not sublime,
Nor out for criticism,
But thanks each one for things undone,
Or done by her or his'm.

SOPHOMORES

Yell:

Huzza! Huzza! Huzzum!
We are Sophomores, everone!
We like work and play we hate.
Sophomores! Sophomores! 1908.

MOTTO: Possumus fidentes animi.

OFFICERS:

President, Claude E. Stephens.	Treasurer, Fred M. Barrett.
Vice-President, H. L. McWilliams.	Curator, Glen Frank.
Secretary, Edith Lewis.	Marshal, E. L. Marshall.
Class Editor for the Echo, Chas. Banks.

COLORS: Old Rose and Gray.

Reading from left to right—First row: Leila Worsham, C. A. Nickerson, Mattie Nicholson, Minnie Loftiss, Frank C. Fleak, Sophia Mitchell, E. L. Marshall, Bessie Corner, Carrie Craig, Clyde Busby, Gertrude Willett, Paul E. Phipps, Nellie G. Jones. Second row: Anna Wilson, Iva Porter, Faye Yeager, Grover Morgan, Jessie E. Bailey, H. L. McWilliams, Ieie B. McCool, E. T. Lakin, Anna Mitchell, S. F. Mauck, Mayme Sears, W. R. Eisiminger, C. C. Layton. Third row: C. E. Stephens, Ada Cochran, Olive Robbins, Ninnie V. Byrne, Anna Boyer, W. G. Pence, Forest B. Wilson, Anna Link, R. A. Baugher, Senta Goldberg, Elvira Berger, Dorothea Thomas, S. E. Gregory.

Reading from Left to Right—First Row: E. A. Burch, Elizabeth Conn, Earl Van Horne, Lora West, Mollie Towels, Eunice Schofield, J. E. Nebergall, Susan Case, Verna Correll, Lorce Sprecher, Eda Stauterman, Chas. Banks, Lillie Hollowell, Aubrey C. Ross. Second Row: Ruby Ross, Clara Gibson, A. B. Ford, Iva Kirtley, I. C. McGee, Estella Bennett, E. E. Davis, Margaret Werner, John H. Hoff, Edith Lewis, Glen Frank, Ruby Murphy, Corintha Bruce. Third row: Fred M. Barrett, Mary Lusk, Elsie Fish, Clarence M. Fish, Braey Cornett, J. R. Nagel, Winnie Cornett, Mary Reinhard, Frank E. White, Hyla H. Garwood, Mae Pease, Rochelle Alverson, Mae Ralston.

Class History

IN order that any institution or organization may be a benefit to posterity, it must leave a record of its doings and the principles for which it stood. It is for this purpose that the present Sophomore class desires to leave this brief sketch on the pages of this Annual.

Like all great institutions, this class came into existence by a steady growth. The majority of its members came from the Freshman class of 1905, but some of them came from unknown sources. We have among our number some who for the greater part of the year have identified themselves with the Juniors and Seniors. But in order to obtain that precious document known as the "Elementary Certificate," they have condescended (?) to become Sophomores. It has been rumored that some of the Freshmen would like to gain admission to our dignified ranks.

The official formation of the class, as an organization, took place on March ninth. At that time it effected a permanent organization by electing Claude E. Stephens, President; H. L. McWilliams, Vice-President; Edith Lewis, Secretary; Fred M. Barrett, Treasurer; E. L. Marshall, Marshal, and Glen Frank, Curator. These officers need no comment as to their ability. Their efficiency in all particulars is admitted by everyone.

This Sophomore class has distinguished itself in all lines of work connected with this institution. In the class rooms, its members have been diligent and faithful; on the athletic field, its young men have won many laurels; in the debating clubs, literary societies, and other organizations of the school, the Sophomores have at all times been true and faithful workers.

The personnel of the class is another thing that should not be overlooked. Most of the young men of the class are good-looking, but all of the young ladies are beautiful. If anyone doubts this statement, let him glance at the class picture on the preseding pages and he will be convinced that the writer is correct.

Unlike classes in many great institutions, this one has had none of those relics of mediæval barbarism, known as class fights, connected with its history. Thanks to that great man who is at the head of this institution for this. By his untiring efforts there has been instilled into this institution a spirit for clean, honest work, whether it be in the class room or on the athletic field. Under the present conditions the energetic student finds a broader and a nobler field for spending his energy than in the class fight.

We refrain from making any wild speculations for the future of the members of this class; but if we are to judge the future by the past and the present, the outlook for many of them is a bright one. There is no doubt that he who peruses the musty pages of this volume in years that are to come will find on the roll of this class the names of some of the men and women who are making the history of our state and nation.

Class Roll.

- ALVERSON, ROCHELLE—"His bark is worse than his bite."
- BAUGHER, R. A.—Mr. Baugher, before time for the last bell in Rhetoric, "I got rained on while going home Sunday evening."
Prof. Settle—"Late hours, Mr. Baugher, late hours. It didn't begin raining until twelve o'clock."
- BARRETT, FRED M.—It has just been discovered that he is a great tragedian.
His latest: "Fools Laugh at Your Own Folly."
- BAILEY, JESSIE E.—Her height is equal to her modesty. Aspirations: not discernable.
- BANKS, CHAS.—Our efficient class editor, an "E" student, and a married man.
- BARKER, PEARLE E.—"What! another beau! How many does that make?"
- BENNETT, ESTELLA—"She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness."
- BOYER, ANNA—"A face with gladness overspread."
- BERGER, ELVIRA—"If he writes me again, I hope he will not send in care of Normal, because Mr. Kirk often opens letters through mistake."
- BURCH, E. A.—How like a river, the largest at the mouth.
- BRUCE, CORINTHA—Characteristics: "Wonders and bad dreams."
- BUSBY, CLYDE—Buzzed and buzzed and settled near a Ross, instead of a rose.
- BYRNE, MINNIE V.—Who at every turn sends deep flashes from her lashes.
- CONN, ELIZABETH—The main attraction in White's sideshow.
- CORNER, BESSIE—The Sophomore solist.
- CORNETT, WINNIE—"The angels sang in heaven when she was born."
- CORNETT, BRACY—"I'd not marry the best man on earth!" "Oh pshaw ! ! sneered Polly."
- CASE, SUSAN—An excellent Bible student. Especially fond of the Epistles of Paul (Phipps).
- CRAIG, CARRIE—What shall I say you are?
- CORRELL, VERNA—This is the short of it.
- COCHRAN, ADA—Wanted. A Fish without fins. "Patience! have faith, and thy prayer will be answered."
- DAVIS, E. E.—A natural born artist. Profession; cartoonist.

- EISIMINGER, W. R.—“Never a busier man there was; Yet he seemed busier than he was.”
- FLEAK, FRANK C.—Mr. Settle with a list of twenty misspelled words on the board.
Mr. Fleak, in defense—“I didn't miss but six of those.”
Mr. Settle—“Then, I suppose that was all you tried.”
- FRANK, GLEN—“If the truth hurts the gentleman, I'll cut it out.” A ceaseless flow of big words and hot air.
- FISH, CLARENCE M.—There are suckers in the river, and suckers in the pools; they are found everywhere, even in this school.
- FISH, ELSIE—“Filled was her heart with love, and the dawn of an opening heaven lighted her soul.”
Destiny—State Secretary of Y. W. C. A.
- FORD, A. B.—He has high ideals—U. S. Senator.
- GIBSON, CLARA—She speaks twice before she thinks, then speaks right on.
Destiny.—A “Yellocutionist.”
- GREGORY, SHELTON E.—Rarely seen without his Mabel.
- GOLDBERG, SENTA.—“Germany! Germany! How I long for thee!
Germany! Germany! thou are most dear to me!”
- GARWOOD, HYLIA H.—“Her bright smiles haunt me still.”
Peculiarity.—Her desire for an Osteopath.
- HOFF, JOHN H.—A soldier full of strange oaths and bearded like the pard.
- HOLLOWELL, LILLIE.—“Content to do her duty, and find in duty done a full reward.”
- JONES, NELLIE G.—“It never occurred to me until the last ten months that Washington Irving was my favorite writer.”
- KIRTLEY, IVA.—Fair was she to behold.
Hobby. Going with a small boy.
Destiny. Rival of Michael Angelo.
- KIRK, VICTOR.—His head would overbalance his feet were it not that they have a tendency to drag him late into his classes.
- LAKIN, E. T.—“A shallow brain behind a serious mask, An oracle within an empty cask.”
- LAYTON, C. C.—A platform orator. His hat contains a complete library—when in practical use.
- LEWIS, EDITH.—Past.—Events too numerous to mention.
Present.—“Veni, vidi, vici quem? The Marshall.
- LINK, ANNA.—Anna, in the Caesar class, “Oh I didn't mean that!”
Prof. Gentry:—“Well, Anna, you had better say what you mean, for you may say “No” sometime when you mean “Yes.”

- LOFTISS, MINNIE.—“I’ll never marry a pedagogue.”
- LOVELACE, ROSE M.—“O, say not that woman’s heart is bought with vain and empty treasure.”
- LUSK, MARY.—Her dignified expression and personality make all see in her a superior quality of womanhood.
- MCGEE, I. C.—A friend to all whom he meets. He always sees the bright side of everything.
- MARSHALL, E. L.—“Short of stature, and yet well built was he.”
His smiles are winning.
Peculiarity.—Goes with the Secretary of the Sophomore class.
- MCWILLIAMS, H. C.—Peculiarity.—Very fond of Lilies.
Destiny.—Coach of the Harvard Football team.
- MORGAN, GROVER.—Modest boy. The progressive captain of the Normal Base-ball team.
- MCCOOL, OCIE B.—Her timidity is due to her age.
- MAUCK, SAMUEL F.—Distinguished for needing aid-a-lot. (Aydelotte).
- MURPHY, RUBY.—Teach me, dear creature, how to think and speak.
- MITCHELL, ANNA.—From the Ozarks, Nosiree! Not a “P” but an “E” from Mr. Settle, “And it didn’t try my mettle.”
- MITCHELL, SOPHIA.—“How I love to teach Nature Study to the Dale of Kirksville.”
- NEBERGALL, J. E.—“Better late than never—”
Always late—or never.
- NAGEL, J. R.—Peculiarities.—Likes red hair and the only pretty girl.
Hobbies.—Making graceful bows and blushing.
- NICHOLSON, MATTIE.—“Women should have a right to vote, because I have proven it.”
- NICKERSON, C. A.—Characteristic.—Bashfulness.
- PEASE, MAE.—A sweet maid to behold.
- PORTER, IVA.—“As from a little balsom much sweetness doth arise;
So, in a little woman there is a taste of Paradise.”
- PENCE, W. G.—Pence copying latin sentences from the board.
Mr. Gentry.—“Pence, it looks mightily like you are goin to throw up de sponge.”
- PHIPPS, PAUL E.—Destiny. Lawyer. He is now pleading an important Case which he will soon turn over to the judge.
- RALSTON, MAE.—The Lord will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish.
- ROBBINS, OLIVE.—“Verily, verily, I say unto you the Rob(b)in(s) is the fairest of all birds.” McKinney.

- ROSS, RUBY.—“I laugh at the love and pride of man.”
- REINHARD, MARY.—Transform me, and then to your power I'll yield.
- ROSS, AUBREY C.—Past.—Mustn't tell.
Present.—An active Sophomore.
Future.—Something great.
- SEARS, MAYME.—“I wish to be an instructor in Physical Education.”
- STEPHENS, CLAUDE E.—His inexhaustable energy has been given for the advancement of the Sophomore class. His heart is impregnable to the fairer sex.
- STAUTERMAN, EDA B.—“Short and sweet and hard to beat.”
- SCHOFIELD, EUNICE.—“Your beauty did haunt me in my sleep to undertake the death of all the world.”
- SPRECHER, LOREE.—“Quality and not quantity is what counts.”
- TOWELS, MOLLIE.—“Think me not unkind and rude, That I walk in grove and glen.”
- THOMAS, DOROTHEA.—Her greatest feat accomplished this year; that of enticing Stagner with her sweet strains of music.
- VAN HORNE, EARL.—“A youth to fortune and to fame unknown.”
- WERNER, MARGARET.—“The sweetest woman ever Fate Peverse denied a household Mate.”
- WHITE, FRANK E.—Seldom seen alone in Chapel. Daily performance of his sideshow in Mr. Gentry's latin class.
- WORSHAM, LEILA.—Fond of Literature and fine Art. Hunting a man with a title, she prefers a “Count.”
- WILSON, ANNIE L.—“The noblest mind the best contentment has.”
- WILSON, FOREST B.—Has taken to writing poetry since Miss Davis has left school.
- WEST, LORA.—“I think I shall be a School ‘Marm.’”
- WILLETT, GERTRUDE.—A friendly heart with many friends.
- YEAGER, FAYE.—She is modest, meek, and neat. ✓

Class Poem.

