Barbara Early-Vreeland Lecture To Feature Werner Gundersheimer

"Renaissance Pain: Shame and Jealousy in Sixteenth Century Italian Thought" is the topic of this year's Barbara Early-Vreeland Lecture in History. Werner Gundersheimer, director of The Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington, D.C., will present the lecture at 4 p.m., Oct. 8, in the SUB Alumni Room.

Werner Gundersheimer

With a focus on European history, Gundersheimer has also held positions at Amherst College, University of Pennsylvania, Tel Aviv University, Swarthmore College, Johns Hopkins and the University of Wisconsin. At the University of Pennsylvania, he served as chairman for the Department of History and the director for the Center of Italian Studies.

In addition to numerous articles, Gundersheimer has written seven books. These are titled, Life and Works of Louis LeRoy; The Italian Renaissance; French Humanism, 1470-1600; Les simulachres et histories faces de la mort; Art and Life at the Court of Ercole Id'Este: The 'De triumphis religionis' of Giovanni Sabadino degli Arienti; Ferrara: The Style of a Renaissance Despotism; and Ferrara estense: Lo stile del potere.

Gundersheimer also serves as senator-at-large for Phi Beta Kappa and is on the board of directors for the National Humanities Alliance. He is also on the advisory board for the University of Maryland Center for Renaissance and Baroque Studies and serves on the board of trustees for Film America and the Medici Foundation.

His affiliations include the American Historical Association, the Renaissance Society of America, the Century Association and the Grolier Club.

Gundersheimer received his bachelor's degree magna cum laude from Amherst College and his master's and doctoral degrees from Harvard University.

Joseph Vreeland established the Barbara Early-Vreeland Lectureship in History through the Truman Development Fund in memory of his wife six years ago. Barbara Early-Vreeland graduated magna cum laude from Truman in 1973 with bachelor's degrees in history and French.

Campus to Kick Off United Way Drive

Truman State University will officially begin its 1998 United Way drive at a breakfast for group leaders 7:30 a.m., Oct. 1, in the SUB Georgian Room. This year's United Way theme is, "The Power of You."

The $45,000 campus drive is co-chaired by Paulina Tramel, admissions, and David Nichols, professor of music. Seniors Sarah Lutter, a biology major from St. Louis, and Tracy Reynolds, a communication and political science double major from Queen City, Mo., are co-chairs of a 10-member student committee and will lead the $6,000 student drive. The overall Adair County Goal is $250,000.

Updates on the drive, as well as summaries of the 14 local agencies that are funded by the Adair County United Way, will be included in future issues of the Truman Today.

Charley's Aunt to Run Oct. 6-9

The Fine Arts Division will present Brandon Thomas' farce, "Charley's Aunt," at 8 p.m., Oct. 6-9, and 2 p.m., Oct. 10, in Baldwin Auditorium. Set at the turn of the century, the play occurs at Oxford, England's most-respected institute of higher learning, and explores the ways in which two young men win the girls of their dreams.

Jack and Charles, enamored with Kitty Verdun and Miss Spettigue, invite the girls to their rooms for a luncheon with Charley's wealthy aunt, who will be visiting from Brazil. The two young courtiers are ready to profess their love to the girls when the aunt sends word that she is postponing her visit.

In a confusion of love and impatience, the boys decide to find a replacement for Charlie's aunt. Thus, a fellow Oxford chum is transformed into the skirt-wearing, lace-sporting aunt and is introduced to the girls, Jack's father and Miss Spettigue's guardian, Steven Spettigue. Charley's aunt is received well by the sweethearts, earning hugs and kisses, and by the men, who both make advances on her. But then the real aunt shows up, and a cavalcade of confused hilarity ensues.

The performance is set in the round with all of the seating on the stage, so seating is limited for all the performances. Tickets can be reserved in advance for $1 at the theater box office, Baldwin Hall first floor. The box office is open from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

General Honors Reception To Be Held

Truman's General Honors Program will be the focus of an informational reception at 4:45 p.m., Oct. 8 in the SUB Spanish Room.

Truman's General Honors Program offers outstanding students the opportunity to select rigorous courses in the liberal arts and sciences component of their program. General Honors in arts and sciences will be awarded to graduating seniors who have completed five approved courses, with at least one from each of the four areas of mathematics, natural science, social science and humanities, with a grade point average of at least 3.5 (on a 4.0 scale) in those five courses.

Students who complete a single undergraduate major may not satisfy general honors requirements with any course in their major field. All students are eligible to pursue general honors requirements by taking the courses designated by the respective disciplines as being those courses whose successful completion by a non-major is especially noteworthy.

The Phi Beta Kappa Association of Northeast Missouri sponsors award presentations for General Honors graduates. Recipients wear their medals with their academic regalia during their graduation ceremony. Medals feature the lamp of learning and are hung from purple and white ribbons.

