ECHO

Echoing the memories of the years our annuals record and keep these memories for us.

THE 1961

Missouri State
Teachers College,
Kirksville, Mo.

Chatting on campus is the national pastime of all college students and faculty members.

Foreword

Our Campus lives like a benign figure--- a living form of endurance, patience and security. Huge steel and brick buildings compose the skeleton with gray windows to gaze glassily upon the stalwart massiveness of the body.

Within the form beats the heart of knowledge bubbling, breaking and spreading. The pulse is felt in the lectures with their multitude of eager questions and in the silent absorption of the library.

Students form the life of the figure. They present and applaud plays and cause gavels to ring as meetings begin. Nimble canvas shoes leap and pivot on a court amid shouts crescendoing to a thread like shrill.

Body, heart, and soul combine to personify our Missouri State Teachers College as its giant metabolism works smoothly to provide a finished product.

We have recorded the progress and achievements of our sprawling giant in this 1961 Echo which reflects the school's personality. The cover holds a body of memorable events capturing the spirit of this year. We give you this book as an archive of the being of which we are a part.

The President's Message

*Dr. Walter H. Ryle,
President*

Reading and checking on department reports is only part of the job of President Ryle.

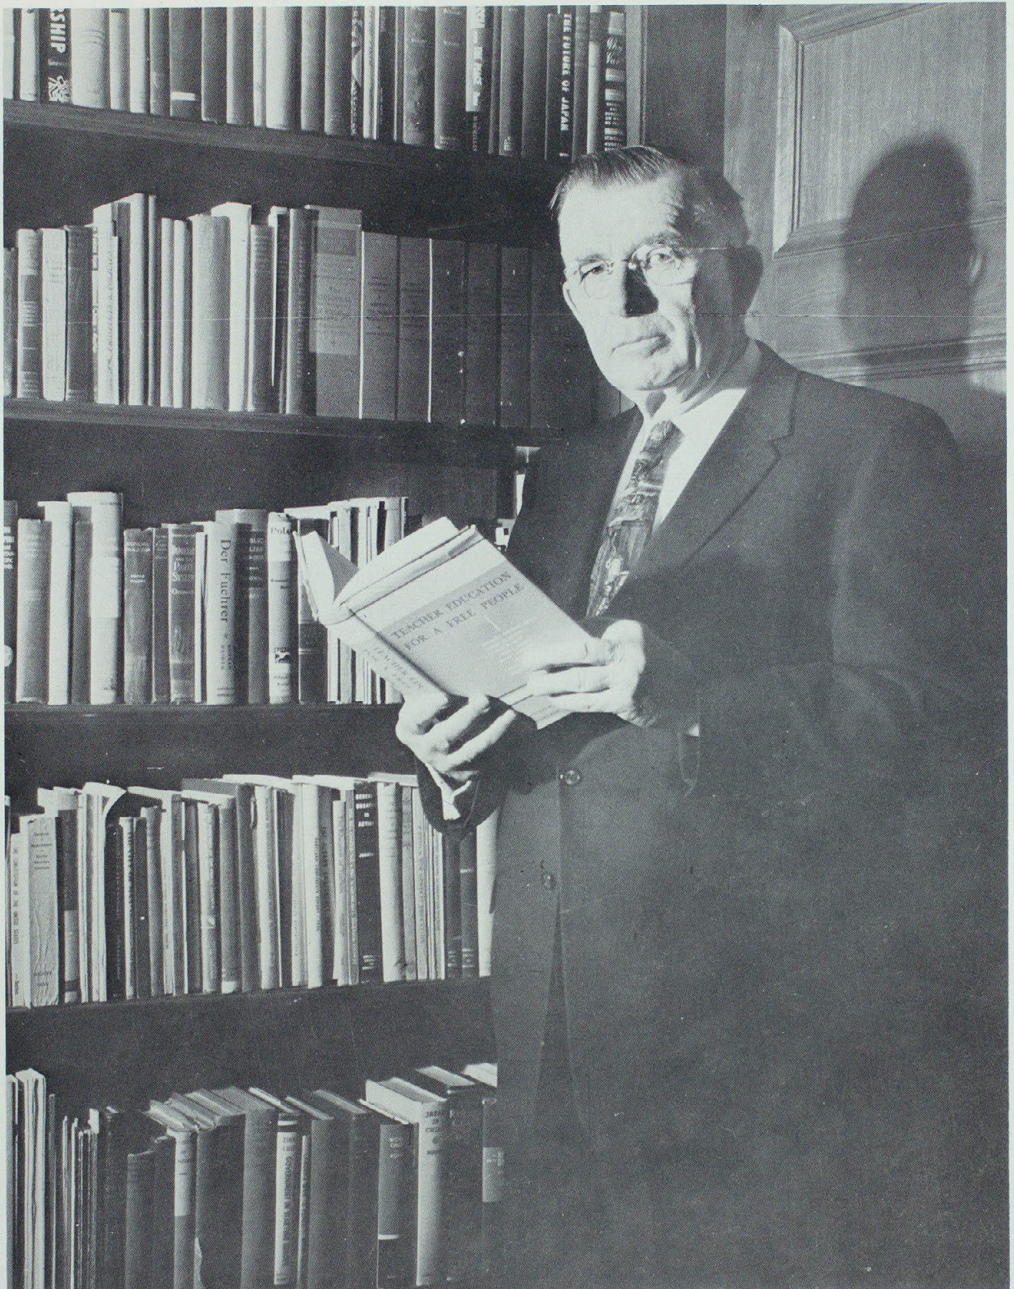

As we look back over a past of ninety-four years, we have just reason to view the future with hope and with great expectations for the College we so dearly love. From a small normal school in 1867 our College has grown into a great teachers' college with an excellent faculty and an alert and ambitious student body. It offers work leading to the degrees of B.S. in Education, A.B., B.S., B.Mu. and A.M. It has served well during the past ninety-four years tens of thousands of young men and women. We have reason to believe that it will continue in the future to serve many more thousands as they come and go on our beautiful campus.

We are approaching the centennial of our College. This is an occasion toward which we should all look forward with pleasure. In the near future we should begin to plan for this occasion so that we may make it one of the great events in the history of our state.

