HIP HOP ARTIST B.O.B TO PERFORM

This year's SAB Fall Concert will feature popular recording artist B.o.B. at 9 p.m. Oct. 26 in Pershing Arena.

Bobby Ray Simmons Jr., better known by his stage name B.o.B., is an American rapper, singer-songwriter and producer. He has been nominated for 12 awards in the past two years, and was the recipient of the Teen Choice Award and Soul Train Award in 2010.

B.o.B.'s best known singles "Nothin' on You," "Airplanes" and "Magic" have all reached top 10 on the Billboard Hot 100. More than one third of the Truman population voted in SAB's Big Entertainment Survey to bring B.o.B. to campus.

Doors will open at 8:30 p.m. The event is $5 for students, $15 for staff and $20 for general admission. Tickets will go on sale to students starting Oct. 1 and faculty and general admission tickets will be available Oct. 8.

Preservation Hall Jazz Band Opens 2012-2013 Kohlenberg Lyceum Series

The Kohlenberg Lyceum Series will kickoff its 2012-2013 season with a performance by Preservation Hall Jazz Band (PHJB) at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 2 in Baldwin Auditorium.

PHJB has performed on the Truman campus several times and past performances have always brought members of the audience to their feet. The band is known for its mission to carry on the traditions of New Orleans Jazz. They have toured globally, playing at major venues such as Carnegie Hall and the Lincoln Center and even performing for British Royalty and the King of Thailand. Currently, the band is under the leadership of director Ben Jaffe, son of Allen and Sandra Jaffe, who founded PHJB in 1961. The Jaffes were inspired to name the band after the esteemed and historically rich music venue Preservation Hall, located in the center of the French Quarter.

Tickets are available Sept. 25. Students may pick up their free ticket at the Student Activities Board Office in the Student Union Building. Faculty and staff may get their free tickets at the information desk in the Student Union Building. General admission tickets cost $7 and are available at the Truman Cashiers Window in McClain Hall or downtown at Edna Campbells. Tickets may also be purchased online at lyceum.truman.edu.

Nursing Receives $150,000 Grant Award

Gov. Jay Nixon was on campus Sept. 20 to announce a $150,000 grant award for Truman's Department of Nursing to expand instructional and course offerings.

The grant, which is funded by the Caring for Missourians initiative, will provide Truman with the resources necessary to graduate at least 10-15 additional nursing students. Plans include launching three entry-level courses online to help transferring student's transition into the accelerated (second baccalaureate degree) BSN program and increasing clinical sites and partnerships.

While visiting campus Gov. Nixon was able to tour the nursing simulation center and visit briefly with some Truman nursing students working in the center.

Grants were awarded by the Missouri State Board of Nursing on a competitive basis to seven of Missouri's public and private universities, with only Truman and the University of Missouri, Columbia, receiving the max grant allotments.

The grant was one of more than $1 million in grants given out by the state of Missouri this year. It is supported by funds collected by the Missouri State Board of Nursing from nursing licensing fees. Caring for Missourians was launched in 2009 to provide funds for Missouri's public intuitions to educate larger numbers of students interested in health careers.

Informational Meeting Scheduled for Unique Truman Missouri Government Internship

Students interested in finding out more about Truman's unique Missouri Government Internship Program need to attend the upcoming information meeting scheduled 5:30-7 p.m. Oct. 3 in the Student Union Building Alumni Room.

The full-time internship offers a hands-on opportunity for students to intern at the Capitol in Jefferson City, Mo., with a public official, legislator or state agency during the Spring 2013 semester. The program provides students an inside look at state government and the political process.

Interns receive a stipend of $2,500 and up to 15 hours of credit. Duties may vary based on each individual public official, however, typical duties include attending meetings and making reports, communicating with constituents, doing office and computer work, conducting research, assisting with committee hearings, writing speeches, editing printed materials, tracking and summarizing legislation and being on call to help with projects.

Students wishing to participate in the program are required to have a minimum of 60 semester hours of credit, a minimum of two semesters of residence at Truman, a cumulative GPA of 2.75 and divisional approval.

No special coursework is required prior to the internship and all majors are encouraged to apply for the internship. Successful applicants will be of sound character and possess qualities that reflect positively upon themselves and the University.

Applications are available online at career.truman.edu/Internships/mogovBrochure.asp.

For more information, contact Candy Young, professor of political science, at cyoung@truman.edu or Heidi Templeton at heidi@truman.edu.

Detours Conducting Biannual Photo Contest

Detours Magazine is accepting entries for their biannual photo competition themed "Angles and Curves," which is open to all amateur photographers.

Entries are limited to three submissions per photographer and should be submitted along with name, contact information, location of the photo and a short caption. Submissions should be mailed to Detours Magazine, 100 E. Normal, Kirksville, MO. 63501, or sent to photos@detoursmagazine.com by Oct. 5.

Two winners will be chosen, as well as honorable mentions. The Detours staff will pick one winner while the other will be chosen by popular vote on Detours' Facebook page. Both will be featured in the Winter 2011 issue.

Detours Magazine is a biannual travel magazine produced by students of Truman State University. It highlights attractions, regional businesses, restaurants, shopping and more to visit in Missouri, Iowa and Illinois.

