Exploring the Transition to Truman

5:30-7 p.m. • Sept. 4
Magruder Hall 1099

Join Jason Miller, director of the STEP program, for a discussion for students who recently (and not so recently) transferred to Truman from other universities or colleges. The discussion will be driven by the questions and thoughts of those who attend and the following topics:

- Recognizing Truman's academic expectations
 - Importance of extracurricular activities and student organizations
 - Transferring courses
 - Using campus resources effectively
 - Other hidden campus gems
- Dinner will be provided.

For additional information, point your browser to <http://step.truman.edu> and go to the News, Upcoming Events and Deadlines page.

This workshop is open to all interested faculty, staff and science, mathematics and computer science majors and minors.

First year and transfer students are strongly encouraged to attend.

The University Art Gallery Hosts Printmaking Exhibition Reception

6 p.m. • Sept. 4

The University Art Gallery at Truman State University will be presenting "25 Years of Printmaking," a retrospective exhibition of work by Jim Jereb, professor of art and masterprinter.

The show will be on display until Oct. 9.

Bohons Endow Study Abroad Fund

Dr. Stan and Doris Bohon of Kirksville have established an endowed fund designed to assist students who participate in Truman's renowned study abroad program.

The inaugural award of $500 will be presented to a student for the spring 2008 semester.

The fund was established by the longtime Kirksville residents in honor of their association with the University and to provide greater access to study abroad opportunities for students. Current students who have a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher, are natives of one of the original 25 counties of the Northeast region of normal schools, and have a record of service in civic, church and school activities will be considered for the award.

Doris Bohon is a 1943 graduate of Truman and served two terms on the Foundation Board of Directors. She is also a recipient of Truman's Distinguished Alumni Service Award. Stan Bohon operated a dental practice in Kirksville for many years. The Bohons are retired and spend the winters in Fort Myers, Fla.

The gift is part of Truman State University's first-ever comprehensive campaign titled "Bright Minds, Bright Futures" with a goal of $30 million to generate private support for student scholarships, student enrichment initiatives, faculty development and enhancements to the athletic program.

Dr. Ruth Towne Museum Project Nears Construction Phase

Plans are moving forward to establish the Ruth Warner Towne Museum and Visitors Center at Truman State University.

The St. Louis-based architectural firm of HKW has completed a schematic design study to convert the former Kirksville Fire Station into a museum and visitors center. The plan has been approved by Truman's Board of Governors and is now in the final design stages.

The project will be let for bids late in fall 2007, with construction to follow. An estimated grand opening will follow at a date to be determined.

In addition, Focus Communications has been retained to assist the University with the design and development of the museum's content. The firm has extensive experience in working with museums in the Midwest.

The 8,600 square foot multi-purpose facility will house the Ruth Warner Towne Museum and the University Office of Admissions. The building provides for offices and meeting space and functions as a welcoming environment to greet prospective students to the campus.

The joint Museum-Admissions combination takes advantage of the Museum as a place for students and parents to become acquainted with Truman State University and its rich heritage. Additionally, the Museum will be available to the general public and any visitor to campus to view the exhibits. The Museum will also host select University receptions and gatherings.

"This will be a wonderful first impression of the entire University," said University President Barbara Dixon.

"We have a beautiful campus, but this facility will serve as our welcome center, a place that radiates excitement and learning."

Approximately 4,000 square feet will be devoted to the Museum which will feature multi-media and electronic exhibits that are changing, dynamic and interactive. The space will also serve as an educational resource and learning environment for Truman students and professors, as well as regional school-age children.

The Museum will also offer the University an opportunity to consolidate its museums system and collections, including the EM Violette Museum, as well as the development of an overall museums strategic plan.

The facility will be financed through a combination of private gifts and University funds. The naming gift was received through a one million dollar bequest from Dr. Ruth Towne in December 1999. A portion of Towne's bequest was earmarked for construction, with the majority designated as endowment to provide a lasting resource for museum operations and improvements.