I.

The days in the Kirksville Normal
Are full of pleasure and work,
Full of the hopes of Sophomores,
And memories of President Kirk.

II.

We look with the eyes of Sophomores
Into the wide, wide world,
Where, on life's horizon,
The banner of Hope is unfurled.

III.

Our hopes for our coming lifework
Are filled with visions of fame,
When success, with its golden halo,
Shall blazon each Sophomore's name.

IV.

Our labors have all been lightened
By our comrades' hearty cheer,
And our hearts grow sad and lonely,
When the time to part draws near.

V.

Some shall leave these portals
To return to them no more;
But through their lives shall be memories
Of these happy days of yore.

VI.

But wherever our footsteps wander,
In cold or sunny clime,
We'll remember Thee, dear old Normal,
And these sacred walls of thine.

—FORREST B. WILSON.

CHAS. BANKS, Class Editor.

COLORS:
Yale Blue and White.

MOTTO:
"True worth is being, not seeming."

Yell:
Boom-a-raka! Boom-a-raka!
We are fine!
Ki Yi! Ki Yi! Ki Yi Yi!
We're the class of 1909.

OFFICERS:
President, H. G. Swanson.
Vice-President, L. A. Toothaker.
Secretary, Blanche Stephens.

Treasurer, Mabel Aydelotte.
Marshal, J. A. Miller.
Class Editor, Mae Kirtley.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

Class History

AS histories are very dry and uninteresting to most people, perhaps the reader, after having perused the histories of the other classes, now would enjoy taking a stroll through a beautiful garden, fresh and delightful with the sweet fragrance of many kinds of flowers. But strange to say, all of these are alike in one respect—none of them are full-blown. One may look on all sides, and see nothing but buds—buds all around him, buds everywhere.

The reader may have discovered by this time that this garden is the Freshman garden, delightful because of its 'freshness.' The 'Freshies' are seen in the many kinds of buds. But there is one bud that seems to tower above the rest, and to which all seem to pay respect; this is the dignified Holly-hock, in the person of our worthy president. Close by is seen another flower of stately bearing—the Sunflower, as personified by our vice-president. But the eyes will then turn to the sweet and modest Violet in the person of our secretary:

“On my honor, I prefer
The flower that resembles her,
The violet of the woodland way,
The violet that's born in May.”

After gazing a few moments at the Lilac, in the person of our marshal, the eyes will turn to the beautiful, blushing Rose—our treasurer;

“Surely, dear, the wild brown Bee,
When he sees your ruddy lip,
Flutters near that he may see
If it blooms for him to sip!”

Many other beautiful buds are to be seen in this garden, but space forbids a separate description of each. Suffice to say, each possesses a striking individuality, which adds much to the beauty of the garden.

Since the beauty of the future blossom greatly depends upon the care given to the bud, the buds in this Freshman garden are careful not to let the germ of discouragement enter; neither do they let deception and dishonesty find a way in. Year by year, these buds, nurtured by perseverance and swayed by the gentle breeze of knowledge, will develop. Year by year, their petals will unfold until the year 1909—then they will burst forth in all their radiance and beauty, ready to shed their sweet incense upon the surrounding world, let the hand of Destiny strew them where it will.

CLASS ROLL.

Allen, Hugh
 Anderson, Mattie
 Applegate, Daisy
 Atherton, Blanche
 Aydelotte, Mabel
 Bacon, Walter
 Bailey, Leonard
 Ball, Bert O.
 Beard, Elijah J.
 Beatty, Byron H.
 Bohon, Ethel
 Bowles, Fay
 Brand, Joe
 Brightwell, J. L.
 Browning, Gladys
 Buck, Lydia L.
 Buzard, Nellie Buzard, Virgil
 Campbell, G. W.
 Carlisle, Ora
 Cassity, R. D.
 Clough, Robert Conlee, Olive

Costolow, Evert W.
 De Laney, Nelle
 Dent, Virgil
 Dickerson, Partha
 Downing, Olah
 Fleak, Mae
 Foster, W. E.
 Guy, Rilla M.
 Halliburton, Opal
 Hamrick, Nelle
 Horton, Ernest
 Hosey, Carrie
 Hoyt, Carrie
 Hoyt, Grace
 Hull, Carl
 Hunt, Olive G.
 Kirk, Mary
 Kirk, Pauline
 Kirtley, Mae
 Laird, Olive
 Lambert, Fanny
 Lionberger, Beulah Lionberger, Hugh

Lionberger, Pearl
 Lovell, Nancy
 Mahan, Mabel
 Markey, Ila
 Martz, Delbert
 Marston, Agnes Mason, Bertha
 McCool, Ethel
 McKee, May
 McRae, Dora

McWilliams, Bertha
 McWilliams, Hettie
 Millay, Edna
 Miller, Ada
 Miller, A. G.
 Miller, J. A.
 Mills, J. C.
 Moore, Jennie
 Munyon, A. L.
 Niermann, J. L.
 Neet, Edith
 Neet, Mamie
 Nelson, Harriet C.
 Northcraft, Edyth
 Northcraft, Mayme
 Novinger, Grover
 Ogle, E. C.
 Owen, Ruby
 Pierce, J. G.
 Porter, E. W.
 Porter, Dessie
 Porter, Fay
 Poor, Mabel

Powell, Charity
 Reger, Euna
 Rouse, Wm.
 Saturley, Ora
 Schiefelbusch V.
 Schwalbert, Wm.
 Smith, Lutie F.
 Stephens, Blanche
 Stephens, Portteus
 Stone, Erma
 Swanson, H. G.
 Tinder, Bessie
 Tinder, Neva
 Toothaker, Elva
 Toothaker, L. A.
 Tye, Brent
 Van Horne, Howard
 Van Horne, Mae
 Vaughn, Virgie
 Wells, Nelle
 Wilson, C. E.
 Woods, Mae
 Wright, Myra

Mae Kirtley, Class Editor

JOHN R. KIRK, PRESIDENT.

A. P. SETTLE,
English.

MINNIE BRASHEAR,
Assistant in English.

E. R. BARRETT,
Assistant in English.

EUGENE FAIR,
Assistant in History.

JNO. T. VAUGHN,
Civics.

E. M. VIOLETTE,
History.

H. CLAY HARVEY,
Mathematics.

R. M. GINNINGS,
Assistant in Mathematics.

E. YOUNG BURTON,
Assistant in Mathematics.

CORA A. REID,
Art.

D. R. GEBHART,
Music.

MARGARET T. LINTON,
Reading and Voice Culture,
Physical Education.

J. D. WILSON,
Pedagogy.

R. H. EMBERSON,
Assistant in Pedagogy.

M. OLIVE GREER,
Primary Critic.

BLANCHE SCOTT,
Kindergarten.

GERTRUDE LONGENECKER,
Supervisor of Training School.

SUSIE BARNES,
Grammar Critic.

MRS. BELLE REED,
Grammar Critic.

J. E. WEATHERLY,
Chemistry.

J. S. STOKES,
Physics and Physical Geography.

L. S. DAUGHERTY, Zoology.

C. RUTH JACKSON,
Agriculture and Botany.

S. S. CARROLL,
Athletics and Military Tactics.

M. WINNIFRED BRYAN,
Manual Training.

J. W. HEYD,
French and German.

B. P. GENTRY,
Latin.

T. JENNIE GREEN,
Assistant in Latin.

LOA BAILEY,
Assistant Librarian.

OPHELIA A. PARRISH,
Librarian.

MAUD McCLANHAN,
Assistant Librarian.

ELSIE KIRK,
Clerk to the President.

PHILOS.

PHILOS.

P. L. S

E. O. Jones,
Ina Holloway,
Vivian Dobyms,
A. P. Shibley, Virgil Halladay,
Mary Weyand, Zeta Goode, Helen Gaston,
Byron Beatty, Caltha Johnston, Leila McReynolds, Edna McKenzie, Nelle Delaney, Lena Fuller, Nelle Fuller,

P

Cecil Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Gebhart, Wallace Adams,

H

Lillian Bucklew, Lula Kaser, Mabel Mills, Nellie Buzard, Ola Downing, Floyd Shoemaker, G. A. Oberg, Bertha Mathews, Agnes Emberson, Senta Goldberg, Margaret Smith, Elizabeth Powell, Isabelle Flagler, Mary Beatty, Ola Lyons, Agnes Criger,

I

Linnie Hazel Nutter, Lena Starrett,

L

Will R. Adams, Grace Foncanon, Irma Mathews, Lillie May Pollard,

O

Callie Ball, W. E. Fish, Bernice Tietge, Nelle Freeland, Paul Phipps, Lillian Scott, Dagmar Doneghy, Courtland C. Mills, C. M. Weyand, Dore Goode, Albert Costolow,

S

Victor Kirk, Mrs. Wallace, Virginia Conn, Genevieve Moses, Katheryn Varnon, Joy Vance, Lucy Emberson, Ruth Martin, Stanley Stokes, Minta Sparks,

Blanche Nixon, Earl Sloan, Florence Bayley, Samuel Mauck,

Lora Holloway, J. H. McKinney, Nelle Alexander,

Ruby Murphy, Henry King, Leon Johnston,

G.E. McFadden, Guy Clauson, I.M. Horn,

Susan Case, Lurah Loomis,

A. F. Arnold, C. R. Stone,

Grace Dickson,

P. L. S.

COLORS:

Red and White.

Philos

Harry Beckner, F. D. Rutherford, Mary Kirk,

Lillie Throckmorton, Pauline Kirk, James Nagel,

Forest Wilson, Dora Thomas, Nina Kintner,

HONORARY MEMBERS: J. S. Stokes, J. W. Heyd,

J. T. Vaughn, A. P. Settle, Margaret Linton,

Cora Reid, H. Clay Harvey, Winnifred Bryan.

PHILO OFFICERS.

1. Cecil Johnson; 2. Florence Bayley; 3. E. O. Jones; 4. Leila McReynolds; 5. H. A. Beckner; 6. J. H. McKinney;
7. Byron Beatty; 8. Mary Weyand,

“Benjamin Franklin”

BY MISS IRMA MATHEWS.

SUNG BY THE PHILOS IN THE NORMAL CHAPEL, JANUARY 17, 1906.

Tune, “Mermaid.”

In the seventeenth century the trouble began
With our mother coun-try.
She said that we had no rights at all
And from her should never be free.

CHORUS.

Old England she did howl, did howl and rage and blow,
Till Franklin told the colonies to get out their guns
Told old England to go down below, below, below,
Told old England to go down below.

To Philadelphia, that proud old town
A youngster came one day
With a hugh loaf of bread under either arm
And eating on the third all the way.

This lad as you know was Fran-ke-lin,
Who afterwards was the man
To tell old England in words so plain
That she had a very wrong plan.

With a kite and a string, a very simple thing,
He called lightning from the clouds
And now the people all praise him
With praises long and loud.

Old England was sorry that we had this man
But she didn't have a one
That could equal him in any way
Our Benjamin Fran-ke-lin.

PHILO! PHILO! Dear to our hearts is the charming sound and meaning of Philo. When the writer of "The Senior Society and Its Greatness" in the last number of the "Echo" hears of our accomplishments and successes this year, he will undoubtedly cry out "Thank God I did not remain in school to see the final triumph of the Sun (Philos) over the Wind (Seniors)." Among the six debaters chosen to uphold the honor of the school against the Iowa State Normal, not a single Senior appears, but the Philos are represented by Irma Mathews, C. M. Weyand, F. C. Shoemaker, J. H. McKinney, and Clarence R. Stone. The Philos excell in other lines also. Misses Bailey, Nixon, McReynolds, and Varnon are among our best readers. The violin duets by Messrs. Costolow and Shoemaker, the cornet solos by Forest Wilson and Dore Goode, and the piano duets by Misses Goldberg and Buzard, and Misses Martin and Beatty will long be remembered. May our members always continue to rally round the "red and the white" and keep up the present high standard of the society.

PRESIDENTS 1904-'05:

Bessie Hale,
C. M. Weyand,
Virgil Dickson,

PRESIDENTS 1905-'06.

Mabel Mills,
C. R. Stone,
J. H. McKinney.

C. R. STONE,
Society Editor.

SENIOR LITERARY SOCIETY

A. B. Ford, President.

I. G. Frank, Critic.

Walter See, Vice-President.