Recently, Detours began including travel-related how-tos, Q&As, travel tips and more. Detours received the Mark of Excellence Award for "Best Student Magazine" in March 2012 and also the Apple Award for "Best General Interest Magazine" by the College Media Advisers in March 2010.

Ling Named Scholar Chair Professor in China

The Chinese Ministry of Education has selected Huping Ling, professor of history, as a Changjiang Scholar Chair Professor.

The new Changjiang Scholar Chair Professor program began in 2012. It is designed to select the most accomplished scholars in the world to help internationalize China's higher education and research.

The program awards only 50 prominent scholars overseas annually to teach and conduct research with eminent Chinese scholars at selected institutions of higher education.

Ling's chair professorship is associated with Wuhan Theoretical Research Center of Overseas Chinese Affairs Office of the State Council and the School of History and Cultural Studies at the China Central Normal University.

During her tenure, academic years 2012-2015, Ling will work jointly with prominent Chinese scholars, conduct research on Chinese overseas studies, give public lectures at conferences and universities, launch cutting-edge research projects, initiate new research institutions and programs, teach courses in Asian American studies and supervise doctoral dissertations.

Ling's chair professorship will spread Truman's name in China and help recruit Chinese students. The position will not impact her teaching schedule as she will only work in China during the winter and summer breaks.

Center for International Education Offers New Student-Based Resource

Four students will join the Center for International Education to serve as student ambassadors for the Fall 2012 semester.

Ambassadors Dylan Zielonko, Briana Bonner, Kelsey Boeding and Julianne Bauer, who each have previous experience studying abroad, will act as resources and mentors for other students who are considering, or have previously participated in, international education programs.

The main task for this fall's student ambassadors will be to re-establish and oversee Truman's study abroad club. This club is intended to connect people both involved and/or interested in studying abroad by offering its members the chance to meet former international students willing to share their experiences, providing students returning from abroad aid in their adjustment to possible culture shock and providing a network of current Truman students willing to help international students adjust to university and American culture.

Ambassadors will work on their choice of personal projects meant to promote international education throughout the semester. Tentative ambassador projects include working to revamp and maintain Truman's Study Abroad Facebook page, giving country presentations, one-on-one peer advising with students considering study abroad, compiling a study abroad guide to feature helpful information for planning the trip and creating a Truman Study Abroad Twitter account.

Truman offers study abroad opportunities in more than 50 countries. The international education program was recognized in the "Study Abroad" section of U.S. News & World Report's 2013 edition of "Best Colleges" for having high numbers of students studying abroad among top master's universities.

NOTABLES

Marc Rice, professor of musicology, will present his paper "C'mon, Get Out Bashar: YouTube, Rap, and the Arab Spring" at the National Meeting of the Society for Ethnomusicology in New Orleans in November. Rice's work focuses on the use of rap videos and YouTube to inspire and organize the youth movement against oppression in Tunisia, Syria and Libya. This meeting will take place in conjunction with the National Meeting of the American Musicological Society, with more than 1,000 musicologists in attendance.

ADVISORS NEEDED

The Center for Student Involvement is looking for faculty and staff members to serve as advisors for a number of student organizations that are either without a current advisor or whose advisor will be retiring soon. An interest form is available at csi.truman.edu/advisors.asp.

NOTES

SafeZone training will be available to faculty and staff at 4 p.m. Sept. 24 in the Student Union Building Alumni Room. The program will inform participants on how to help create a safer environment for LGBTQ students on the Truman campus. For more information contact Joe Hamilton at hamilton@truman.edu or visit safezone.truman.edu.

The Mostly Live Composers Society will present its 2012 Fall Composers Showcase concert at 3:30 p.m. Sept. 25 in the Ophelia Parrish Performance Hall. The 50-minute program will involve premiere performances of a variety of musical works by student composers, which will include music for voices, various instruments and electronics. Admission is free, and this event is open to the public. Everyone in attendance will receive a free concert program. The Mostly Live Composers Society is a student chapter of the Society of Composers, Inc.

The University Theatre Department will perform "Rebel Voices" at 8 p.m. Sept. 26-29 in the James G. Severns Theatre, located in Ophelia Parrish. Immediately following the opening night performance Sept. 26, Rob Urbinati, the playwright, will host a question and answer session in the theatre. A reception with refreshments will be offered in the Ophelia Parrish lobby. Tickets are available in the Ophelia Parrish Box Office, Monday-Friday, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Amber Johnson, professor and chair of anthropology, will give a short talk about the archaeology of Northeast Missouri at 7 p.m. Sept. 27 in the Ruth W. Towne Museum. The talk will focus on the basic pattern of culture change in this region and why it differs from surrounding regions. There will be a brief meeting for anyone interested in becoming a member of the newly founded Northeast Missouri chapter of the Missouri Archaeological Society immediately following the talk.

Cookies and Cognitive Science takes place at 6 p.m., Oct. 3 in Violette Hall 1200. All faculty, staff and students are invited to attend an informational meeting on Truman's new Cognitive Science minor. At the meeting participants can learn more about the cognitive science discipline, find out which classes count towards the minor, meet some of the faculty, staff and students involved with the minor and enjoy complimentary cookies.