At the time, Towne's bequest was the largest gift ever received by the University. She retired from Truman in 1988 as professor emeritus of history and dean emeritus of graduate studies following a 36-year teaching career at the University.

Cox, Herrera and Hopkins-Jorn Receive Lee Advising Award

Carolyn Cox, associate professor of health; José Herrera, associate professor of biology; and Liz Hopkins-Jorn, instructor in health and exercise sciences; are the 2006-2007 William O'Donnell Lee Advising Award recipients.

Dr. Jeanne Stephens Lee Blackmar established the Lee Advising Award in honor of her late husband who was a member and chair of the University's Board of Regents during the 1970s. The award pays tribute to excellent advisers, encourages professional development and demonstrates the importance of academic advising on the Truman campus.

Cox, Herrera and Hopkins-Jorn will each receive a $1,000 development fund to be used for travel to advising conferences or institutes, research materials and other relevant items. All full-time faculty advisers are eligible for the annual award.

Recipients of the Lee Advising Award are nominated by students and colleagues and are ultimately selected by a committee.

Phi Beta Lambda Chapter Members Receive Awards at National Leadership Conference

The Phi Beta Lambda National Leadership Conference took place in Chicago from June 23-26. Truman State University members and advisers participated. Several students were recognized at the Awards of Excellence Program.

Amy Rowden, an economics major from Dixon, Mo., received first place in economics analysis and decision making. She also received third place for financial concepts.

Lisa Hoffmann, a pre-business administration major from Jefferson City, Mo., received third place in parliamentary procedure team.

Stella Costello, a pre-accounting major from Grayslake, Ill., received 10th place in hospitality management.

Erin Lueker, a history major from Buffalo, Mo., received 10th place in impromptu speaking.

Alicia Stewart, a history major from Clinton, Mo., was elected National North Central Region vice president for 2007-2008.

Phi Beta Lambda is an educational association of postsecondary student members preparing for careers in business. There are more than 11,000 active members in the United States. Missouri has almost 600 members in 30 chapters.

Truman's United Way Campaign Kicks Off

Truman's United Way Campaign kicked off Aug. 24. All faculty and staff members received information about the campaign in their campus mailboxes. The United Way thanks everyone who has already contributed. If you have any questions, please contact Teri Heckert at heckert@truman.edu or Brad Chambers at bchambers@truman.edu. During the campaign, Heckert and Chambers will answer FAQs in the Truman Today.

Below is one question that they heard last year: Q: "If I'm already giving to one of the United Way agencies, is there any reason to instead give through the United Way?"

A: Heckert and her husband had the same question. They used to give directly to Victim Support Services (VSS). The United Way raises more money for VSS than VSS could raise on its own. As a result, when people give through the United Way, when they contribute to this fund-raising effort; they are part of the bigger picture. In addition, they love the convenience of payroll deduction, which is an option when giving through the United Way.

NOTABLES

Sarah Bloch, a senior biology major, presented her research with Barbara Kramer, associate professor of chemistry, at the International Conference on Environmental Science and Technology Aug. 7 in Houston, Texas. Her poster titled "Study of Safe Soil Amendments to Enhance Lead Phytoremediation" was selected for top honors from among posters given by faculty and graduate students from around the world. Bloch's research was funded by Truman's NSF Next-STEP program and the VPAA Alumni Stipend.

Gregory Jones, professor of music, traveled to the Greek island of Corfu in July to teach in the 5th Ionian Academy of Music. Jones joined members of the Royal Concertgebouw Orchestra, the Austrian Mnozil Brass, and internationally acclaimed trombone soloist Christian Lindberg in offering a series of brass masterclasses and performances for students and the public. This seminar attracted student participants from Europe, the Middle East, America, and Canada, among them, Truman sophomore trumpet major, Paul Hermanson.

