Truman Welcomes Families This Weekend

A variety of activities have been planned this weekend for Truman students and their families as part of Family Day. Faculty, staff and their families are also invited to meet the visiting families and share in the day's events.

The events will kick off on Friday evening with a jazz ensemble concert at 8 p.m. in Baldwin Auditorium.

Saturday's slate of events begins with Morning on the Mall from 10-11 a.m. Hosted by the Truman Parent's Council, families are invited to the Student Union mall for coffee and donuts. In case of rain, this event will be held in the SUB Activities Room.

Events will move indoors to Baldwin Auditorium at 11 a.m., when Truman's President, Jack Magruder, and Student Senate President Ken Hussey will formally welcome families to campus. Hussey is a senior political science major from St. Charles, Mo., and is the son of Tom and Ginny Hussey. Truman's Franklin Street Singers will provide entertainment.

Also at 11 a.m., in Pershing Arena, the volleyball team will take on Emporia State University. At noon, the women's soccer team meets Rockhurst University. Admission to both events is free.

Following the assembly, families are invited to bring blankets or lawn chairs and enjoy a picnic-style lunch at Red Barn Park from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. Tickets are $4 and must be purchased in advance by calling the Public Relations Office at 785.4016. Student lunches are free with student IDs. In case of rain, the picnic will be held in the Small Gymnasium in Pershing Building.

After lunch, families can catch the excitement at Stokes Stadium as the Bulldog football team strives to defeat Central Missouri

State University. Game time is 2 p.m. and tickets may be purchased at the gate; the cost is $5 for adults and $3 for children and senior citizens. Reserved seating costs $7.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at the Truman athletic box office (during the week) and at Morning on the Mall earlier in the day. Students, faculty and staff are admitted free to general admission seating with their University IDs.

Throughout the day, families may enjoy the 27th Annual Red Barn Arts and Crafts Festival, sponsored by the Kirksville Arts and Crafts Association. The festival runs from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. at the Kirksville Court House Square and features local craftsmen and artisans who exhibit and sell their work.

Ventriloquist Dan Horn will provide evening entertainment at 7 p.m. in Baldwin Auditorium. Sponsored by the Student Activities Board, the event is free to students with a Truman ID. Tickets will be available for family members throughout the day for $3 per person.

A memorial concert will culminate the weekend's activities at 2 p.m., Oct. 8, in Baldwin Auditorium. The concert will honor Dr. Michael Hooley, head of Truman's percussion studies for ten years. A number of Hooley's former students will perform with the University Wind Symphony under the direction of Dan Peterson. Admission to the event is free.

For additional information about any of the Family Day events, call the Public Relations Office from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. at 785.4016 or visit the Family Day website at www.truman.edu/newsevents/familyday.htm. A copy of the new hotel/motel guide may also be accessed online at the same web address.

United Way Kicks Off Campus Drive

The 2001 United Way campus fund drive at Truman State University will kick off with a noon luncheon Tuesday.

Group leaders from across the campus will receive campaign folders at the luncheon. These volunteers will give Truman employees the opportunity to contribute and help people in Adair and surrounding counties via the campus drive.

United Way is an organization of agencies that serve the needs of the community by applying goals relative to health, welfare and youth guidance services. One campaign each year keeps the cost of raising funds low and contributors can be assured that most of every dollar goes directly to agency assistance.

Fifteen agencies are served by the Adair County United Way. They are Adair County Family YMCA, Adair County 4-H Council, American Red Cross/Adair County Chapter, Boy Scouts of America/

Great Rivers Council, Christian Community Clinic, Civil Air Patrol, Community Sheltered Workshop, Girl Scouts of Becky Thatcher Area, Hospice 2000, Kirksville Day Care Center, Mark Twain Area Counseling Center/Kirksville Branch, NEMO Senior Citizens Services/Nutrition Program, Retired Senior Volunteer Program, Salvation Army and Victim Support Services, Inc.

These agencies help the homeless, the hungry, the illiterate, victims of family violence and substance abuse, the young and old who can't take care of themselves, the mentally handicapped and the physically disabled.

The campus fund drive will run throughout the month of October and is steered by President Jack Magruder, Glen Giboney, co-chair; Marianna Giovannini, co-chair; and Ken Hussey, student drive co-chair.

