Alumni to be Honored at Homecoming Events

Several Truman alumni will be honored at Homecoming events this weekend.

Truman associate professor emeritus of accounting and former administrator Eugene Croarkin Sr., of Kirksville, Mo., graduated from Truman State University (formerly Northeast Missouri State Teachers College) with a B.S.E. in 1949, and an M.A. in business in 1952. He is Truman's 2005 Alumnus of the Year.

This year's young alumna of the year is Cindy Spiker of Urbandale, Iowa. Spiker graduated from Truman State University (then known as Northeast Missouri State University) with a bachelor of science degree in mathematics in 1993, and received her master of science degree in statistics from the University of Idaho in 1995. Spiker currently serves on Truman's Alumni Association Board of Directors and is president of Truman's Iowa Alumni Chapter.

Judge James and Shari (Powell) Reinhard will serve as the 2005 Parade Grand Marshals. She attended Centerville Community College and transferred to Truman State University (then known as Northeast Missouri State Teachers College) in 1956. She graduated in the summer of 1958 with a bachelor of science degree in education. Her major was vocational home economics. Shari began her teaching career at Mark Twain High School in Ralls County (Mo.), then taught vocational home economics at the high school in Paris, Mo. She served on the Paris Library Board, and for nine years was a member of the Hannibal Free Public Library Board, serving as president for one term. James entered Truman State University (then known as Northeast Missouri State Teachers College) in 1947. In 1950, he entered the University of Missouri School of Law graduating in 1953. In 1965, James was appointed to the Board of Regents of Truman when the school was named Northeast Missouri State Teachers College and served on the board until his resignation in November 1973. He was president of the board for six years, during which time the name of the school was changed from Northeast Missouri State Teachers College to Northeast Missouri State College to Northeast Missouri State University. James currently serves on the Truman State University Foundation Board of Directors and is a member of the State Historical Society Board of Trustees.

This year's Alumni Distinguished Service Awards go to Bill and Dianthe (Truitt) Cable and Kevin and Bonnie (Neuner) Kuebler.

Bill attended Truman State University (formerly Northeast Missouri State Teachers College) from 1952-54, and graduated from the University of Missouri in 1956 with a degree in journalism. Dianthe graduated from Truman with a B.S.E., music/instrumental emphasis, in 1960, and received an M.A. in guidance and counseling from Truman in 1977.

Bill began working for Truman in 1956 as the director of sports information, however after only two months was called to serve in the Army, mainly in Korea. Returning to the University in 1958, Bill dedicated a total of 37 years working at Truman, retiring in 1995. As active members of Truman's Kirksville Alumni Chapter, Bill and Dianthe were chosen as the chapter's "Outstanding Alumni of the Year" in 2000, and Dianthe has served as the chapter's treasurer since 1999.

Bonnie and Kevin Kuebler currently fund annual scholarships in both the Social Science and Business Divisions and are in the process of endowing a third scholarship. Bonnie is currently serving as the first female president of the Truman Alumni Association Board of Directors, and she has been an at-large member of the board since 2001. Bonnie graduated from Truman in 1987 with a bachelor of arts degree in pre-law/history, and she received her juris doctorate in 1990 from the University of Missouri-Columbia.

Kevin was a Pershing scholar and graduated from Truman in 1990 with a bachelor of science degree in accounting. Since leaving Truman, Kevin has served as president of Truman's St. Louis Alumni Chapter and was a founding member of the University's National Alumni Association Board. He currently serves on Truman's Business Division Advisory Board. Kevin and Bonnie have hosted receptions for the Truman sports teams as they have ventured into Illinois State University territory.

"Archaeology as Science:
Towards an Explanation of Archaeological Patterns of Cultural Variability"

Amber Johnson, presenter
assistant professor of anthropology

8 p.m. • Oct. 27
Violette Hall 1000

Reception to follow in the Violette Hall Commons.

Johnson seeks to explain global patterns of variability and change in human adaptations for roughly the last 30,000 years. In her research during the past few years, she has developed a strategy for comparing archaeological sequences around the world using culture history as the starting point for measuring the durations of a few general types of adaptations.

Pedestrian Crosswalk Safety Awareness will Continue Through Truman's Homecoming Week

The Truman State University Department of Public Safety and the Kirksville Police Department along with Sigma Kappa sorority will be sponsoring a Pedestrian Crosswalk Safety Awareness Program. The event will take place in conjunction with Homecoming week activities at Truman. Members of the Department of Public Safety and Sigma Kappa sorority will be handing out informational fliers and a treat to those seen using the crosswalks throughout the week at various times of the day. The Kirksville Police Department will increase patrols in the area, with special attention given to crosswalk violations. Also, the speed radar trailer provided by the Missouri State Highway Patrol, returns to campus and will be placed at different locations near crosswalks during the week.

Crosswalk safety is a growing concern on campus. Each year about 5,000 pedestrians are killed and 69,000 are injured in motor vehicle crashes, nationwide. According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) in 2004, in Missouri alone there were 81 pedestrians killed in accidents with motor vehicles. The Department of Public Safety would like to encourage pedestrians to use the crosswalks in and around campus as a means of safely crossing the streets. The Department would also like to make drivers more aware of the speed in which they travel on roads through campus.

"The goal of this program is to promote the awareness of pedestrians and drivers in and around campus and the need to use the crosswalks around campus," according to Tom Johnson, director of Public Safety. "I also hope this gets the message out in a fun way in keeping with the Homecoming festivities of the week. My goal is to make this an annual program to increase the safety of everyone around the Truman campus."