Mertie Bohon, Curator.

Edith Lewis, Secretary.

Dorothea Thomas, Ass't Curator

Leta Townsend, Treasurer.

Carl Eisiminger, Marshal.

MOTTO: "Once a Senior; always a Senior."

COLORS: Old Gold and Black.

FLOWER: Red Carnation.

M. O. Brown,

Edna Creek,

PRESIDENTS AND SECRETARIES FOR 1905-6.

A. B. Ford,

Edith Lewis,

H. G. Swanson,

Mary Stevens.

SENIOR SOCIETY.

SENIOR SOCIETY.

ROLL

Barker, Mr.	Lionberger, Pearl	Stephens, Blanche
Bonnet, Mr.	Lionberger, Beulah	Stauterman, Eda
Bacon, Walter	Marlette, Ernest	Stephens, Mary
Color Mr.	Miller, J. A.	Stukey, Grover
Creek, Edna L.	Moots, Lottie	Townsend, Leta
Cochran, Ada	McCool, Ocie	Thompson, Orion
Case, Susie	Marshall, Elton	Tolson, Henrie
Dodson, Bijou	Markey, Opal	Thomas, Dorothea
DeWitt, Eula	Northeraft, Lettie	Tudor, Nellie
Eisiminger, Carl	Nebergall, J. E.	Troth, Miss
Ford, A. B.	Nicholson, Mattie	Worsham, Lelia
Finegan, Ava	Newman, Mr.	Webber, Hugh
Finegan, Vera	Porter, Ivie	Wilson, J. D. Prof.
Allison, J. C.	Fish, A. V.	Putnam, Miss
Allison, Guy	Fish, Clarence	Putnam, Willis
Aydelotte, Mabel	Fish, Elsie	Quigley, Grace
Baughner, Rolla	Frank, I. G.	Robbins, Olive
Beardsley, Charles	Jennings, R. M. Prof	Sanford, Miss
Brown, M. O.	Harrington, E. L.	See, Walter
Bennett, Stella	Havenor, Della	Swanson, H. G.
Bohon, Mertie	Hurd, Laura	Smith, Earl
Brashear, Eugene	Kirtly, Iva	St. Clair, Robert
Buchanan, Mattie	Kelley, Carrie	Stone, Erma
Biggerstaff, Margaret	Knight, Fay	Stephens, Jessie
Brookhart, Daisy	Lowe, Belle	Stephens, Claud
Barker, Pearl	Lusk, Mary
	Lewis, Edith

Senior Literary Society Sketch.

THE Senior Literary Society has just passed through a year of marked growth and prosperity. The members of this society believe that for an organization to be successful, it must not only be beneficial to the members thereof, but interesting and instructive to the audiences that attend its sessions. This society has tried to make each programme rendered this year conform to these demands. The result has been, that in spite of the fact that the people have to climb five flights of stairs, and pass by the Siren-doors of the Philomatheans to reach its hall, standing room has been at a premium at each session. Do not think, however that the "Seniors" have gained their prestige by accident. They are recognized as the literary leaders of the school because they have mastered the philosophy of the high resolve.

"Heights, by 'Seniors' reached and kept,
Were not attained by sudden flight;
But they, while 'neighboring Philos' slept,
Were toiling upward in the night."

The present membership is enthusiastic and is determined that next year shall find it higher up the ladder.

SENIOR SOCIETY QUARTETTE.

M. O. Brown.

E. L. Harrington.

C. M. Fish.

H. G. Swanson.

To The Senior Society.

I.

In memory, we have a great gallery,
Many treasures of art are there;
Tho' some may seem dark and gloomy,
Yet others are priceless and rare.
Our mind is the master artist,
By whose hand the pictures are wrought
Of each day and each year, are painted
Our every action and thought.

II.

If, by chance, we should pause for a moment,
As an artist, with brush here and there
Puts what seems aimless strokes on the canvas,
We would see no picture that's fair;
Or, perhaps, when the work is finished,
And, too close, we stand for our view,
We'd see only daubs of color,
Losing the beauty and grandeur, too.

III.

But if we should stand at a distance,
And view the picture then,
What a scene of brightness and beauty;
And we'd view it again and again;
Our eyes ne'er grow tired of the vision—
Each stroke has given its part,
And with just a single one missing,
'Twould ruin that whole work of art.

IV.

Thus, it is with the works of our artist,
Our mind—which ever toils on—
Has put each day on the canvas,
With care, each line has been drawn;
And among these countless pictures,
Our school days will be best of all,
And for those who belong to the "Senior,"
The evenings spent up in our hall.

V.

Now, when closely we view them,
They may fail to please and delight,
But when years have given the distance,
They'll reveal many a beautiful sight,
And of all the mind's fairest treasurers,
That we've placed on Memory's wall,
Will be those that were made in our school days
And those evenings in old "Senior Hall."

—E. L. C.

GLEN FRANK,
SOCIETY EDITOR.

John R. Kirk. S. M. Pickler. John W. Wood.
J. M. Hardman. G. A. Goben. A. W. Mullins. Reuben Barney. Scott J. Miller.

W. T. CARRINGTON,

(Class of 1876.)

State Superintendent Public Schools 1899-1907.

President-Elect Fourth District Normal School, Springfield, Mo.

WEBSTERIAN DEBATING CLUB.

First Row: E. Horton, C. B. Phifer, G. C. Morgan, W. L. Steiner, Chas. H. Banks, E. T. Lakin, W. E. Foster, G. E. McFadden, C. C. Layton, F. E. White. Second Row: M. O. Brown, Eugene Brashear, H. E. Millsap, C. C. Eisiminger, F. A. Nickerson, H. G. Swanson, Clin Miles, J. C. Miller, L. A. Toothaker. Third Row: J. C. Beattie, C. A. Vaughn, J. H. McKinney, C. A. Hanks, I. M. Horne, E. W. Porter, L. L. Sturgeon, E. L. Harrington, R. A. Baugher, T. A. Costolow.

Our Past and Our Present.

Since the earlier days of this school's existence, it has always had among its different organizations, Literary Societies. In these, those having argumentative and oratorical powers found themselves somewhat hampered by the time given to other literary features. A group of such men in 1899 decided that it would be to their advantage to organize a debating club, so they called together the interested young men and organized the Websterian Debating Club. At the opening of School the next year, but very few of the members were in school again. But these were able to secure a sufficient number of new members to proceed with business. Upon this beginning as a foundation, we base our growth and no doubt much of our past success has been due to the several admirable policies which were adopted in the beginning.

In the selection of our members, it has been our aim to get earnest, energetic young men with promising talents, regardless of whether they are Seniors or Freshmen,—though of course some preference is usually given to the more advanced students. By securing Sophomores and Freshmen, our membership is made more continuous from year to year. Through this wide range of membership, we have as members some who have musical talent, and others proficient in athletic feats, besides their speaking abilities.

The club renders a program each Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. These meetings are held in their own hall which is located in the Northwest corner and on the third floor of the main building. This hall is nicely furnished and is well adapted to the needs of a debating club.

The main feature of each program is one or two prepared debates, in which live and interesting subjects are discussed. For examples, the following questions have been discussed by our members during the past year: Resolved; that the United States Senators should be elected by a direct vote of the people; Should Postmasters be elected instead of appointed? Did the Japanese receive justice in the settlement of the war? etc. Seeing the necessity of having some training in speaking upon short notice, we have upon each program extemporaneous speeches and debates. A variety of subjects are chosen for these numbers though they are often somewhat humorous. Besides these debates, we have, on the program, essays current events, queries, recitations, orations, and instrumental and vocal music. After the program is over the critic of the club makes a report in which he carefully reviews each part of the program and points out the mistakes made, thus enabling those who made them to profit by them.

When the program is over, the club adjourns to a business meeting. In this, various matters of business are discussed and passed upon. All these proceedings are made in accordance with parliamentary rules. Through this, each one in the club is enabled to get a valuable knowledge of parliamentary procedure. In order that a large number of our men may have official experience, we have four sets of officers each year. The different presidents of this year were: 1st quarter, E. L. Harrington; 2nd quarter, M. O. Brown; 3rd quarter, C. C. Eisiminger, and 4th quarter, H. E. Millsap.

During the club's existence, it has made a brilliant history. Almost all the debators in the inter-state debates have been chosen from this club. Hence, the several victories won brought victory and glory not only to the school, but to the Websterian Debating Club, and showed the good effect of the training of the club upon the debators. But we have had to win other victories in order to hold our place in the lead. In 1904, the Claytonians thought themselves ready for the first place, so they challenged us to a joint debate. But this debate, convinced them that the place still belonged to us. But their desire for the highest position did not abate; they had to be "shown" the same thing in 1905 and again in 1906. So it is with some pride that we look back over our history so unblemished with defeat.

WINNERS IN THE WEBSTERIAN VS. CLAYTONIAN DEBATE.

J. H. McKinney.

M. O. Brown.

H. G. Swanson.

E. L. Harrington, Club Editor

Claytonian Debating Club.

Calytonian Officers.

Reading from left to right: Hugh Webber, Critic; C. E. Stephens, Curator; John Baum, Vice-President; B. A. Stagner, President; J. R. Nagel, Secretary; J. L. Jones, Curator; I. C. McGee, Marshal.

Club History.

Among the important events occurring at the beginning of the twentieth century was the organization of the Claytonian Debating Club, which promises to see many notable fights of wagging tongues and intellectual jousts for centuries to come. Clay did you say? Yes! "Dust thou art to dust returnest." But before returning each should fulfill his obligations to his country and fellow man. Henry Clay performed his part in the drama of life nobly and well; and, as is the case with every great man, his name lives after him.

The belief that no man has left a better name for clear, logical thinking or unalloyed service and devotion to his country than Henry Clay, led a group of young men, in the year nineteen hundred, to meet in room No. 4 for the purpose of organizing a debating club and to name that club in honor of the great "Pacificator."

The Claytonian Debating Club has had no off years in its history; and this year four of the eight representatives in the Missouri-Iowa Debate are standard bearers of the Claytonians. Its growth has been solidity itself. Beginning with eighteen charter members it has had, every year since, as many members as its constitution would permit. The Claytonian Debating Club does not select men who have already achieved efficiency in the art of speaking. It is rather our aim to train the young man to express himself concisely and forcibly, to develop him from that abnormal state wherein he cannot express himself to a stage in which his tongue never cleaves to the roof of his mouth and his legs tremble not. It is our purpose to elevate him from this uncertain state to a realization of his individual powers. With this aim in view we have met every Saturday evening, during the school years, since organization, and have discussed the vital questions arising from current events. We have prepared and extemporaneous debates, orations, recitations, vocal and instrumental music, and sometimes talks by members of the faculty.

Aside from the purely intellectual training our club gives, we may mention the athletics of the club. It has been our custom to maintain a strong basket ball team, whose reputation is well known. Last year we played the A. S. O. team winning by a score of 17 to 14. In games, with our friends of other clubs, requiring physical strength and mental capacity, we have been equally successful, always gaining a full share of the honors. This year our friends, the Websterians, decided to try to win our laurels from us, but the results justify their reluctance to again meet us in a contest of any kind.

Thus our Society has steadily grown until now it contains men who cause other clubs to think twice before joining us in public debate and who share with others the honor of upholding the name and fame of "Old Missou."

CLAYTONIAN DEBATING CLUB.

From Left to Right—First Row: Frank C. Fleak, H. S. Beckner, V. A. Schiefelbusch, A. J. Newman, Hugh Webber, J. L. Jones, E. H. Buck. Second Row: W. M. Wells, Lewis Osborne, H. M. S. Frazey, Earl Smith, J. R. Nagel, Aubrey Gentry, F. C. Shoemaker, G. C. Stukey. Third Row: W. E. Fish, I. C. McGee, Aubrey C. Ross, Robert Clough, Warner Mills, O. F. Buris, S. F. Mauck, C. M. Fish. Fourth Row: Paul E. Phipps, A. V. Fish, C. M. Weyand, B. A. Stagner, J. E. Nebergall, E. O. Jones, Jno. Baum, C. E. Stephens.

THE CLUB THAT HAS THE REPRESENTATIVES IN THE INTER-STATE DEBATE.

CLAYTONIAN BASKET BALL TEAM.

E. H. BUCK.
Club Editor

DEMOSTHENONIAN DEBATING CLUB

COLORS: Red and Black.

Yell:.

Rac-a-chic-a-boom! Rac-a-chic-a-bay!
Demosthenonians! Who are they?
Fiz-Boom-Bah! Fiz-Boom-Bah!
Demos! Demos! Rah! Rah! Rah!

