Truman to Welcome Families Oct. 7 to Family Day 2006

A variety of activities have been planned for Truman students and their families this weekend as part of the annual Family Day. Faculty, staff and their families also are invited to meet the visiting families and share in the events.

Following tradition, this year's events are designed to provide families with information as well as opportunities for a wide variety of entertainment from the University.

Several events occur before Family Day officially begins. The men's and women's swim teams will have a purple/white intrasquad meet at 6 p.m. Oct. 6 in the Natatorium located in Pershing Building. The women's volleyball team will take on Missouri Southern at 7 p.m. Oct. 6 in Pershing Arena. In addition, there will be Latin dance lessons followed by a dance beginning at 8 p.m. Oct. 6 in West Campus Suites. The Jazz Band will perform a Big Bands concert at 8 p.m. Oct. 6 in Baldwin Auditorium.

Activities kick off at 8 a.m. Oct. 7 with coffee and doughnuts on the Student Union Mall.

Parent Seminars will follow the reception at 9 a.m. in the SUB Conference Room and SUB Activities Room.

The Division of Business and Accountancy will have an open house from 10-10:50 a.m. on the second floor of Violette Hall.

The festivities move to Baldwin Auditorium at 11 a.m., where parents will hear from President Barbara Dixon, Student Senate President Angela Crawford, a senior interdisciplinary studies major, from Olathe, Kan., and members of the Parents Council.

After the assembly, families are invited to a barbecue-style lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in Red Barn Park. The cost of the lunch is $6.25 per person and must be purchased in advance at the Public Relations Office in McClain Hall 101. Students with a purchased meal plan may eat for free with their Truman ID.

The Eighth Annual Festival Centennial will take place from 11 a.m.-7 p.m. in the Centennial Hall Courtyard.

Tours of the West Campus Suites, the newest addition to Truman's campus, will be given from 1-3 p.m.

Families with an interest in sports will have a full slate to choose from. At noon, the Truman men's and women's swim teams will have their annual alumni swim meet at the Natatorium. The football team takes on Missouri Southern at 2 p.m. in Stokes Stadium. Tickets for the game can be purchased at 8 a.m. at Reception on the Mall. The Truman volleyball team will conclude the sporting events for the day, when it matches up against Fort Hays State (Kan.) at 7 p.m. in Pershing Arena.

Entertainment continues through the evening with an opening performance by Franklin Street at 7:30 p.m. followed by juggling, skateboarding comedian Mad Chad Taylor at 8 p.m. in Baldwin Auditorium. Admission is $2. Students with a Truman ID get in free. Seating begins at 7 p.m.

The Wind Symphony band, the University Orchestra and the Cantoria singers will perform at 2 p.m. Oct. 8 in Baldwin Auditorium.

Foundation Scholarships Available

The Truman State University Foundation is pleased to announce that there are scholarships available for Truman students in the spring 2007 semester. The majority of Foundation scholarships are advertised in January for the following academic year, but these scholarships have not yet been awarded for 2006-2007. They will be awarded in full in the spring of 2007.

Scholarships are available in the following categories: General, Athletics, Business & Accountancy, Education, Fine Arts, Nursing, Language & Literature, Math & CS, and Science. Applications are available at www.truman.edu, Current Students, Foundation Scholarships or click here: <https://secure.truman.edu/isupport/s/>.

New honors program worksheets and up-to-date information about the program will be presented. Refreshments will be served, and piano music will accompany the event.

The reception is sponsored by The General Honors Committee and the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs (VPAA).

Contact the VPAA office at 785.4109 or e-mail Patricia Burton at ss84@truman.edu for more information.

Breast Cancer Awareness Week to Honor Breast Cancer Survivors

As part of the nationwide Breast Cancer Awareness Month in October, Breast Cancer Awareness Week will take place on the Truman campus.

A full slate of activities is planned to honor those with breast cancer, as well as to celebrate their courage and grace. Throughout the week, service sorority Alpha Sigma Gamma will be sponsoring "Bras on the Quad" on the University Quadrangle to help raise awareness for breast cancer. People are invited to stop by their tables to vote on their favorite bra, buy T-shirts to support breast cancer research and receive more information on breast cancer awareness.

Deb Bollman from the Young Survivor's Coalition will be speaking about her experiences with breast cancer from 7-8:30 p.m. Oct. 3 in Magruder Hall 2001. Alpha Sigma Gamma is sponsoring the event.