The Echo this year is one of many yearbooks that have been published by the students of the campus. It contains the records of our friends whom we have come to know and cherish, remembrances of activities and reminders of all those things which make up our college life. This book will be cherished by many, and as the years pass it will grow dear to many people for it will call back pleasant memories of days gone by.

I congratulate the editor and her associates who have made it possible for us to have this beautiful book which will be treasured by many.

President's Office

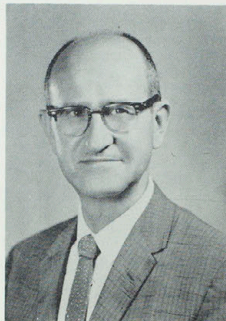

DR. WALTER H. RYLE, President

The girders of the new Dobson Hall spanning space stand as only one of the improvements during the twenty-fourth year of President Ryle's service to this College. Not only is he concerned with tangible campus improvements but also academic and curriculum progress. The lyceum programs also stand as a contribution to progress and the enjoyment and enlightenment of the faculty and student body. These examples of President Ryle's forward moving campus program are only a small part of his plans for the ever expanding Northeast Missouri State Teachers College.

Board Members Aid Teacher Education

Members of the Board of Regents are: P. M. Marr, Milan, Pres.; J. Andy Zenge, Jr., Canton, Vice Pres.; Edward E. Swain Sr., Kirksville, Sec.; Henry M. Boucher, Memphis; Elmer F. Gieselman, Macon.

With vision and foresight, the Board of Regents enacts modern policies for the education of tomorrows teachers. Approving appointments to the growing faculty, promoting building programs, and budgeting the appropriated funds wisely are only a part of the important influence this group plays in administration of the College.

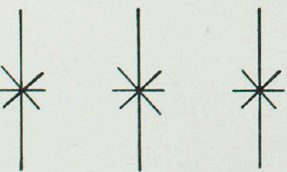

From seven different professions, and as many walks of life, these men concentrate on their one common interest--the well-being of the College. It is to this "Big Seven" that we owe the smooth operation of the College.

Mr. Hubert Wheeler is an ex-officio member.

Off hour means coffee hour at the Bulldog Inn.

Mr. Bledsoe sells a wise investment to a campus coed.

Who's in a hurry for class, we might have a pop test.

Campus and Tradition

Blanton-Nason Women add sparkle to our campus and to their traditional Christmas Tree.

Short break between classes means a quick gab session on the steps of Laughlin Building.

Royalty Reigns on Bales

Time out from a hoe-down for a coronation ceremony.

Ministers of State, Miss Geraldine Gosch and Norvell Allen confer crowns of royalty on the 1961 Barnwarming King and Queen.

Homage is paid the Queen by Her Court.