OFFICERS:

President, W. G. See.
Vice-President, F. M. Barrett.
Secretary, Guy Pence.
Treasurer, J. H. Hoff.

Marshall, E. J. Beard.
Critic, Grant Oberg.
Curator, F. B. Nance.
Assistant Curator, A. B. Ford.

PRESIDENTS OF THE DEMOSTHENONIAN DEBATING CLUB, JANUARY '04, MAY, '06.

1. A. B. Ford. 2. Chas. G. Beardsley. 3. Sam See. 4. H. J. King. 5. E. A. Funk. 6. G. S. Allison. 7. Grant Oberg. 8. W. G. See.

Demosthenonian Sketch.

When we take up the telescope of history, apply the searchlight of inquiry, and pierce the dim shadows of the distant past, we find records of all great nations and organizations preserved through the centuries as a guide and inspiration for those that follow. Then, that succeeding organizations of our beloved Normal may have a reliable criterion to pilot them safely through their trials and difficulties, we submit this brief sketch.

On the afternoon of January 19, 1904, a band of earnest young men, eager to develop the talents which they realized lay dormant within them, quietly made their way into room No. 4 and began the task of organization. All went well; and ere the wintry Phoebus had dipped his fiery steeds beneath the western waves, the work was completed, and the organization, now known as the Demosthenonian Debating Club, was launched upon the broad sea of activity.

Many rumors were afloat that this was only a phantom ship and would soon disappear. But no. It was real. It must endure. The club, as the great Demosthenes himself, by persistent effort, has overcome all obstacles, and is now looked upon by its brother organizations with jealousy and envy, yet, with surprise and admiration. When they gaze upon our eloquent young orators and talented musicians, and behold in our club the unmistakable evidence of thrift and enterprise, they seem to feel a sting of regret that they, too, are not Demosthenonians.

How manifestly is that divine utterance, "By their fruits ye shall know them," exemplified among the members of this Club! The weekly programs are so carefully prepared and so completely carried into execution that it is not at all miraculous that the "Demos" have overcome all barriers, and now stand at the head of the debating clubs of the school.

The boastful Websterians (may they rest in peace) cry, "Victory! Victory! Victory!"—forgetful of their doom, when, trembling with fear, they heard President Kirk read from the Chapel platform: "The Demosthenonians hereby challenge the Websterians to a debate." But the poor "Sons of Webster," as they term themselves, affrighted at the thought of encountering so formidable an adversary, reluctantly ignored the challenge, and the Demosthenonians now wear the laurels.

DEMOSTHENONIANS.

Ralph Harp,	A. B. Ford,	C. R. Stone,	F. M. Barrett,	H. J. King,	S. C. Allison,	F. B. Nance,	John Baltzell,	Clyde Busby.
Chas. G. Beardsley,	J. L. Brightwell,	E. J. Beard,	H. J. McWilliams,	Grant Oberg,	Guy Pence,	J. H. Hoff,	A. F. Arnold,
J. G. Pierce,	W. J. Rouse,	E. A. Burch,	Elton Marshall,	Walter Bacon,	E. E. Davis,	W. G. See,	Earl Sloan,	E. A. Funk.

DEMOSTHENONIAN BASKET BALL PLAYERS.

CHAS. BEARDSLEY,
Club Editor.

POST-GRADUATES.

1. Alice Foncanon; 2. J. F. Treasure; 3. Sallie Brown; 4. I. A. Keyte; 5. Eugenia Ringo; 6. C. C. Eisiminger; 7. W.M. Wells; 8. E. H. Buck;
9. Raymond Shoop; 10. J. V. Buck.

To Normal Number One.

Of a' the airts the wind can blow,
The dearest 'neath the sun,
We know blows off the campus
Of our Normal Number One.
There wisdom falls from the very walls
To expectant ones below;
While day and night, our chief delight
Is to know and know we know.

For we classify the dewy flowers
That are so sweet and fair;
And by his song, we know the bird,
Which charms the balmy air.
There's not a bonny flower nor bird
Beneath the glowing sun,
That we have not all analyzed
In Normal Number One.

There calculus and chemistry
Each learns with might and main,
And knows that till the next exam
His knowledge he'll retain.
There English, Virgil, History,
Most freely they dispense,
And ne'er a teacher can complain
Of any student, dense.

EUGENIA RINGO, Editor.

For each is so ambitious
That he will not leave the school
Altho' he has completed
The course that is the rule.
He comes back semi-yearly
A longer course to run,
As they always offer something new
In Normal Number One.

Y. W. C. A. CABINET.

Lettie Northcraft. Elsie Kirk. Blanche Daugherty. Ada Cochran. Dorothea Thomas.
Edna Mc Kenzie. Corinthia Bruce. Mertie Bohon. Grace Dickson. Iva Kirtley. Genevieve Moses.

Work of the Association.

“Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts.”

Realizing that they can do nothing except through Christ, who strengthens them, and that all learning comes from Him, the All-knowing, a band of girls have joined themselves together in the Young Women's Christian Association. Their aim is, by being Christ's mirrors, to induce all young women students to develop the spiritual life and to become followers of Christ. One object of the Association is to bring together young women of all classes on a common basis of Christian fellowship and service.

The work is carried on in a variety of ways. The Membership Committee meets the trains at the beginning of each quarter, and assists in finding boarding places for the girls and tries to make things home-like. The Master said, “Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.”

The Association has given three socials during the year. One was a joint social with the Young Men's Christian Association; another, a reception held at the Association house; and the third, a reception in honor of Miss Edith Dabb, the State Secretary, who was with us a week.

Regular devotional meetings are held every Sunday afternoon. A prayer and praise service is held for ten minutes each day at the beginning of the noon hour. The first Sunday in each month, the Association meets jointly with the Young Men's Christian Association.

Among the especially inspiring meetings this year, have been those in which Mrs. Wickizer addressed us on “Africa;” in which Miss Dabb talked; the Bible Study Rally, and the joint meeting in which Professor Wilson gave a report of the Nashville Convention.

The organization sent three delegates to the summer conference held in Waterloo. It was also represented at the Student Volunteer Convention in Nashville by four girls.

We believe that the seed which has been sown this year by the Normal School Young Women's Christian Association will ripen and bear much fruit for the Master in the years that are to come.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION ROOM.

BIBLE CLASS TEACHERS.

Elsie Fish. Olive Robbins. Grace Cochran. Lette Northcraft. Eda Stauterman. Carrie Kelley.

The Association House

The Young Women's Christian Association, realizing the necessity for the establishment of a dormitory cottage system for the Normal School girls, organized the Association House two years ago in a modest frame dwelling situated in the center of the city. The furnishings were donated by interested friends. The House proved to be a nucleus where self supporting, ambitious Christian girls could live at a minimum expense; where Bible classes and receptions could be held; and where transient guests of the Association could be entertained. So successful was the enterprise that a fourteen room modern dwelling with two bath rooms, furnace heat, electric lights, and all conveniences was taken for the second year at $50.00 per month. A first-class cook was secured for $5.00 per week; an engineer, for $6.00 per month. The usual rates are paid for fuel, light, and water. Twenty-two girls live in the House, one of whom works for her board. The total living expenses of each of the remaining twenty-one girls have not exceeded $2.10 to $2.29 per week during the year; and in summer, when the furnace is not in use, the expense will be even less than $2.00 per week. The girls purchase their own supplies. They do not stint themselves but live well.

The House is under the direct supervision of the Board of Regents and the President of the School, and they consider the venture a most meritorious one.

Association Members September to April, 1906.

Atherton, Blanche	Daugherty, Blanche	Kelley, Carrie	McCool, Ocie	Sparks, Minta
Banks, Tessie	Daugherty, Mrs. L. S.	Kimbrough, Lillian	McRae, Dora	Sparling, Mary
Barnes, Miss	Davis, Fern	Kirk, Elsie	Mitchell, Sophie	Stanford, Ethel
Becks, Alma	Dickson, Grace	Kirtley, Iva	Moses, Genevieve	Stauterman, Eda
Bennett, Estella	Dodson, Aileen	Kirtley, Mae	Moats, Lottie	Stauterman, Frona
Berger, Elvira	Emerson, Carrie	Knight, Fay	Murray, Jessie	Stephens, Jessie
Biggerstaff, Margaret	Emerson, Nora	Kraus, Mabel	Northcraft, Elizabeth	Stephens, Mary
Bohon, Ethel	Eubank, Waverly	Mahan, Mabel	Northcraft, Lettie	Thomas, Dorothea
Bohon, Mertie	Evans, Nellie	Marston, Agnes	Northcraft, Mayme	Thompson, Bertha
Bowles, Fay	Feather, Katherine	Martin, Ruth	Owen, Ruby	Toothaker, Elva
Bramhall, Jessie	Fish, Elsie	Mason, Bertha	Parrish, Miss	Towles, Jennie
Brookhart, Daisy	Fleak, Mae	Mathews, Irma	Pease, Mae	Towles, Mollie
Bruce, Corintha	Freeland, Nelle	McDowell, Zena	Porter, Iva	Troth, Maggie
Bryan, Miss	Garwood, Hyla	McKenzie, Edna	Putnam, Alta	Turner, Zola
Buchanan, Mattie	Gaston, Helen		Putnam, Sallie	Van Horne, Mae
Bucklew, Lillian	Goff, Pearl		Redmon, Margaret	Van Meter, Kate
Case, Susan	Goode, Zetta		Reynolds, Ella	Varnon, Katheryn
Cochran, Ada	Green, Miss		Rice, Anna	Wallace, Mrs.
Cochran, Grace	Greer, Miss		Robbins, Olive	Wayman, Olive
Craig, Carrie	Hofsess, Myrtle		Ross, Ruby	Wells, Nelle
Crawford, Lyda	Hollowell, Mrs.		Sanford, Clara	Wickizer, Olive
Creek, Edna	Hungerford, Barbara		Sears, Mayme	Williams, Anna
Curl, Susie	Johnson, Albina		Scott, Lillian	Worsham, Leila
Daugherty, Bessie	Johnson, Marie		Scott, Miss	Wright, Bertha

EDNA MCKENZIE,
Association Editor.

Y. M. C. A. CABINET,

Y. M. C. A. History

IN 1896, a few of the best students of this institution saw the great Y. M. C. A. movement sweeping over the country and cleansing the lives of men with whom it came in contact. They saw in this institution a splendid and needy field for such noble work, so with the assistance of State Y. M. C. A. Secretary Gordon, they organized a Young Men's Christian Association here. Conducive environments and energetic christian leaders have enabled this association to advance to the front. In facilities for giving practical aid to students and in our power for improving the lives of the men, we are excelled by only the University.

Our presidents during this remarkable period of growth have been:

J. W. Hatcher, 1896.

C. W. Murphy, '96-'97..

O. H. Lind, '97-'98..

J. A. Detienne, '98-'99..

S. W. Arnold, '99-'00..

T. M. Mitchell, '00-'01.

C. T. Goodale, '01-'04.

W. M. Wells, '04-'05.

C. M. Weyand, '05-'06..

The officers for 1906-7 are E. L. Harrington, President; C. E. Stephens, Vice-President; R. A. Baugher, Secretary; H. J. King, Treasurer.

THE FUNCTION OF THE ASSOCIATION.

To our college life, come flocking from far and near hundreds of young men who are filled with a ruling ambition,—to make life a success,—to achieve the greatest possible development. These men are representatives of the best citizenship of our state; and they will benefit the state and nation, when they have assumed the more active life, just in proportion to the progress of their development while pursuing their college course.

Our great college educators recognize the three-fold character of the human life, yet to attain the highest development of the intellectual phase, the greatest effort is expended. But who can fail to recognize the wonderful, possible development of the spiritual life. If lack of culture produces a stagnant condition in intellectual progress; then lack of spiritual development produces similar results.

The part of a college association is to supply a longfelt need—the spiritual development of the men of the institution. This need is emphasized by the peculiar stage of growth to which college life gives rise.

The simple christian education which a young man has received at his mother's knee sometimes gets rudely shaken before the cold logic of the class room. To many a man, it means a crushed faith and broken hopes. How incalculable is the value of a friendly talk, just at this crisis, with one who has trembled on the verge of the same abyss. It is the function of the association to aid the thinking man to a stronger and better established faith. Without this needed assistance many a splendid character has become an intellectual deformity, never destined to feel the abiding peace and joy of a full christian experience.