Multimedia Performance to be Presented

The Bach Four will present The Well-Tempered Clavier, Book I: A Multimedia Performance at 8 p.m., Oct. 16, in the SUB Activities Room.

The Bach Four is comprised of pianists Genevieve Lee from Pomona College, Timothy Lovelace from the University of Texas at Austin, Robert Satterlee from Bowling Green State University and Esther Wang from the University of Texas at Austin.

By using spoken commentary and visual images, the Bach Four will provide insight into the world of Johann Sebastian Bach, his compositional genius and the glory of the Well-Tempered Clavier.

Posters from the Centennial Kohlenberg Lyceum season are available in McClain Hall 102.

Great for Framing!

Notables

Jim Barnes, writer-in-residence and professor of comparative literature, will give a reading of his work at Legacy Art and Bookworks in Columbia at 7 p.m., Nov. 16. His performance is sponsored by the University of Missouri-Columbia. Barnes has been awarded a Camargo Foundation Fellowship for the spring semester 2001 and will be in residence at the Foundation complex in Cassis, France. He has declined the offer of a Fulbright Commission for the Distinguished Chair in American Literature in Poland for the next academic year.

Tom Bultman, associate professor of biology, presented "Ecology of an Unusual Insect-Fungus Symbiosis" at the Geobotanical Institute of the Federal Technological University of Switzerland in Zurich and "Effect of Endophytes on the Dichotomy between Tolerance and Defense in Forages Grasses" at the XXI International Congress of Entomology in Iguassu Falls, Brazil.

Julia DeLancey, assistant professor of art, presented papers at two international conferences in the last six months. "From Apothecary's Shelf to Painter's Palette: Pigments in Renaissance Florence" was given to the Renaissance Society of America's annual conference held in Florence, Italy, this spring. "Dragonsblood and Ultramarine: The Dealer in Artists' Pigments in Florence" was delivered at a conference entitled The Art Market in Italy (15th-17th centuries), also in Florence, in June.

Barry Poyner, associate professor of communication, has been appointed associate editor of the Journal of the Speech and Theatre Association of Missouri. Poyner, STAM board member, also presented Dr. Glenda Clyde with the STAM Emeritus Award for her contributions to communication education in the state of Missouri at the state's annual STAM convention Sept. 21-23 in Lake Ozark.

Five Truman faculty members attended the 50th anniversary celebration of the Mark Twain Local Section of the American Chemical Society. Special honorees were members who have served as chairpersons of the Local Section: Ken Fountain, professor of chemistry; Roger Festa, professor of chemistry; Vinita Dew, associate professor of chemistry; David Wohlers, professor of chemistry; and Max Freeland, professor emeritus, who was also recognized as a 50-year member. Wohlers and Dana Delaware, professor of chemistry, were recognized for their work as chairmen of the 1999 regional meeting.

Fine Arts Events Planned for this Month

The Truman State University Theatre Department will present their first production of the year, Mrs. California, at 8 p.m., Oct. 3-7, in the Baldwin Hall Little Theatre.

The comedy, by Doris Bazley, is about a home-making "beauty" pageant in 1955, where four contestants compete for the coveted title of Mrs. California. The winner is to embody the epitome of the ideal woman of 1955.

Full of quirks and an array of unique characters, the play is perfect for a night of lighthearted laughter, with an interesting twist at the end, when Mrs. California is crowned.

Admission to Mrs. California is free. Reserve tickets are $1. People are encouraged to buy reserve tickets for the Friday and Saturday performances. Call the box office at 785.4515 for more information.

The Truman State University Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Sam McClure, will present the first concert of its 2000-2001 season at 8 p.m., Oct. 17, in Baldwin Hall Auditorium.

The orchestra has recently returned from a highly successful tour of the Kansas City region where performances were given at four area high schools. This concert will include two of the most popular and frequently performed works from the 19th century: Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 5 and the Cello Concerto in B Minor by Antonin Dvorak. Elaine Boda, assistant professor of cello and music theory, will be the featured soloist.

The orchestra will begin the concert with a brilliant fanfare written in 1986 by the renowned American composer John Adams titled Short Ride in a Fast Machine. The concert is free and open to the public.