Do Si Do your pardner and a grand right and left. These toe-tapping calls provided the members of Colhecon and Agriculture Clubs a chance to live it up country style. Reigning over the Barnwarming were Queen Marilyn Vetter and King Ronnie Smart. Creating atmosphere, the decorations were of hay—baled and otherwise used as tables and chairs adding the finishing touch.

Mind Your Manners, Girls! It's Twirp Week

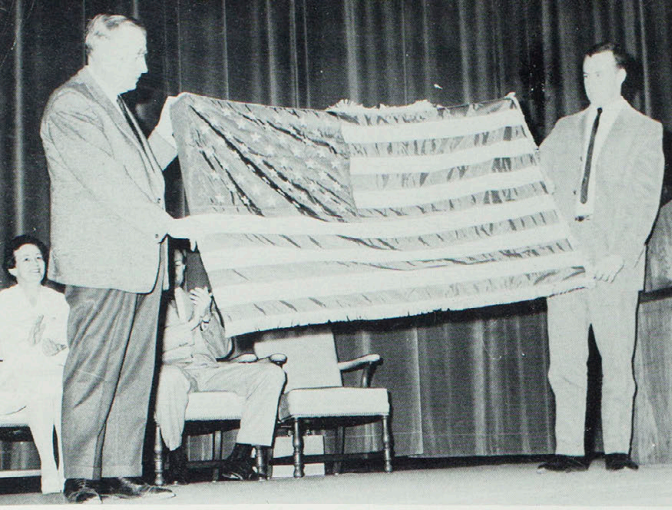

How does it feel to lead, Girls?

Get-even-week for the men presents itself once a year in January in the form of Twirp Week. This week the men of the Campus are waited on hand and foot by their feminine admirers. Doors are opened for them; free meals, free shows, all the special attention girls enjoy during the rest of the year are theirs for this week. By the same token girls have their big chance to ask that "one and only" for the long hoped for date. This special week is climaxed by the Twirp Dance, admission to which is paid by the girls, a penny for each inch of her man's chest. Twirp Week ends leaving the question on both sides, Why doesn't it come more often?

Turned tables mean tired toes for Campus Coeds.

Smooth talkers win Debate Award

Resolved that the $50 for Regents Debate Award will go a long way.

Money for talking just can't be beaten is the theory of the participants of the Regents Debate Award, tournament. Fifty dollars is presented every year to the two members of the MSTC debate squad which presents the most cogent and best organized reasons on the question of the year. This Year's winners are Roger York and Harry Smith. The question debated was: Resolved that the United States adopt a compulsory health insurance for all states.

A dream has come true for 34 students on our campus. Each of them is still in a daze from being chosen to the honored list composed of students from over 800 colleges and universities in the United States. Eight of these students have received this honor more than once in the past four years. They are Marthlu Bledsoe, Donna Dawkins, Karen Graber, Ted Mittler, Wayne O'Neal, Kenneth Serfass, Francis Sporer and Larry Swift.

Recipients of this award are chosen by an unknown committee on our campus. The names are then sent on to the national committee and weighed against the other colleges and universities in the United States. The college is notified of the winners and they in turn are awarded a certificate of recognition by President Ryle at the Awards Assembly. Basis for this award are service, scholarship and leadership, and the promise of future success.

Student Union plugged by Council

Visions of a gleaming new recreation center danced through the heads of wide-awake students who voted during the campuswide Student Union election sponsored by the Student Council.

Besides arranging for a new building, the council, with a flurry of "lights, camera, action" projected familiar movies each week for the enjoyment of everyone.