But there is a still greater number of men to whom the high life has never made a successful appeal. These are the men to whom religion always seemed fitted for the solace of dotage and the ridicule of youth. They have never stopped to think very much. They have simply lived the life that their environment seemed to suggest to them. But these good but thoughtless men, when once awakened to their great possibilities by the thoughtful college spirit about them, are ready and responsive to vital truth of the brotherhood of Christ. Here is the waiting harvest for the association laborer. These men are more responsive than they will ever be again. Now is the time for action. The association will never realize its function until the salvation of men demands its untiring labor.

The most significant feature of the association work is its frankness and naturalness in attaining results. Our Sunday devotional meeting is simply a round table for frank, heart-to-heart conversation. The importance of the leader sinks as the individual effort grows. When men will throw off all reserve and simply talk from their own experience of the great subject of life, wonderful results may be realized. Men cannot be driven to the fountain of inspiration and forced to drink. History vindicates this position. There are a vast number of men who blush to discuss the great philosophy of life with their comrades. What a step it is then to get men to frankly meet the question, so vital, face to face, just as they would discuss any other subject of importance, and as week after week progresses in their sincere study of the simple truths of the great teacher of men, the light will sooner or later break through, for the door will be opened.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS.

The Association, to reach all men must recognize all men. It must be active in every field of legitimate student enterprise. It must vindicate the truth that christianity is not merely a religion of the prayer meeting, but that it is most keenly alive on the base ball diamond, and in the social gathering. We must vindicate the truth that the Christ spirit is the ruling motive of every act of a man who has felt the vital touch of the Christian experience.

MEMBERSHIP.

The membership of the Y. M. C. A. consists both of church members and non-church members. Since the organization exists for the good it may do the young men, non-church members are never refused as members if they are desirous of leading a better life, but are cordially invited because we consider such as especially in need of our aid. The enrollment is usually from one hundred twenty-five to one hundred seventy each year, but this year it will almost reach the two hundred mark.

During the first part of the year, C. B. Phifer was chairman of the membership committee. Upon leaving school, he was succeeded by W. E. Fish. These men have been greatly aided by an energetic committee, one member of which, Frank C. Fleak, secured over fifty new members.

NEW STUDENT WORK.

It is the aim of the Y. M. C. A. to give aid not only on Sunday, but whenever the student is in need. The past experience of our members enables them to see the needs of a young man, who, probably leaving home for the first time, alights from the train in Kirksville a stranger to every one and also to the town. To meet this great need some of our more advanced members come a day earlier than the student body and organize themselves into different committees. One committee has the duty of meeting all trains even including the midnight and early morning trains, regardless of the weather. At the train the committeemen introduce themselves to the new students and then conduct them to the Normal, where another committee has an information bureau. Here they may look over the complete lists of boarding places. When they have selected a place our committeemen conduct them to the desired places. This committee continues to work during the entire first week of school. Besides aiding in selecting boarding places, this committee strives to furnish all other information desired, especially concerning the school and in regard to classification. The main work of this committee is at the opening of school, in September, though it finds some work to do at the beginning of each of the other quarters, and when notified it is glad to assist students coming at any other time.

MEETINGS.

The meetings of the association are as informal as it is possible to make them. During the year several business meetings are held at which the business of the association is transacted. Also the chairman of the different permanent committees report and lay before the association plans concerning their work.

But the more important meetings are held each Sunday at 2:00 p. m. Various kinds of programs are given at these meetings. Upon some occasions, the committee are able to secure some outside speaker of note to address the association, for example, on one Sunday, Dr. Horace B. Reed of Illinois spoke to us. At other times ministers of the town, and sometimes faculty men make addresses. Such meetings encourage the members by showing that such men are in sympathy with the work and give it their best support.

Notwithstanding the importance of these meetings, there is another kind which is probably of greater value in the development of the students' christian lives. Such are the meetings conducted solely by the students. In these meetings, such subjects as the following are considered: "The College Boy's Duty," "Brothers in Christ," and "What Constitutes a Legitimate Pastime?"

A different leader and subject are chosen for each of such meetings. The leader usually reads the scripture lesson and offers prayer, after which he gives the meeting over to the members for voluntary discussion. This frank, heart-to-heart discussion of such subjects has proven to be a great source of spiritual strength. But such programs are varied by plenty of hymns. In addition to these, music is usually furnished by the quartette. The good effects of these meetings over the lives of the men in school can hardly be overestimated. Doubtless much of the success of these meetings has been due to the good judgment of W. O. Pool, who has been chairman of the Religious Meetings Committee during the past year.

BIBLE STUDY.

Experience and reason have shown us the great benefits, both spiritual and intellectual, which may be derived from a daily systematic study of the Bible. In several of the great institutions, every man voluntarily takes Bible Study. In former years our classes met at the Normal each Saturday at 6:30 p. m. and held until 7:15. For several reasons, this method was unsatisfactory, so this year our meetings are held in informal sessions in the rooms of the several teachers. Thus it is so that each class may choose its own time of meeting, making it more convenient for those taking the work. The success of the plan has been proven by the rise in the average per cent of attendance. Strong students are chosen as leaders of the classes, but their principle aim is not to give conclusive interpretation to the scriptures but to merely encourage independent discussion and thinking on the part of the students. Under the perseverance of A. V. Fish and his wide awake committee, this work has reached greater dimensions than ever before known in this school.

Ten classes have been organized in which about one hundred five students have enrolled. One of these classes has studied the "Acts of the Apostles," the second year's work offered here. The other classes have studied the "Harmony of the Gospels." The arrangement for each day's work and the questions which accompany each division in the book are sources of gratification to the student because they show the definite progress. Each member is expected to study his lesson during the quiet of the morning, immediately after he rises.

MISSIONARY STUDY.

The attention of the christian world is attracted towards the missionary work in foreign fields. Late events in the fields have made them fascinating subjects for study. We have enrolled almost twenty men in Mission Study this year. Part of them are organized in a class to study "Japan," and the rest meet in conjunction with members of the Y. W. C. A. to form a class under the leadership of Professor Wilson. This class first studied "Comparative Religions," then, "Japan." To increase interest in this work, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. meet in joint session the first Sunday in each month and discuss Missionary subjects.

Y. M. C. A. BIBLE CLASS LEADERS.

A. V. Fish. C. M. Weyand. J. E. Nebergall. Claude F. Stephens. M. O. Brown.
L. A. Toothaker. E. T. Lakin. E. L. Harrington. F. E. White.

SOCIALS.

In an institution like this, where so many young people are gathered, there is bound to be some expression of their natural social desires. These social tendencies are sometimes expressed in questionable ways. To guard against this, the Y. M. C. A. gives each year several socials, in which it is our aim to develop, in each one, refined social tastes. Through these, students are brought into contact with each other and become acquainted, thus tending to increase their happiness and success in school. Many spiritual benefits can be directly attributed to the socials because in these the attractions of a happy christian life are shown. Some of these socials are held jointly with the Y. W. C. A. Guy Allison has had charge of the Social Committee this year, and in no social did we fail to derive the benefits of his genius and originality.

FINANCES.

Like other great organizations, this association cannot carry on its work without money. We charge a small membership fee of seventy-five cents per year, in advance. To those who are not in school the entire year, it is twenty-five cents per quarter. But this is not sufficient to pay our expenses, so the members are asked to pay as much each week as their financial condition permits. Many pledge five cents per week, while some give less. These pledges are collected once each month. Although we depend upon our own members for financial support, sometimes friends of the association make contributions. The Book Exchange affords some profit to the association, We receive a large part of our income from the Lecture course. We yearly expend about $125 for delegates; $50 for State Work; $10 for International Committee Work; and $15 for Missions; besides our many local expenses. Altogether we have an annual budget of about $300.

BOOK EXCHANGE.

For the benefit of those students who wish to buy or to sell second-hand books, we conduct a Book Exchange during the entire year. Those, having books to sell, mark their prices in the books and leave them at the exchange where receipts are given for the same. To the marked price, we add five or ten cents and endeavor to sell the books

Delegates to the State Y. M. C. A. Convention at Sedalia, 1905.

When it is sold, the person who left it brings back his receipt and gets the price he asked. If the book cannot be sold, we return the book and charge nothing for our trouble. Under the direction of R. A. Baugher the Exchange has done a large business this year.

CONVENTIONS.

The part taken by a local association in the different conventions offered by the heads or leaders of the organization, is an almost infallible test of the spiritual life, zeal, and enthusiasm of the association. This fact makes the part we have taken in the past especially pleasing to us. To each of the conventions, we intend to send as many delegates as our finances and other conditions permit. We have found this the best thing to do because the men who come back from the conventions come filled with new plans and inspiration.

Probably the greatest convention to which we send delegates is the annual Lake Geneva Student Conference. This is a conference for delegates of all student associations in the Middle West. To this, we usually send six or seven delegates each year. During the latter part of each June, this conference meets about ninety miles north west of Chicago at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Here the delegates receive inspiration and training for the different phases of Christian work.

We usually send from fifteen to twenty-five delegates to the State Y. M. C. A. Convention which meets each November. It was held in Sedalia this year. One gratifying fact is that we are in the lead in attendance at these conventions and in the support of the state work, we having given $75 this year.

Each spring, a State officers' conference is held for the newly elected officers of the different associations of the state. We usually send three or four delegates to this convention. It was held in Liberty this year.

Another important convention is the Student Volunteer Movement Convention which meets but once in four years. In 1902, it was held in Toronto, Canada, and this school was represented by two delegates. This year, it was held in Nashville, Tennessee, and this school sent ten delegates. In arousing spiritual determination and in deciding the subsequent lives of the delegates, this convention leads the rest.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

In the beginning of the Fall term of this school year, an Employment Bureau was inaugurated for the first time in the history of the Institution. The management was not confined to the boundaries of the Y. M. C. A., although it received its first impetus from that source. At present, the official committee consists of four members of the Faculty and two representatives from each of the Christian Associations, including the presidents of these organizations.

Through the cooperation of Mr. Kirk, recognition by the Board of Regents was secured.

By the assistance of the Board, the committee has been enabled to pay a small salary for the services of a secretary to manage the executive work of the Bureau.

In the Fall, a canvas of the town was made for work. Since then the people turn in their wants to the office, and they are promptly filled.

The results of this movement, though not large, have been gratifying. The Bureau has been, to date, of service to thirty different students. Some of this number have received permanent employment; while others have received many small jobs.

THE Y. M. C. A. LECTURE COURSE.

For a number of years the Y. M. C. A. of the A. S. O. in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A. of the Normal has managed a lecture course which has, year after year, increased in value until to-day our course is one of the best offered in the State.

The management is centered in a committee of ten members composed of three representatives from each of the Christian Associations and two representatives from the Faculty of each of the institutions.

The aim of the managers of this course has never been to make money, either for their own salaries or for the profit of the organizations they represent. Not a dollar of the proceeds finds its way into official pockets; but the small proceeds are used strictly for Y. M. C. A. purposes.

It has been the custom of the Normal association to use their part of the proceeds in sending their representative delegates to the great Y. M. C. A. convention that is held annually at Geneva, Wisconsin. Our chief aim has been to supply a great need of the intellectual life of our schools and city.

The course for '05 and '06 was as follows:

1. Manning Glee Club.
2. Dr. Thomas E. Green.
3. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis.
4. Alton Packard.
5. The Boynton Co.
6. Dr. D. F. Fox.

The enthusiastic support that our patrons have given this course will but spur us on to make the course of '06 and '07 the best one that has ever welcomed a Kirksville audience.

PRESIDENT KIRK'S REMARKS.

As further evidence of the great work which the Y. M. C. A. is doing in the colleges we give a few of President Kirk's remarks regarding the Y. M. C. A. Work.

"My reasons for endorsing and favoring the Y. M. C. A. as an adjunct to school and college life are as follows:

It is strictly democratic in operation; it appeals to the interests of all aspiring young men regardless of their wealth, dress, looks, parentage, or previous conditions.

It contributes to the practice of good order and quietude.

It tends to tame and tone down the overflowing animal spirits of boisterous young men.

Because of its own inherent excellence, it is self-perpetuating and therefore never needs coddling or over-seeing by the Faculty.

It utilizes many energies which would otherwise be wasted. It awakens the best sympathies. It cultivates altruism.

It is a great force in the development of sterling manhood."

