Smith Selected as Truman Scholar

Erin Smith, junior political science major from Bettendorf, Iowa, was one of 76 students from 63 U.S. colleges and universities selected as 2003 Truman Scholars. The recipients were elected by 20 independent selection panels on the basis of leadership potential, intellectual ability and likelihood of 'making a difference.

Smith took a year off college to serve her state as a motivational speaker and literacy advocate as Miss Iowa 2001. She founded the literacy program "Readers of Today, Leaders of Tomorrow." Her academic distinctions include the President's President Jack Magruder presents Erin Smith with a Truman Scholar certificate.

Honorary Full-Tuition Scholarship, 4.0 cumulative GPA, United Leaders Institute for Political Service Fellowship, Truman's Most Outstanding Freshman Leader, the Miss America Scholar national winner, and membership in six national honor societies.

Each Scholarship provides $3,000 for the senior year and $27,000 for graduate study for a total of $30,000. For more information about the scholarship contact Debbie Kling at 785.7115 or dkling@truman.edu or check <http://www.truman.gov>.

Truman Debate Team Ranks Second in National Season-Long Rankings

Eight students representing the Truman Forensic Union continued their success at the National Parliamentary Debate Association National Championship Tournament at Portland State University, in Portland, Ore. The team ranked second in Season Sweepstakes, meaning the program was the second-best overall program in the nation for the 2002-2003 season. Truman tied first place program, Pt. Loma Nazarene University, of San Diego, Calif., but lost the national title by a mere four tie-breaker points. One hundred ninety-three schools were ranked for the season sweepstakes award.

In addition, the Truman team ranked ninth overall, out of the 93 colleges and universities competing at the Portland Nationals. Truman was one of only four programs to place four teams in elimination rounds of the tournament. This is the fourth consecutive year in which Truman has cleared four teams from preliminary rounds into the elimination round bracket.

The team of Timothy Baldwin, freshman communication major from Kansas City, Mo., and Marie Tenny, sophomore psychology major from Villa Ridge, Mo., reached the octafinal round of the tournament. Other Truman teams reaching elimination rounds include: Corey Owens, freshman communication and political science double major from Blue Springs, Mo., and David "Ben" Holley, freshman political science major from Neosho, Mo.; Tyson Helder, sophomore communication and political science double major from Sioux Falls, S.D., and Ryan Walsh, sophomore philosophy/religion major from Cassville, Mo.; and Ian Samuel, sophomore computer science major from Pueblo, Colo., and senior Tyler Unsell, senior communication major from Parkville, Mo.

Scholarship Opportunity Available

A scholarship opportunity is available for Truman students.

The Beta Zeta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma International is offering a recruitment grant of approximately $120.

Applicants must be female, have graduated from a high school in Atchison, Holt or Nodaway County in Missouri, have declared a major in education, currently have a GPA of 2.5 or above and apply in the spring of her sophomore or junior year. Applications must be postmarked by April 7. Contact the Financial Aid Office in McClain Hall 103 for more information.

Notables

Daniel R. Mandell, assistant professor of history, is the editor of "New England Treaties, North and West, 1650-1776," Vol. 20 in the series "Early American Indian Documents: Treaties and Laws," recently published by University Publications of America. Andrew Ashbaugh, senior computer science and communication double major from Wauconda, Ill., and Bryan Vanderhoof, senior business administration major from Kirksville, received first place awards at the 2003 Missouri Educational Broadcasters Association on March 6. They are KTRM staff members. Ashbaugh was awarded for KTRM's Web site, <http://ktrm.truman.edu>. Vanderhoof took first place both for station promotion and for air check. KTRM is streaming live on the internet. The Edge went live online March 26. Link to it at their Web site. The Truman Horse Association ends the 2002-03 school year as Reserve High Point Hunt Seat Team in the region. This is in part due to the strong showing at the Southern Illinois University-Carbondale shows where Truman was High Point Hunt Seat Team on Feb. 23, and Nina Tobler, junior agricultural science major from St. Louis, was Reserve High-Point Hunt Seat Rider. Individual rider points are earned as followed: 1st place-seven points, 2nd place-five points, 3rd place-four points, 4th place-three points, 5th place-two points, 6th place-one point. Team points are calculated based on pre-determined "point riders." At the beginning of each show a rider from each division (Walk/Trot, Walk/Trot/Canter, Novice, Intermediate, Open, etc.) is selected by the coach and/or team members and their points are tallied toward the Team High Point. In most divisions, riders need to acquire 35 points in order to advance to a higher division and/or qualify for regional competition. Carrie Huot, sophomore English major from Broad Brook, Conn., qualified for Regional competition in Walk/Trot/Canter and placed high enough at regionals to qualify for zone competition to be held April 12 in Indiana.

Mock Trial Team Wins Right to Compete at National Competition

Truman's Mock Trial team won the right to compete in the American Mock Trial Tournament, a national competition for new teams. The competition will take place April 11-13 in Richmond, Ky. The team members declined the invitation because the tournament occurs at such a busy time in the semester, but they are enthusiastic about competing at that level next year.

The Truman Mock Trial team is in its third consecutive year, but this is the first year the team has actually competed. The team went to Mizzou in late January to compete in an invitational tournament. It had a record at that tournament of 4-4, which placed it seventh of 20 teams. Team member Josh Jones, freshman political science major from Kirkwood, Mo., won an award for his advocacy as a defense attorney.

The team went to St. Louis for the regional tournament in mid-February. The regional competition drew 23 teams from Missouri, Illinois, and as far as Arkansas and Kentucky. The team again earned a record of 4-4 at regionals to place 11th. Jones won another award for his legal advocacy, and Libby Beilsmith, junior psychology major from St. Charles, Mo., won an award for her portrayal of the defendant. Other team members include: Alexis Andrews, senior justice systems major from Perrysburg, Ohio; Kevin Chase, freshman physics major from University City, Mo.; John Griesedieck, sophomore political science and pre-education double major from Des Peres, Mo.; Sally Guarino, freshman justice systems and psychology double major from Liberty, Mo.; Rachel Spavone, freshman political science major from Springfield, Ill.; and Kelly Wikstrom, freshman pre-business administration major from Sedalia, Mo. The team is coached by Martin Jayne, assistant professor of justice systems.

Panhellenic Council Sponsors Dating and Domestic Violence Presentation

The Panhellenic Council will sponsor a dating and domestic violence presentation titled, "Dear Lisa" given by Tom Santoro, a father who lost his daughter to dating violence, at 7 p.m., April 10, in Baldwin Auditorium.

Sometimes people who are in physically and emotionally abusive relationships may not recognize it. Santoro will speak about the warning signs of an emotionally or physically abusive relationship and how to tell if you or someone you love is in a violent relationship.

The program is free and open to the public. Contact Angie Arellano at 785.4771 for more information.