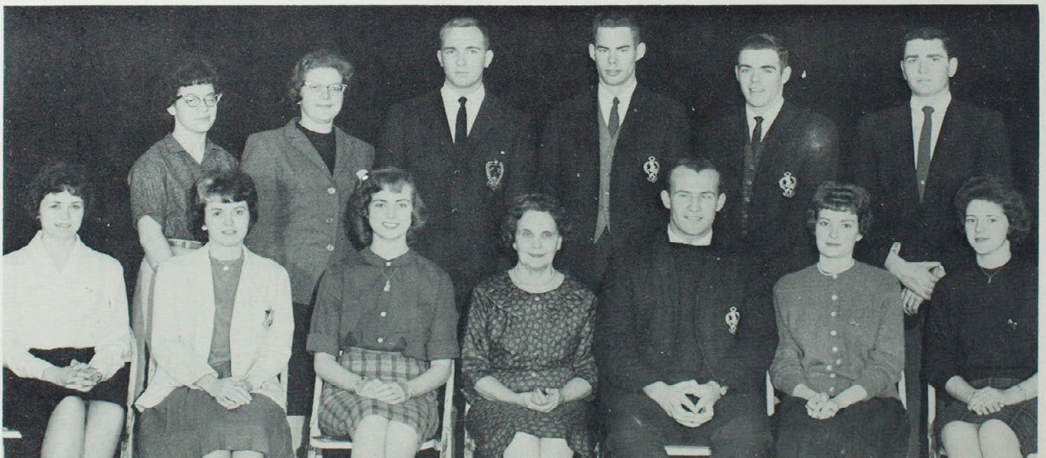

The music of Ralph Marteri floated through the Armory as students attended the annual Christmas dance. This most active Student Council, elected by the student body, was responsible for the success of the Homecoming parade and dance, Twirp Week, the Fun Festival, freshman orientation, and Parents Day.

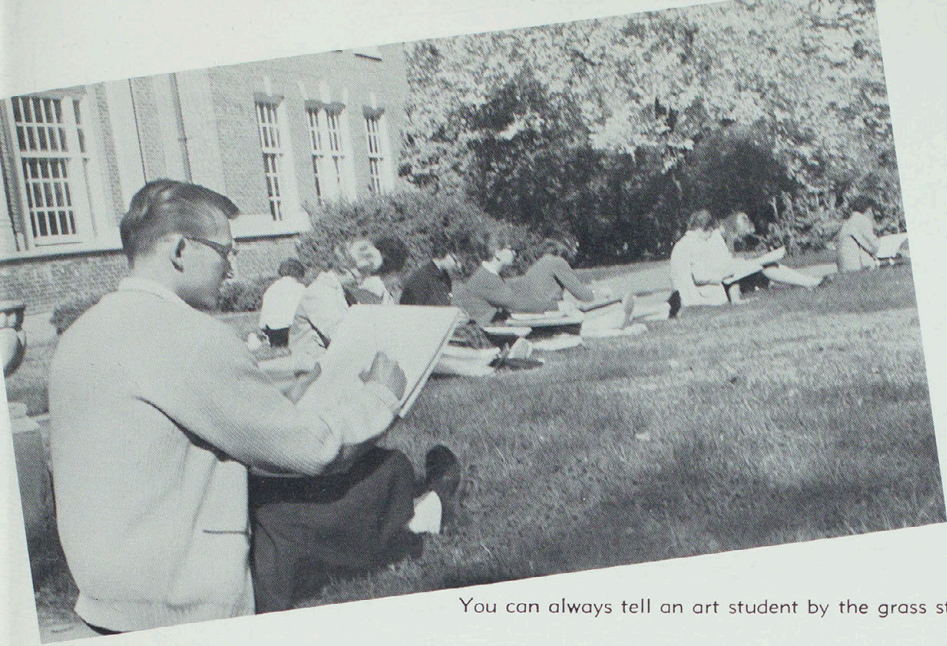

Crepé paper was sagging, the coat hangers were bare, and ticket stubs covered the floor. The dances were over but students would relive every one of them in their memories many times over.

The brain behind the scenes at each dance was the Student Social Committee. The members of this group were the first ones to arrive and the last ones to leave in order to provide for organized, fun-filled occasions.

The organization was composed of a select group of students who helped carry out all activities sponsored by the Student Council. The Committee members busily served refreshments at the annual faculty Christmas tea in a festive tree-lit atmosphere complete with a congenial Santa Claus.

Art Club goes Spanish for annual ball

Mandolins, sparkling black-eyed senioritas--and you floated into the land of sunny Spain. That is, you did if you went to the Beaux Arts Ball sponsored by Honorary Art Club. The theme of the annual affair was Spanish Art, and the masked guests danced to the music of the not-so-Spanish band.

Art club also sponsored the sale of mums for Homecoming and took a trip to Kansas City where they toured the Rockhill-Nelson Gallery of Art and the Kansas City Art Institute.

Cardinal Key fashions poodles

Nimble fingers fashioned yarn into fanciful French poodles, Homecoming buttons sold furiously, and Kirk Memorial China plates begged for a sentimental nook in the heart of every KSTC graduate.

The briantrust from which all this action in personification came were the 25 members of Cardinal Key who sold these items in order to continue their tradition of distinctive service to the college.

The Eugene Fair Chapter this year gave the Nan E. Wade Scholarship Award to Linda Hammons and sponsored a Swedish student on a similar basis. In addition, they sent a basket of clothing and food to a needy family at Christmas time.