Y. M. C. A. ROLL.

Adams, Wallace	Burton, E. Young	Davis, Ben	Hays, Ralph	Marshall, Elton L.
Adams, Will	Burton, W. A.	Davis, Earl	Harris, A. R.	Marlette, Ernest
Adams, Ray	Berger, Allen	Dent, Virgil	Hopkins, B. R.	Mayhugh, O. L.
Alverson, Rochelle	Buzard, Virgil	Dougherty, J. M.	Hopper, Wm. O.	McFadden, Geo. E.
Allison, G. S.	Bonnett, C. E.	Eisminger, C. C.	Holloway, Keith	McKinney, J. H.
Anspach, O. L.	Brown, M. O.	Eisiminger, W. R.	Hoff, J. H.	McWilliams, H. L.
Arnold, A. F.	Buck, E. H.	Fair, Eugene	Hinchliff, C. B.	McGee, I. C.
Banks, J. L.	Brashear, Eugene	Fish, Melvin E.	Hiskett, F. N.	McClay, Irving
Banks, T. L.	Brightwell, J. L.	Fish, Albert V.	Heaton, James M.	Miles, Clin
Banks, Chas. H.	Busby, Clyde	Fish, Clarence M.	Hudson, Frank	Miller, J. A.
Barker, Ray C.	Burriss, O. F.	Fish, Walter E.	Hunt, W. H.	Mills, Warner
Baum, John	Burch, Elmer A.	Foster, W. E.	Israel, G. B.	Mills, J. C. Jr.
Baugher, R. A.	Calvert, O. E.	Ford, A. B.	Johnson, Ralph A.	Miller, Chas. W.
Baltzell, John E.	Chambers, G. C.	Fleak, F. C.	Jones, E. O.	Millsap, H. E.
Barrett, Edwin R.	Comer, Lonzo	Frazey, H. M. S.	Kent, C. W.	Musson, Alvin B.
Ball, Bert O.	Costolow, T. A.	Furnish, T. J.	King, Henry J.	Nagel, J. R.
Baker, Louis	Cochran, Homer	Garlock, J. G.	Kirk, Victor	Nebergall, J. E.
Barrett, Fred M.	Clauson, Guy E.	Gentry, B. P.	Lake, Paul	Nickerson, C. A.
Beeler, Noah	Clough, Robt.	Gebhart, David R.	Layton, C. C.	Pence, W. G.
Benning, Chas.	Clough, Orville	Gilson, Wm. C.	Lakin, E. T.	Phipps, Paul E.
Beard, Elijah J.	Crawford, M. E.	Hay, George	Lionberger, Hugh	Phifer, C. B.
Bacon, Walter	Daugherty, L. S.	Hanks, Cyrus A.	Lore, M. F.	Pool, W. O.
Birkett, J. R.	Davis, Glen	Harrington, E. L.	Mauck, S. F.	Porter, Ira F.

Potter, Earl W.	Smith, Earl W.	Swanson, H. G.	Waggener, L. W.	Wisdom, Earl
Purnam, Willis	Stewart, W. E.	Thompson, O. G.	Ward, Frank	Wilson, F. B.
Ross, Aubrey C.	Stagner, B. A.	Toothaker, L. A.	Wenger, A. O.	Wilson, Arlie
Roseberry, E. F.	St. Clair, Rob't	Van Horne, Earl	Weyand, Chas. M.	Willis, M. E.
See, W. G.	Stokes, Stanley	Van Horne, Howard	Webb, C. M.	Wood, Harry T.
Settle, A. P.	Stephens, Claude E.	Vaughn, Chester A.	Wells, W. M.	Wright, Roscoe
Skipper, Ira	Steiner, Wm. L.	Vaughn, B. E.	White, F. E.
Sloan, A. E.	Stone, C. R.	Violette, E. M.	Wilson, J. D.

STUDENTS TAKING KINDERGARTEN TRAINING.

At first, she tried to stuff the child,
 By teaching from a book,
 This proved an utter failure,
 So another plan she took.

Now she teaches them
 As if she taught them not
 And she is loved and worshiped
 By every little tot.

UNCLASSIFIED STUDENTS.

SUBNORMAL STUDENTS.

Athletics.

All the athletics of this institution are under the management of an athletic committee which is composed of five members of the Faculty. This committee is as follows:

J. R. Kirk

J. E. Weatherly

E. Y. Burton

J. T. Vaughn

S. S. Carroll, Athletic director and general manager.

Normal Yell:

Old Mis-su! Old Mis-su!
Old Missouri's son.
Kirksville! Kirksville!
Normal Number One.

FOOT BALL

FOOT BALL TEAM.

SCORES, 1905.

Normal 0; M. S. U. 6.

Normal 0; William Jewell C., 0.

Normal 11; Amity, 5.

Normal 12; Warrensburg Normal, 6.

Normal, 0; Tarkio, 23.

SECOND FOOT BALL TEAM.

H. L. McWilliams,
Captain '05.

YELL:

Rickety rack! Rickety rack!
Pass the ball to the quarterback;
One, two, shove him through.
D-o-w-n!

NORMAL SCORE:

1903

Normal 27; Central C., 2.
Normal 18; Westminster, 0.
Normal 12; Wm. Jewell C., 6.

NORMAL SCORES:

1904

Normal 5; A. S. O., 0.
Normal 0; M. S. U., 6.
Normal 0; Wm. Jewell C., 5.
Normal 6; Wm. Jewell C., 0.

YELL:

Avevi; Avevo; Avevivo-vum.
Run and get a rat trap bigger than a
cat trap;
Run and get a rat trap bigger than a cat trap.

Ziz-Boom-ba!
Kirksville Normal, rah! rah! rah!

GEORGE ISRAEL,
Captain '06.

Size-Up of First Team.

Burch, Elmer
Clearmont, Mo.
R. Half.
Age, 19 yrs.
Weight, 150 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 9 in.

Ford, A. B.,
Bullion, Mo.
R. Tackle.
Age, 21 yrs.
Weight, 197 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 11½ in.

Lakin, E. T.,
Kahoka, Mo.
L. Half.
Age, 26 yrs.
Weight, 147 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 11½ in.

Sloan, Earl,
Kohoka, Mo.
R. End.
Age, 19 yrs.
Weight, 143 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 11 in.

Baum, John
Rosendale, Mo.
Fullback.
Age, 21 yrs.
Weight, 160 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 9 in.

Hull, Earl,
Kirksville, Mo.
L. Half.
Age, 17 yrs.
Weight, 142 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 6 in.

McWilliams, H. L.
Hurdland, Mo.
Quarterback.
Age, 18 yrs.
Weight, 143 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 6 in.

Ballew, Clay'
Millgrove, Mo.
L. Half.
Age, 20 yrs.
Weight, 146 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 6½ in.

Isaerl, George,
Bullion, Mo.
L. Tackle.
Age, 19 yrs.
Weight, 188 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 11½ in.

Oberg, Grant,
Osborne, Mo.
Center.
Age, 22 yrs.
Weight, 153 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 9½ in.

White, Lyman,
Whitesville, Mo.
R. Half.
Age, 20 yrs.
Weight, 138 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 8 in.

Beard, E. J.
Exline, Ia.
R. Guard.
Age, 21 yrs.
Weight, 185 lbs.
Height, 6 ft.

Millsap, H. E.,
Knox City, Mo.
L. End.
Age, 26 yrs.
Weight, 157 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 10 in.

Rouse, J. E.,
Deer Ridge, Mo.
L. Guard.
Age, 22 yrs.
Weight, 164 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 10 in.

Wright, Q. R.
Bullion, Mo.
R. End.
Age, 23 yrs.
Weight, 140 lbs.
Height, 5 ft. 9 in.

BASE BALL

Record of the Past and Prospects of the Future.

Three years ago saw the birth of the base-ball spirit in this institution. Only a few games were played that season. The result was not very promising, but nevertheless it served to awaken the dormant base ball spirit.

The following year, however, a better schedule of games was played, and better results were obtained than the previous year. The following institutions were played that season: American School of Osteopathy, Westminster College, and Missouri University.

The next year the enthusiasm was even greater, as was shown in the two games played with the American School of Osteopathy, and the two with the Warrensburg State Normal.

But, by the interest being manifested, it is believed that this year will be the crowning one in the history of base ball, up to the present time. There are about forty men trying for positions on the team, and it seems, from the material presented, that we will be able to make a good record in the scheduled games, which are as follows:

- April 7, Bles Military Academy at Macon, Mo.
- April 11, University of Missouri at Columbia, Mo.
- April 18, American School of Osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo.
- April 26, Warrensburg State Normal at Kirksville, Mo.
- April 27, Warrensburg State Normal at Kirksville, Mo.
- May 7, Central College at Fayette, Mo.
- May 9, Cape Girardeau State Normal at Cape Girardeau, Mo.
- May 10, Cape Girardeau State Normal at Cape Girardeau, Mo.
- May 16, American School of Osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo.

TRACK MEN.

Records Made Last Field Day, May 14, '05.

Event.	Won by	Record.
(1) 100 yards dash.....	H. E. Millsap.....	11 sec.
(2) Putting 16 lb. shot.....	L. W. Dumas.....	30 ft.
(3) Running high jump.....	L. W. Dumas.....	5 ft. 2 in.
(4) 880 yards walk.....	E. R. Herdman.....	4 min. 53 sec.
(5) Throwing 16 lb Hammer.....	J. E. Rouse.....	81 ft. 1 in.
(6) 50 yards dash.....	J. C. Moore.....	6 sec.
(7) Pole vault for height.....	E. M. Dorsey.....	8 ft. 10 in.
(8) 120 yard high hurdle.....	H. E. Mill sap.....	20 2-5 sec.
(9) Throwing 56 lb. weight.....	S. C. See.....	19 ft. 2 in.
(10) Running broad jump.....	L. W. Dumas.....	17 ft. 9 in.
(11) Mile Run.....	L. L. Kaser.....	6 min. 14 sec.

The championship was won by L. W. Dumas who scored the greatest number of points.

GYMNASIUM BOYS.

GYMNASIUM GIRLS.

F. C. SHOEMAKER, W. O. POOL, J. H. MCKINNEY,
Winners in Missouri-Iowa debate at Kirksville, April 27, 1906.

STURGEON GENERAL

STEELE & CO

K. S. N. CORPS OF CADETS.

COMMISSIONED OFFICERS.

ROSTER FOR 1905-06.

S. S. Carroll.....Captain

Hugh Webber.....1st Lieutenant

Paul G. Lake.....2nd Lieutenant

NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS.

J. H. Hoff.....1st Sergeant

E. H. Burch.....2nd Sergeant

J. R. Nagle.....3rd Sergeant

John Baum.....4th Sergeant

Frank Fleak.....1st Corporal

Lenard Bailey.....2nd Corporal

D. I. Martz.....3rd Corporal

Shelton Gregory.....4th Corporal

S. W. Stokes.....Bugler

Victor Kirk.....Bugler

PRIVATEs.

O. L. Anspah

J. L. Baum

E. J. Beard

H. C. Blake

H. G. Cochran

M. E. Crawford

W. E. Foster

Leroy Fugate

W. D. Gray

Dow Guffy

Louie Grinstead

A. R. Harris

Scott Holton

C. W. Kent

E. T. Lakin

Hugh Lionberger

M. F. Lore

Irving McClay

C. C. Miles

J. E. Nebergal

Clyde Phifer

J. G. Pierce

Archie Rieger

A. C. Ross

Wm. L. Steiner

Robt. St. Clair

J. D. Sutter

C. C. Swalbert

J. H. Trower

Frank Ward

C. M. Webb

Arlie Wilson

O. O. Williams

Q. R. Wright

At the Annual Encampment in May, 1905, the Sharpshooter's Medal was won by J. H. Hoff, for attaining the highest efficiency as a marksman.

MILITARY BOYS.

MILITARY COMPANY AT TARGET PRACTICE.

H. L. McWILLIAMS,
Football.

A. B. FORD,
General Editor for Athletics.

F. B. NANCE,
Gymnasium.

E. A. FUNK,
Track.

HUGH WEBBER,
Military
153

GROVER MORGAN,
Baseball.

Irma Mathews,

Clarence R. Stone,

C. M. Weyand.

Affirmative Team in Missouri-Iowa Debate at Cedar Falls, Iowa, April 27, 1906.

TOMFOOLERY.

Brown.

Harrington.

Fish.

Swanson.

Another view—this is No. 2—
Of the Senior Male Quartette.

Don'ts.

Don't let your heels come down while walking in the Library.

Don't talk during chapel exercises.

Don't cough nor clear your throat before beginning to sing in chapel.

Don't expectorate on the stairs.

Don't try to "work" a Professor (You can't do it).

Don't mistake the Faculty for the Freshmen and Subs.

"Don't tread on me."—Sophs.

Don't sit and talk to the girls in chapel.

Don't study unless you have to—Students.