A Breast Cancer Awareness Week Vigil, sponsored by Alpha Sigma Gamma, will take place from 8-9 p.m. Oct. 5 at the Flame to the Second Century, located directly north of Kirk Memorial. The vigil will be held in remembrance of breast cancer victims.

The week concludes with "Passionately Pink for the Cure" on Oct. 6. Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to wear pink that day to support the Passionately Pink for the Cure program in recognition of Breast Cancer Awareness Week. Alpha Sigma Gamma is sponsoring the campus portion of this event. The Cancer Support Group of Kirksville is sponsoring the community effort on behalf of the Mid-Missouri Affiliate of the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation.

Contact Nadia Mozaffar at nsm352@truman.edu, or by phone at 785.5059 for more information.

Truman Forensic Union Scores Big at National and Regional Tournaments

Students from Truman State University's Forensic Union opened up their 2006-2007 schedule with great success at the Top of the Rockies Invitational in Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 16-17, and at the Cardinal Classic Round Robin and Show-Me Invitational, both held in Liberty, Mo., Sept. 22-24.

At the Top of the Rockies Invitational, the team of Trevor Alexander, a senior economics major from Gladstone, Mo., and Stefani Wittenauer, a senior communications major from Belleville, Ill., reached the double-octafinal elimination round in parliamentary debate before losing to a team from the United States Air Force Academy. Alexander and Dylan Rothermel, a junior economics major from Homewood, Ill., both reached the octafinal ("sweet 16") round in Lincoln-Douglas debate.

Truman's regional season opener was a two-part event, with the team participating in both the Cardinal Classic Round Robin, hosted by William Jewell College, and the Show-Me Invitational, co-hosted by William Jewell College and Truman State University. Both events took place on the William Jewell campus in Liberty, Mo.

Sara Archer, a junior accounting major from Riverside, Mo., and Keith Schnakenberg, a senior political science major from Buffalo, Mo., represented Truman at the invitation-only Cardinal Classic Round Robin, Sept. 22. The pair reached the semifinal round of the Round Robin tournament before losing to a team from the Creighton University (Neb.).

The Show-Me Invitational witnessed three Truman parliamentary debate teams in elimination rounds. The junior varsity pair of Kevin Haynie, a sophomore political science major from St. Louis, and Nick Stephens, a freshman physics major from Arenzville, Ill., made the semifinals of their division. Rothermel and partner Mark Buchheit, a freshman history major from Carthage, Mo., reached octafinals of the varsity division along with Archer and Schnakenberg.

Schnakenberg and Haynie were the top individual finishers for Truman at the Show-Me Invitational, finishing as the ninth-best speaker in the varsity division, and the third-best speaker in the junior varsity division, respectively.

Truman shared third-place overall sweepstakes honors with Drury University at the tournament.

Nursing Transcultural Program in the Philippines Presentation

8 p.m. • Oct. 3 • Student Union Building Alumni Room

Truman nursing students who studied abroad last summer as part of the program will give presentations on their experiences. Refreshments will be provided.

NOTABLES

Lynn Rose, associate professor of history, had dozens of her entries and commentaries published in the five-volume Encyclopedia of Disability (Sage Publications, 2006), for which she served as an International Advisory Board Member. With special thanks to Patrick Lecaque, director of the Center for International Education (CIE) and professor of French, and his staff at the CIE, Rose, together with Steven Reschly, associate professor of history, facilitated "The Sacred Feminine in Greece," a study abroad course, in June 2006. On July 6, 2006, Rose presented "Teaching Gilgamesh: The Historical Context of Obliteration" at the International Conference on New Directions in the Humanities, in Tunis, Tunisia. The resulting essay, "Gilgamesh in the Historical Context of Archaeology and Imperialism," co-authored with Truman history majors Shannon Crowder, a senior from Austin, Texas; Shahronu Rezaiekhaliq, a junior from Kansas City, Mo.; and Jennifer Roberts, a senior from Bloomington, Ill.; is undergoing peer review for publication in the International Journal of the Humanities. Rose is currently working on a translation and commentary of a Greek and Latin fragment (Jacoby, FGRH Annon. 744) on the destruction of Carthage, for Brill Academic Publishers.

Jerrold Hirsch, professor of history, has an essay, "Cultural Strategies: The Seegers and B.A. Botkin as Friends and Allies," forthcoming in Ruth Crawford Seeger's Worlds: Innovation and Tradition in Twentieth-century American Music, ed. Ray Alen and Ellie M. Hisama, University of Rochester Press.