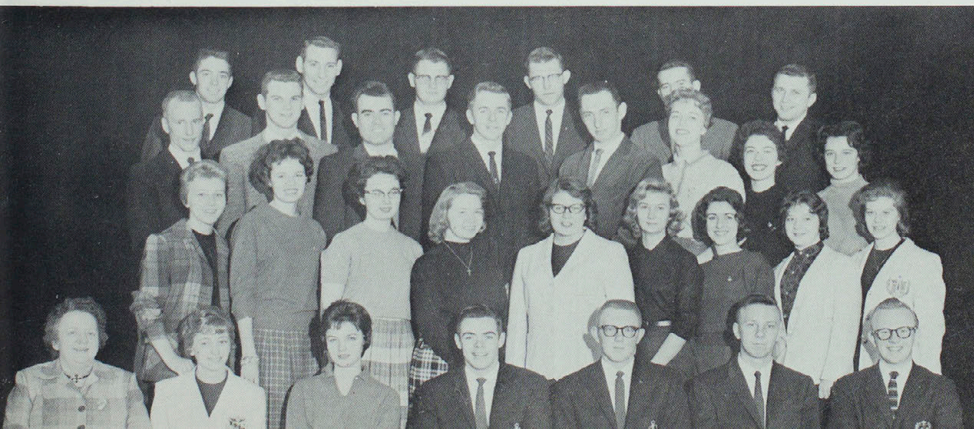

Members of this national honorary service sorority are chosen for their qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and participation in school activities.

Young Democrats celebrate victory

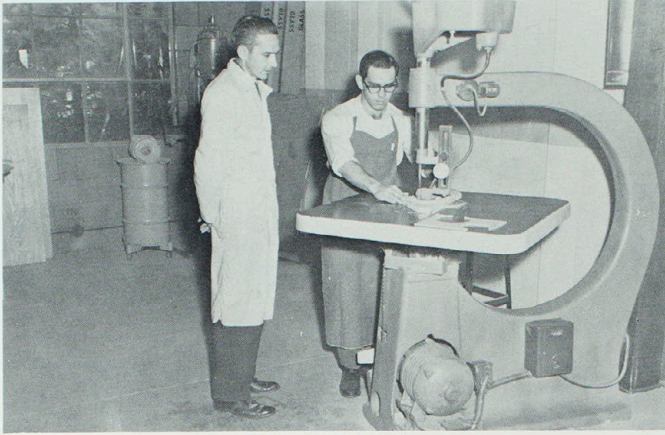

Well-informed individuals, regardless of political philosophy, make the best party members, the most competent voters, and in turn the best Americans. The Young Democrats, believing this and trying to indoctrinate others and draw them into the fold, invite prominent party leaders and faculty members to their meetings to speak on current national affairs and new and old political ideas.

The Young Democrats Club, which is the only chartered political organization on campus, gained invaluable experience this year by participating in a national presidential election, even though many of their members were too young to vote. After driving cars to the polls and conducting a political canvass, they rewarded themselves with a victory dinner to celebrate the election returns.

"It looks interesting, but what is it?" The object in view was an injection mold made by the members of the Industrial Arts Club. It was devised to mold a mass supply of plastic and was used in the plastic classes at the Teachers College.

Pre-Os observe Anatomy demonstration

"This is better than the chariot race in 'Ben Hur'," commented a student when he dared to look at an anatomy demonstration at the Kirksville Hospital of Osteopathy. This was only one of the visits made by the Pre-Osteopathic Club at KCOS.

Dr. George Laughlin also presented a program on cranial manipulation. In the spring the club members "headed for the hills" for the annual pic-

Human Bingo initiates W.A.A. members

Posing isn't really cricket, now is it, Lonna Hendren, Margaret Schindler, Kay Daughrity, and Sandra Dixon, WAA trophy winners?