Don't walk on the terrace.

Don't take music in order to learn how to beat (some one's) time.

Don't inquire what some one's grades are at the end of a quarter. If they are good you will find them out.

"Don't "Joner" me."—McFadden.

Don't say "rotten" at a base-ball game, even if you are getting beat.

Don't enter the New Building.

Don't cut classes to walk in the halls.

"Don't let your feet drag while riding." the pony!—Miss Green.

Don't call the military boys "Little Tin Soldiers."—Capt. Carroll.

Don't forget to laugh when the teachers tell jokes.

Don't throw litter in the pond or on the campus.

Don't get in front of Miss Barnes when she is going to the Library.

Don't get within 100 yards when Ford performs an experiment in Chemistry.

Don't bet on the First Ball Team.

"Did I ever tell you this incident which occurred when I was 'Back East?'"

—A. P. Settle.

"OUR JOCKEY PROF."

SCHOOL LOVERS.

BRAINS ARE VERY USEFUL TOOLS.

Stagner and Dorathea,
So diverse in size,
Soon contrived,
To equalize.

FRANK WHITE ON MONDAY.

7:30 a.m.

12:30

White has a pleasant dream of his future home

The only time he hurries,—He's going to see "Virginia", in the chapel.

GRINDS AND JOKES.

Miss Bracie Cornett wants a New man.

Mr. Newman wants a Cornett.

Phipps (mournfully): "My face hurts me today."

Barrett (sympathetically): "I don't blame it, Phipps."

* * *

Virginia Conn says, "Girls I am wearing a face veil this hot weather. My greatest ambition is to be White."

* * *

Miss Werner: "Why is Mr. Lakin like an old dish-rag?"

Miss Mitchell: "I give it up."

Miss Werner: "Because he is always hanging around."

* * *

Maud McClanahan is a promising teacher of elocution. Her class is not large. Her most apt pupil is Harry Beckner.

* * *

H. G. Swanson engaged the company of a young lady with whom he had never gone before. This happened at 12:40 Thursday, and reaching home at 3:30, he immediately proceeded to give his feet a good washing.

* * *

Lucile Miller: "Oh, my Kingdom for a man. Just anybody that's Goode."

Albert Fish declares that there ought to be more parlors in the Y. W. C. A. House.

* * *

Wanted at Mrs. Pollard's, an automatic door knocker.

* * *

When Mr. Shoemaker has a spare moment, he finds himself wondering what will happen "When we three meet again."

* * *

It does look a little queer that Mary Weyand, an ardent member of the Y. W. C. A., is becoming a card fiend. She plays hearts for trumps, and 'King' for high.

* * *

Miss McReynolds evidently prefers a stony path to the more easy Forrest path. She thinks the stonier the path, the brighter the goal.

* * *

Ivie Keyte has gone to Heaven,

His face we'll see no more,

For what he thought was H₂O

Was H₂SO₄.

* * *

"Early to bed, early to rise,

Except when the Seniors give a surprise".

Hugh Webber (bedtime 8:45).

Albert Costolow wishes to receive directions to rise in this world.—Let him put yeast in his chair.

* * *

James Nagel, being accustomed to eating at the boarding house, was unused to the form of saying grace. He ate dinner at Mr. Downing's lately. He didn't notice what the others were doing and commenced to eat as soon as he sat down. Olah ventured to say, "James, we usually say a little something before we eat."

"Say all you want to, say all you want to," replied James, cheerfully. "You can't turn my stomach."

* * *

Earl Sloan: "Did you say you left school on the 10th?"

McFadden: "Yes, sir."

Sloan: "And came back on the 25th?"

McFadden: "Yes, sir."

Sloan: "What were you doing in the interim?"

McFadden: "Never was in such a place as interim."

* * *

From Miss Bayley's "Essay on Man"—"The Smith, a mighty man is he."

* * *

"Lives of great men all remind me,
I can gain an honored place,
And when parting leave behind me
Lip prints on a young girl's face."

Hugh Webber.

An old Philo, rushing a Freshman girl, looks in the door of the Philo hall and, finding it crowded, says to the Freshie, "Do you think we can squeeze in there?"

Freshie (blushing): "Perhaps we had better wait 'til we get home."

* * *

Said Keith, who thinks he's quite witty,

"My friends, I shall sing a ditty,"

His friends all cried out, "Oh! have pity!"

But Kieth sang this witty ditty:

"A boy stood on the burning deck,

His head was in a whirl,

His mouth and eyes were full of hair,

His arms were full of girl."

If a man is wont to vibrate
Whene'er he attempts to debate
He should try with his might
To cut out his fright—
This to Shoemaker you should relate

HE MADE A FUSS OVER HER.

At the party, which the Seniors gave for Mr. Jones, Miss Dobyns said : Please sing 'Make a Fuss Over Me.' Somebody sing 'Make a Fuss over Me' "

Mr. Bonnett: "Very well, Miss Dobyns," I'll make a fuss over you, and he promptly recited the following poem:

"One morn when Spring was in her teens,
—A morn to a poet's wishing,
All tinted in bright red and green,
Miss Dobyns and I went a-fishing.

I, in rough and easy clothes,
With my face at the sunshine's mercy,
She, with her hat tipped down to her nose,
And her nose tipped vice versa.

I with my rod, and reel, and book,
And a basket for lunching recesses;
She with the bait of her comely look
And the seine of her silken tresses.

And we sat down on a sunny dyke,
Where the white pond-lilies teeter,
And I went fishing like quaint Old Ike,
And she like Simon Peter.

All the noon, I lay in the light of her eyes,
And dreamily watched and waited;
But the fish were cunning and would not rise,
For the baiter alone was baited.

And when the time for departure came,
The bag was flat as a flounder.
But Miss Dobyns had neatly hooked her game,
A hundred and eighty pounder."

Two little girls played hooky from school and had their pictures taken. Then got a Regent to bring them back, to keep from getting a rakin.

This is the game with M. S. U. The score they made was 12 to 2.

While visiting "Old Hickory" Jackson's home at Nashville, M. O. Brown betrayed his ignorance of Nature by climbing an ash tree to get a hickory stick.

A Mispronounced Word

ILLUSTRATED

While reciting in the Chemistry class, Walter See said, "I think it contains about one litter"

OUR VARIETIES.

If you should to our Normal come,
We've something quite amazing,
Just here, for you, I'll mention some
As o'er these lines you're gazing.
Whene'er you come to see our Walls
For you some room will make,
And some of us, if duty calls,
The Corner, that is left, we'll take.
And if your ponies you should bring,
We've Barnes for their safe keeping;
And if you'd feed them in the spring,
We've a Post to tie to while they're eating.
Of starvation you need have no fear,
If food should so advance in price,
We have a good supply this year—
The best of Bacon, Fish and Rice,
You need not worry about the light,
For strange it is to say,
That always here for us, our Knight
Is just as bright as day.
We've Mills and Pence, our cash accounts
Are growing rather slim,
But we have Banks for the large amounts
Of those just coming in.

Each girl here goes without her hat
In every kind of weather,
But, if there're those who like not that
We've a Bonnett and a Feather.
In our flower gardens rare
Are blossoms sure to please;
There's the Violette and Lily fair,
Also there are Sweet Peas(e).
In music you may have your choice,
In any shape or form,
A Carroll if you choose the voice,
Or Cornetts and the Horn.
Times ne'er get dry here at our school,
How could that ever be
When we have Wells, a deep clear Pool,
And a Lake, a Creek, a See?
Our students Goode believe in work,
Yet strange it is to say,
Tho' we were never known to shirk,
Each day we have a Holladay.
This is not half—there's some left out,
Of the names I could refer to,
Yet these can prove without a doubt,
That schools like ours are few.

If you have ne'er been to the office
You may laugh to yourself and say,
"Who ever was known to be frightened like this?"
But just try it yourself some day.

Mr. Kirk, (holding up a pocket-book which had been found): "This pocket-book contains some money. Whose can it be?"

For sale, by the Seniors, a large bunch of keys.

Horse and Pony Sale, May 25th.

Mr. Shibley advises all debators who would be successful to say as little as possible, so that their opponents will have little to deny.

A little boy was playing in front of his house when Mr. Pool came by. Mr. Pool said, "My boy, where is your father this bright Sunday?"

The little boy: "Father's out hunting."

Mr. Pool: "Sonny, I'm afraid your father doesn't fear God."

Boy: "Oh, yes, he does, he took his gun with him."

Didn't the Juniors do wisely at the reception. They sent a "Bonnett" with a "Feather." Just the evening before Easter too.

Mabelle Mills has recently felt sober and seldom smiles. Her friends, however, are more hopeful now. Having heard of a reception to be given soon, she asked, "What are they going to have to eat?"

* * *

Miss Florence Bayley has often told us of a husband she possesses. If she wishes to please him she had better observe the following rules:

1. Turn a deaf ear to Frank Nance's sweet sayings.
2. Stop going with Earl Smith.
3. Look less kindly on Keith Holloway.
4. Speak less frequently to Mr. Beckner.
5. Write oftener to said husband.

* * *

Lurah Loomis: "May I have the best part of your apple?"

Cecil Johnston: "Yes, sure, here are the seeds, plant them and you'll have a whole orchard."

* * *

Receipt for Cutting Chapel.

Gather all books under your arm.
Use all the rubber in your neck to locate John R.
See that Mr. Jack is not in the door.
Look out your line of exit.
Raise up on your toes never allowing your heels to hit.
See that every one around you is singing.
Then hold your breath and slip out.
Go through the rear door and turn to your right.
Pass quickly down the steps and butt-in to Mr. Jack.

Mr. Jones, critic, (sternly): "I heard one of our lady members giggling during the performance of one duty; she must have been beside herself."

Miss Varmon (aside to Miss Dobyns): "Oh, no, I was beside Mr. Horn."

* * *

Secretary: "The next number is a vocal solo by Miss Conn."

President: "The Marshal will please raise the windows, so that no one will be overcome the room is so warm."

* * *

Receipt for Courting.

By request of Mr. McKinney.

1. Get well to the graces of a few of the girls.
2. Get elected to some office, say the presidency of the Philos.
3. Then "dude up" and look pretty.
4. Part the hair in the middle and wear a red tie.
5. Speak to all ladies when you meet them.
6. Be not overly kind to any until you have made your choice.
7. Be brave enough to ask her to accompany the honorable president to Philo.
8. Place her on a front seat where you will be able to impress her with your greatness.
9. Then use your own judgment as to further proceedings.

* * *

"After the ball was over" and into the catcher's hands, McFadden struck at it.

Mr. King's favorite song is, "Maryland, My Maryland."

Mary Beatty: "No, No, Mother doesn't believe in kissing."

Hugh Webber: "But I don't want to kiss your mother."

People have a hard time telling Wallace from Will Adams. They should ask Linnie Nutter. She knows.

Phrenologists claim that the love bumps on Brown's and White's heads are abnormally developed.

Professor Harvey demonstrating and "making clear" a proposition in Geometry.

"MUSEUM."

Longest.....	L. S. Daugherty	Most Liberal.....	Miss Green.	Neatest.....	Miss Bryan.
Fattest.....	J. T. Vaughn	Wittiest.....	Mr. Wilson.	Easiest Grader.....	A. P. Settle.
Biggest Coquette.....	Miss Brashear.	Acrobat.....	H. Clay Harvey.	Prettiest.....	Mr. Stokes.
Gentlest.....	Mr. Burton.	Most Polite.....	Mr. Weatherly.	Laziest.....	Mr. Gebhart.
Shyest.....	Miss Linton.	Shortest.....	Mr. Emberson.	Tin Soldier.....	Mr. Carroll.
Most Talkative.....	Mr. Fair.	Most Modest.....	John R. Kirk.	Most Quiet.....	Miss Longenecker.
Slowest.....	E. M. Violette.	Fastest.....	Miss Barnes.	Most Picturesque.....	Miss Reid.
Palest.....	Mr. Ginnings.	Jig-dancer.....	B. P. Gentry.	Dutchiest.....	Mr. Heyd.

DAILY ROUTINE
OF
"THE FLUNKIE" AND "THE CLASS CUTTER."

On Monday he doth take a rest.

On Tuesday in his best is dressed.

On Wednesday o'er his studies fakes.

On Thursday exercise he takes.

On Friday leaves the school for good.

And Saturday he splits the wood.

On Monday she doth stay at home.

On Tuesday oft is wont to roam.

On Wednesday to the wash-tub goes.

On Thursday she doth meet her beaux.

On Friday she doth oft recite.

And Saturday gads about 'til night.