Wooldridge to Present Multimedia Events

A grant from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Mid America Arts Alliance is bringing multimedia artist Marc Wooldridge to Truman on Oct. 20 and Oct. 21.

Wooldridge is a composer and percussionist who accompanies the films he makes. He will discuss and demonstrate the creation of multimedia works at two afternoon workshops. Wooldridge is doing a lecture/performance for students interested in percussion at 12:30 p.m., Oct. 20, in Ophelia Parrish 2340. He is presenting to everyone interested in making films at 3:30 p.m., Oct. 20, in the Student Union Building Activities Room. A concert will be at 8 p.m. in Ophelia Parrish Performance Hall. It will feature four films, including two created by Wooldridge.

A composition workshop, "Rhythmic Implications of Recent Diatonic Theory: A presentation on using African rhythms in new ways," will take place from 9:30-10:20 a.m., Oct. 21, in Ophelia Parrish 2119.

Robert Martin, professor of education, who helped organized the event, said he was surprised that there has been so much interest.

"We've gotten help from all over campus to bring Marc here," Martin said. "This is a guy who can talk to people who think they don't like contemporary art, music, and film and get them to like it! He's definitely cutting edge. The events are open to everyone; people should feel free to just show up."

Watts to Deliver Kohlenberg-Towne Lecture

Steven Watts will deliver this year's Kohlenberg-Towne Lecture at 7 p.m., Oct. 25, in the Student Union Building, Activities Room. Watts, a professor of history at the University of Missouri-Columbia, will speak about the role Henry Ford played in shaping twentieth-century America. In particular, he will discuss the industrialist's profound impact on the shaping of consumer values and a culture of self-fulfillment.

Watts' talk will be based on his most recent book, "The People's Tycoon: Henry Ford and the American Century," published by Alfred A. Knopf. It has been favorably reviewed in venues such as the Los Angeles Times, New York Times, Chicago Tribune, Washington Post, Boston Globe, San Francisco Chronicle, Dallas News, Newsday, Miami Herald, Cleveland Plain Dealer, London Financial Times, Kansas City Star, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Fortune, and the Christian Science Monitor. The book also was chosen as a featured selection of the History Book Club for October. A book signing will follow the lecture.

Author of several well-received books in American history, Watts has most recently focused on biographies of figures who have helped shape modern American culture in diverse ways. His last book was a biography of Walt Disney, and he is currently at work on a life of Hugh Hefner.

The Kohlenberg-Towne Lecture series was inaugurated in honor of Gilbert Kohlenberg and Ruth Towne in 1988, upon the occasion of their retirement from the history faculty. Although both of them are now deceased, their memory lives on in these lectures by prominent visiting scholars.

The lecture is intended for a broad audience and is open to the public. For more information, contact Sally West, associate professor of history, at 785.7641.

Opportunities Available to Apply for Missouri Government Internship Program

Students still have a chance to turn in completed Missouri Government Internship Program applications. They are due at 5 p.m., Oct. 24, in McClain Hall 101. The program offers a unique opportunity for students to intern at the Capitol in Jefferson City, Mo., with a public official, legislator or state agency during the spring 2006 semester. The internship, which is open to all majors, provides an inside look at state government.

Applications are available in the Public Relations Office in McClain Hall 101 or online at http://career.truman.edu/student/internship/mogov_app.pdf. A screening committee will review the applications. The second round of interviews will be conducted Oct. 26 for the spring 2006 legislative internships.

Interested students can contact Candy Young, professor of political science, at 785-4650 or Heidi Templeton, director of public relations, at 785-4016 for more information.

New Music Festival to Take Place Oct. 27-28

The Truman State University Division of Fine Arts, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Sigma Alpha Iota and The Mostly Live Composers Society are pleased to announce the 2005 Truman State University New Music Festival, which will take place Oct. 27 and Oct. 28. The festival will feature guest composer Paul Hayden, winner of the international 2005 Truman State University Composition Competition, who will speak to music classes, work with student composers in a master class, and rehearse several of his works with Truman musicians.

Two concerts will be presented during the festival. The concerts will include performances of music by Hayden, Truman faculty and student composers, and other contemporary composers.

The Truman State Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Sam McClure, will premiere Hayden's "Four Cajun Songs," featuring Thomas Hueber, professor of music at Truman, at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 27, in the Ophelia Parrish Performance

Hall. McClure is an associate professor of music at Truman. This work was co-commissioned by the University's chapters of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia and Sigma Alpha Iota. In addition to the Symphony Orchestra, the Truman State University Wind Symphony, Cantoria, Brass Choir and other Truman musicians will perform in this concert.

Chamber music by Hayden, Truman composers and other contemporary composers will be performed from 1:30-3 p.m., Oct. 28, in the Ophelia Parrish Performance Hall. The program will feature Katherine Kemler, professor of flute at Louisiana State University, along with Truman faculty and student musicians.

Guest composer Hayden will talk about his music at both concerts.

The public is cordially invited to attend these free events. For further information, contact Warren Gooch, professor of music at Truman, at wgooch@truman.edu or 785-4429.

Career Expo

1-5 p.m. • Oct. 26
Student Union Building

Each semester, approximately 100 companies come to Truman's campus to recruit students of all majors. Now is the time for students to apply for companies who are interviewing the following day. Students may simply go to <http://career.truman.edu> and click on eRecruiting to apply for each company they are interested in. "Bulldogs" is the token password to sign-in to eRecruiting. If you have any questions, call the Career Center at 785-4353.

The Career Center doesn't want students going into Expo cold, so here are some events called "Map Out Your Future," which are designed to be helpful.