Joaquin Maldonado-Class, associate professor of Spanish, presented a paper titled "Rigoberta Menchú: entre la guerra civil y las guerras culturales" at the First International Congress "Desmarginalización de las tendencias literarias y lingüísticas en América" celebrated at the Universidad Nacional Mayor de San Marcos (Unidad de Postgrado) Lima, Peru.

Marc Rice, associate professor of musicology, presented a lecture titled "Ethnomusicology and Fieldwork in Louisiana" at the Universidade Federal da Bahia in Salvador, Brazil, in June.

Shasserre Named New Public Relations Intern

The Public Relations Office has announced Sarah Shasserre, a senior public communication major, as intern for the fall semester.

Shasserre is from St. Louis, and is a 2004 graduate of St. Joseph's Academy. She is the daughter of Stephen and Karen Shasserre and the oldest of two children.

As the intern, she will assist in the writing, producing and distributing of the University newsletter, Truman Today, as well as posting it online. She will also be responsible for editing the calendar on campus Channel 36, writing press releases and performing various office tasks.

At Truman, Shasserre is currently the vice president of public relations and recruitment of social sorority Alpha Sigma Alpha, and she previously served as the social chairman. She also previously served as the vice president of communication honors fraternity Lambda Pi Eta. She is currently a member of Greek honors fraternity Order of Omega and the Advertising and Public Relations Organization.

Shasserre's interest in written communication and obtaining experience in other various communication outlets led her to this position.

TruFit Faculty/Staff Wellness Program Returns This Fall

People want to make changes in their health behaviors and just have a difficult time sticking with their good intentions. Are you one of these people?

Time to sign up for the Fall 2007 TruFit Wellness program designed for faculty and staff members looking to make changes to their health.

TruFit Wellness is a 12-week education and exercise program focused on teaching group members the skills needed to empower lifetime health behavior changes.

Fall session will incorporate behavior education sessions to assist members in learning:

- Creating motivation for change
- Planning strategies for change
- Combating negative thoughts
- Goal setting for success
- Over coming obstacles
- Nutrition tips and education

Participants will have a choice in participating in either or both a walking program or a group exercise class led by Karen Skoch, director fitness/wellness at the Student Recreation Center.

TruFit members will meet 12:30-1:30 p.m. on Wednesday afternoons. Activity options will include walking on Mondays from 12:30-1:30 p.m. and/or group exercise class on Fridays from noon-1 p.m.

Meetings will begin Sept. 12 and continue through Dec. 7.

Any Truman faculty or staff member who is not currently engaging in regular physical activity is encouraged to join.

Contact Jennifer Hurst at 665.4464 or jhurst@truman.edu for more information.

Student Affairs is looking for three students to assist with developing media presentations that will be used as part of the summer orientation program. The videos will consist of short vignettes depicting scenarios that will help new students and their parents think about some of the issues they might confront during the first year of college. Student Affairs is seeking a student with a strong background in creative writing to help with the script; a student with a theatre background to direct and coordinate the acting; and a student with filming and graphic skills to coordinate the media production process. These three students along with members of the Student Affairs staff will work as a team to ensure a professional and effective final product. Students may use the time spent in this activity for scholarship hours or will receive a small stipend for their work. If you are interested please send a letter to Lou Ann Gilchrist, Dean of Student Affairs, KB 1112, 100 E. Normal, Kirksville, MO 63501 or at leg@truman.edu. The letter should address the following:

1. Indicate the student role for which you are applying.
2. Outline your qualifications for the project
3. List name and contact information for two references who can comment on the quality of your work in role for which you are applying.

To be considered for the position, you will need to have your application to Gilchrist by Sept. 21. If you have questions please feel free to contact Student Affairs at 785.4111 or leg@truman.edu. Student Affairs also has a Web site that students can go to at <http://saffairs.truman.edu/apply.asp>.

The Truman community is invited to attend the 15th annual McNair Research Presentations from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Sept. 26 in Violette Hall 1000.