On Sunday both are very busy.
Now, who is she? also, who is he?

You can guess this story,
'Tis a very easy thing,
When you see a lady wearing
A pretty diamond ring.

E. O. JONES,
Editor-in-Chief.

MARY BEATTY,
Art Editor.

EDNA L. CREEK,
Editor-in-Chief.

J. L. JONES,
Advertising Manager.

To
The Students:

These Business Men have Stood by Us. Let Us
Stand by Them.

Copyright 1906
B. Kuppenheimer & Co., Chi.

HERBOTH'S,

THE CLOTHIERS,

Invite all students to inspect their line of Clothing and Furnishings.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded

All Clothing Bought of Us Kept Pressed Free of Charge.

HERBOTH'S, THE CLOTHIERS,
South Side of Square.

"Everything New."

NORMAL ORCHESTRA.

PROMPT

PROGRESSIVE

PRACTICAL

A VIEW IN "THE PALACE OF THE JEWELRY TRADE," SOUTH SIDE.

We buy for cash in the largest markets.
We sell the best at the least.
We do the best watch and jewelry repairing.
We manufacture jewelry.
We do high art letter, monogram and ornamental engraving.
We do copper and steel plate engraving.
We sell copper and society stationery.

We scientifically fit glasses for all defects of vision.
We desire to know your wants.
We desire to fill your wants.
We sell diamonds and jewelry.
We sell "Wares in Art."
We want you to enjoy our service.
We invite your patronage.

CHARLES M. HARRINGTON, JEWELER,
SOUTH SIDE SQUARE. ESTABLISHED 1875.

A YOUNG MAN courts a young lady. That is their business. He proposes. That is his business. She accepts. That is her business. They require an Engagement and Wedding Ring. That is our business.

Students Out of School can secure no better service than by making their wants known to us by mail.

When in need of

Wedding, Birthday or Christmas Gifts write us. Our store is headquarters for Normal Spoons, Medals and School Pins.

LOIS BUHL
LAWYER

Titles Examined,
Insurance of All Kinds,
And Notary Work.

Office, 103 and 105 East Harrison
(Old Post Office Room)

ESTABLISHED 1869.

Robert Clark Hardware Co.,

DEALERS IN

Hardware, Stoves, Tinware, Buggies, Carriages and Road Wagons

PLUMBERS and STEAM FITTERS

KIRKSVILLE, MISSOURI.

Mrs. V. G. Leech

Everything in the Millinery Line . . .

Also Art Needle Work Material, Fancy Combs, Neckwear, Burnt Wood

AND OTHER NOTIONS.

105 South Franklin

NORMAL ENGINE ROOM.

THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE BOOK STORE IN THE CITY.

Headquarters
for All Text Books
and School Supplies.

We Also Carry the Finest Line of Stationery, and the
L. E. Waterman
Fountain Pen.

NORMAL BOOK STORE,
SOUTH SIDE SQUARE.

THE POOL BARBER SHOP

GRANT W. BERRY, PROPRIETOR.

POOL HOTEL BUILDING,

KIRKSVILLE, MISSOURI.

If it is Quality and Fair Treatment You are Looking For,
TRADE AT

GRIFFITH'S

He carries the finest line of Groceries in the city. Also a full and complete line of China, Glass and Queensware. Give us a chance to SHOW YOU.

LEE ENNIS DR. F. W. HALE. C. H. ENNIS

FOUT DRUG CO.

THE UP-TO-DATE SCHOOL SUPPLY HOUSE.

NEW AND SECOND-HAND BOOKS,
SPORTING AND ATHLETIC GOODS

WE WANT YOUR TRADE

FOUT DRUG CO.,

West Side. - - - Phone 94.

Programs, Invitations, Cards,
ANNOUNCEMENTS, STATIONERY

Or any kind of Job Printing done promptly and in proper style. We do Job Work exclusively and have no incompetent help. Our work is our advertisement. Give us a test. Call up Phone 456 or hunt us up.

B. F. REDMON, Printer and Stationer

First Stairs on E. Washington St. KIRKSVILLE, MO.

BIRD'S EYE VIEW LOOKING NORTH FROM THE NORMAL.

The Kirksville Herald

SAMUEL R. LLOYD,
PUBLISHER.

Published on Wednesdays of each Week.

Subscription $1.00 per year.

Job Work a Specialty.

The Journal Printing Co.

Has the best Book and Job Office in Northeast Missouri

This Book is Our Work

WE PUBLISH THE

“Kirksville Journal,” Weekly,

AND THE “Evening Express,” Daily.

The Oldest and Best Weekly, and the Youngest and Only Daily in Adair County.

Kirksville Democrat

Vol. 36

No. 32

R. MINTER, EDITOR.
N. A. MATLICK, CITY ED.

Fine Job Work a Specialty

J. W. MARTIN, M. D.

A. W. PARRISH, M. D.

MARTIN & PARRISH,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

SOUTH SIDE

KIRKSVILLE,

MISSOURI

—SNEED & COBB—

Electrical Supplies, Telephones and Contracting.
Edison Phonographs and Victor Talking Machines. Bicycles and Repairing.

B. F. HENRY,
“THE OLD RELIABLE,”

SOLICITS YOUR PATRONAGE FOR ANYTHING IN THE LINE OF Drugs, Druggists' Sundries, Perfumes, Soaps and All Toilet Articles.

SOUTH SIDE OF SQUARE.

====THE====

Great Eastern Coffee and Tea Co.,

JOSIAH GOODEN, Proprietor

High Grade Coffees and Teas

Sole manufacturer of Gooden's
High Grade Flavoring Extracts

~ PRETTIEST CHINA IN THE CITY ~

113 East Harrison Street,

Kirksville. - - Missouri

KIRKSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.

W. B. Curry & Company

Real Estate and Rentals

Exchange of All Kinds a Specialty.

Notary Public in Office

Office in Basement of Court House

Phone, Bell 436.

WE KNEAD THE DOUGH

—AT THE—

PALACE BAKERY AND
ICE CREAM PARLOR,

WHERE THEY MAKE THE FINEST BREAD, CAKES, PIES, COOKIES AND FANCY PASTRY IN THE CITY.

Brick and Fancy Ice Cream a Specialty

We handle the finest line of Bulk and Box Candies in the City—the famous FERN LEAF brand of Chocolates.

Our line of Cigars, Smoking and Chewing Tobacco is the best in the city.

Ice Cream, Ice Cream Sodas, and Soft Drinks of All Kinds Served.

CATERING A SPECIALTY.

PALACE BAKERY
And Ice Cream Parlor,

Middle East Side of Square.

Phone, Bell 69

MOORE, The PHOTOGRAPHER,

Awarded Medals at the Missouri Photographers' Conventions, held at Chillicothe, August, 1898; St. Louis, August, 1899; Kansas City, September, 1900; Wisconsin and Illinois convention held at Quincy, 1901; Highest Honors Pertle Springs, 1901; president Missouri Photographers' Association, 1902; Grand Prize Pertle Springs, 1902; Latour Trophy, Springfield, June, 1905.

MEDALS AWARDED.

Maker of All Styles of Photographs.

Visit this Studio and see for yourself the kind of work he is doing. + + + + +

The Pictures contained in this Year Book are all of my own work. + + + + +

1888

1906

J. H. CARTER,
DENTIST.

GROUND FLOOR,
No. 108 W. McPHERSON ST.

KIRKSVILLE, MO.

----- COAL AND WOOD -----

L. L. GLEASON & CO.,

PHONE 311

Best Domestic Coal in the City. We also have a good supply of

Stove Wood and Cord Wood.

PRICES REASONABLE
PROMPT DELIVERY...

Located near Wabash Depot.

KIRKSVILLE,
MISSOURI.

Spears' Steam Laundry

Helps Support
the Normal

And Respectfully Solicits the Support of All Students.

=====
Strictly High Grade Work.

PHONE 23.

214 North Franklin, Kirksville, Mo.

THE NEW STORE
FOR
Fancy Dry Goods, Carpets, Rugs, Draperies, Etc., Trunks and Bags.
EVERY ARTICLE STRICTLY NEW
M. P. THOMPSON & CO.,
SOUTH SIDE SQUARE.

714 S. Florence Ave.

Phone 46

RAY C. WADDILL,

The Grocery Man,

Sells Good Things to Eat.

CARRIES

STATIONERY AND FINE QUEENSWARE,
Fruits, Nuts and Candy a Specialty.

AGENCY FOR

Woolson Spice Co.'s Coffee and Spices

Students Cordially Invited to Make this Your Headquarters.

YOURS VERY TRULY,

RAY C. WADDILL,

Kirkville, Mo.

SENIORS '06.

RETAIL MARKET
OF

Burk Brothers Packing Co.,

Fresh Home Cured Meats
Pure Home Rendered Lard

Kirksville, Missouri.

We Make a Specialty of Ferndell Coffee, Teas and Spices, Dinner Party Canned Fruits, Vegetables and Empress Flour. - -

ONLY QUEENSWARE HOUSE IN THE CITY.

D. C. PIERCE,

Leader of Low Prices.

Phone 38 : Kirksville, Mo.

We Study ^{The} Market

on our lines that we may give our customers the biggest values for 100 cents that is obtainable.....

Quality First--Price a Close Second.

This policy, linked with hard work and courteous treatment, has made out store the best Hardware store in Northeast Missouri and trebled our business in three years. We invite your investigation into the merits of our goods. "The Malleable" and "Quick Meal" Ranges are not excelled and seldom equaled in their respective classes. "Detroit Vapor," self-generative, and "Insurance" generating gasoline stoves stand alone and at the top in their line. Pocket cutlery and razors are among our very strong points. Our stock is complete and of good variety. See us for first-class material and workmanship in.....

....Plumbing, Heating and Tinning....

We point with pardonable pride to many of the best homes in the city in which our work has been installed. We appreciate our friends very highly.

Very truly yours,

Grassle Bros. & Hansen.

ADAIR COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

Davidson's Shoe Parlors
South Side.

Carry Largest and Most Select stock of Latest Styles and Swellest Models, made by the Leading Manufacturers of America.

EXPERT FITTERS.

F. D. Maurer,
Shoemaker at

DAVIDSON'S SHOE PARLORS

I have installed a complete repair department, equal to any repair shop in the country. I repair shoes right. When we hand them back they look as though they were new shoes and had just come from the factory. Why? I have the machinery. I do not sole the shoes by hand, as that is crude and out of date. I will sew them on my new machine, and the edges and heels will look like new.

Try Me and Be Convinced!

BARBER SHOP.

LANE BROS.

FIRST CLASS SHOP.

EVERYTHING KNOWN
IN THE ART. ❧ ❧

103 South Franklin Street, First Shop north of P. O.
KIRKSVILLE, MO.

RUSSELL BROS., UNION MEAT MARKET.

PHONE 297.

210 North Franklin,

KIRKSVILLE, MO.

Harle Transfer Co.,

Livery, Cab and Transfer Line.

PROPRIETORS

CITY TRANSFER CO

Opposite Pool Hotel.

Telephone 42

J. T. ANGEVINE,

Undertaking and Picture framing.

Sheet Pictures and Frames in Stock. Cabinet
Work and Furniture.

Repairing Neatly Done.

Telephone, 126. . . .

Residence Phone, 49.

116 South Franklin

:

Kirksville, Mo.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The Next Regular Session of the American School of Osteopathy

OPENS SEPTEMBER 17, 1906.

Course of Study covers a period of three years of nine months each.

Equipment modern and complete in every department.

A New $35,000 Hospital and Heating Plant has just been built for the use of the school.

For catalogue. address

DR. WARREN HAMILTON,
Kirksville, Mo.

Real Estate Transactions

are safer when conducted through a real estate agent who possesses an extensive knowledge of values, titles, etc.

We are well posted locally and can supply full information on all classes of real estate on request.

INSURANCE WRITTEN.

NOTARY IN OFFICE.

HUMPHREY, KEYTE & CO.,
110 EAST WASHINGTON STREET, KIRKSVILLE, MO.

New and Second Hand Goods.

Our second-hand line of furniture, stoves, etc., are as nice and serviceable as new goods, and they cost you only about one-half as much

WE PAY GOOD PRICES FOR SEC-OND-HAND STUFF.

Students will not make a mistake by calling on us for all necessary articles.

D. C. OXER, The Second-Hand Man.

South of Baird National Bank.

Telephone 135.

West Side Square

C. A. ROBINSON,

General Merchandise.

Our Motto is: "Good Goods, Quick Sales and Small Profits."
.....One Price Cash House.....