May 1998 General Honors

Eleven May 1998 graduates received General Honors. Honorees included James Thomas Bang (economics, BA, BS; minor in German), James Leslie Bopp (physics, BS; minors in mathematics, philosophy and religion), Vladimir Jirinec (computer science, BS; mathematics, BS), Karen Ann Kuehne (English, BA; minor in women's studies), Hernal H. Patel (philosophy and religion, BA; biology, BS), Mark John Pecaut (physics, BS; mathematics, BS), Adam Quint Pothast (philosophy and religion, BA; English, BA), Jennifer Ann Raisley (French, BA; minor in English), Samdra Marie Upchurch (psychology, BS), Jennifer Anne Wilcox (physics, BA; minor in mathematics), and James Albert Wilke (English, BA; minor in philosophy and religion).

Two Shakespeare Plays To Be Featured

The Shenandoah Shakespeare Express, an 11-person acting company, will present two of Shakespeare's plays this week. The company will perform "The Taming of the Shrew," 8 p.m., Sept. 30 in Baldwin Auditorium, and "Richard III," 8 p.m., Oct. 1, in Baldwin Auditorium. Both performances are free and do not require advance ticket reservations.

Based in Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, the globe-trotting Express believes Shakespeare's plays work best when performed under the conditions for which they were originally designed. All the company's performances take about two hours, are performed on a bare stage, have the house lights up with no intermission and feature considerable interaction between players and audience.

Richard III is haunted by ghosts

The SSE's goal is "to strip away 400 years of accumulated theatrical apparatus from Shakespeare productions and restore the original dynamic built into the language of Shakespeare's plays."

In the 10 years since its inception in 1988, the SSE has played in 38 states and five countries, including visits to the Edinburgh International Fringe Festival in Scotland and the Folger Shakespeare Library's Elizabethan Theatre in Washington, D.C. In addition, the troupe has performed at hundreds of high schools, colleges and universities across North America.

The performances are being sponsored by the Language and Literature Division and Missouri and Ryle South Residential Colleges.

Event Honors Mahatma Ghandi's Birth

Truman State University and the Arts Academy of Bharata present an "Evening of Classical Indian Music" featuring Nandkishor Muley on the santur and Abhijit Banerjee on the tabla, 8 p.m., Oct. 2, in the SUB Georgian Room.

This event, sponsored by Multicultural Affairs, the Language and Literature Division and Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, commemorates the birth of Mahatma Ghandi (1869-1948).

Muley was born in a family, rich in the ancestral tradition of Indian music. His grandfather was a kintankar, a minstrel of devotional music and raconteur of mythological tales in temples. His father, Dattatreya Muley, was an acknowledged exponent of veena, a lute-like instrument and vocal arts.

Truman athletics finished in a 16th-place tie out of 189 institutions in the Sear's Directors' Cup ranking. The Bulldogs earned points for national finishes in men's soccer, women's soccer, men's swimming, women's swimming, women's tennis, wrestling, men's indoor track and field and women's outdoor track and field. It is the highest finish for Truman in the three years the cup has been awarded on the Division II level. The award is presented annually to the best overall athletics program.

Truman's Gamma Rho Chapter of Eta Sigma Gamma will be presented the Small Chapter of the Year for 1998 award by the National Office of Eta Sigma Gamma, Oct. 10, at the annual meeting in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Philip Wilson, assistant professor of the history of science, recently delivered the Pearson Memorial humanities lecture at Southern Illinois University School of Medicine. His presentation was titled, "Controlling Heredity: A History of Eugenics in the United States." Pearson Museum Curator Barbara Mason created a special exhibit, "Whither Genetics and Eugenics," to accompany the event. Wilson also delivered an invited address, "Arnold Guyot (1807-1884) and the Pestalozzian Approach to Geology Education: A Model for 21st-Century Science" at the Commission Internationale de l'Histoire des Sciences Geologiques convened at the Universite de Neuchatel, Neuchatel, Switzerland.

Muley became infatuated with the santur because of its soothing and melodious sound. The santur originated as a fold instrument in the north Indian state of Kashmir. Santur, which means 100 strings, is known in Sanscrit as, "Shanta Tantri Vina (lute with 100 strings)." The santur is played with a pair of wooden sticks and produces sounds similar to the harp.

Muley holds a master's degree in dance from Maharaja Sayajiroo University and diplomas in tabla and vocal music. He currently teaches Indian music and dance in the central Florida region, sponsored by the Asian Cultural Association, Rollins College and Stetson University.

In India, Muley is an accredited santur artist on the Akashvani network and in Doordarshan.

A catalogue and poster from A Retrospective Exhibition of Works in America are available at the University Art Gallery, Ophelia Parrish. The exhibit featuring the works of William Unger is on display until Oct. 25 in the Gallery.

The Gallery is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday and noon to 4 p.m. Saturday.

The four-color catalogue is available with a $15 or more donation to the Unger Retrospective Fund; the poster, with a $3 or more donation. All proceeds will benefit Truman student endowments.

In April 1997, the University and the William E. Unger Retrospective Committee established The William E. Unger Retrospective Fund to honor and promote the spirit and teaching ideals of William E. Unger through the production of the retrospective catalogue and art exhibit. The other goals of the Fund are the creation of an endowed chair for art and art history in the Fine Arts Division, as well as promotion of the currently endowed William E. Unger Memorial Scholarship.