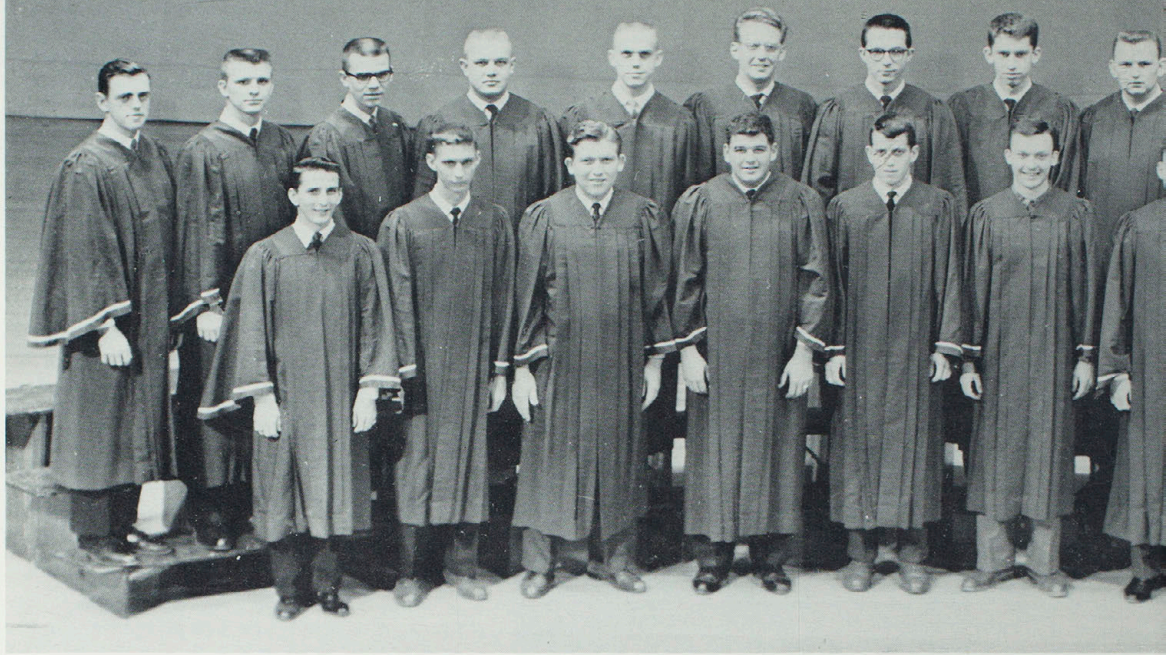

Human bingo? What manner of game is this? The Women's Athletic Association, not always sticking strictly to standard sports, surprised prospective members with a new type of bingo at the annual get-acquainted party.

WAA played host to eight Missouri and Iowa colleges during Sports Day. Participating in an all-day tournament, the teams tied for the Volleyball Championship. On the campus scene this club sponsored school-wide tournaments in archery, basketball, softball, table tennis, and volleyball. Recognition was given to the outstanding teams of the season in an assembly program.

Climaxing the year's activities was the spring banquet. At this time awards were presented and the new officers were introduced. WAA is open to all women who are interested in athletics, sportsmanship, and fair play.

Musical men magnetize multitudes

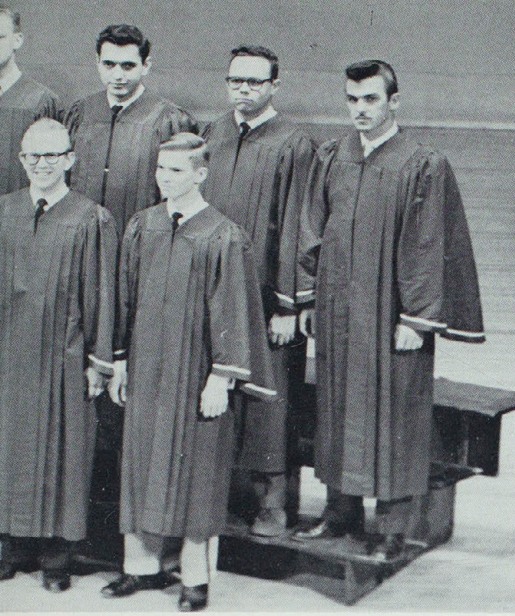

Thunderous applause matched the equally booming voices of the members of the Men's Glee Club at the afternoon concert given during the winter quarter. With the support of Lee Hobson, the men sang "Rhapsody for Contralto and Male Chorus" by Brahms and "The Testament of Freedom" by Thompson.

With a flurry of last-minute instructions and preparations, the men boarded the bus for a four-day tour of surrounding towns. They were featured in a medley of spiritual songs entitled "The Creation" by Richter, "Old Man Noah" by Bartholomew, "Salvation Belongeth to our God" by Tchesnokoff, and "Poor Man Lazarus" by Hairston. Enthusiastic audiences were entertained with an encore--"O Tannenbaum" by Shaw-Parker.

The all-male chorus was comprised of men represented in the NEMO singers. They were directed by Dr. Stephen Hobson.

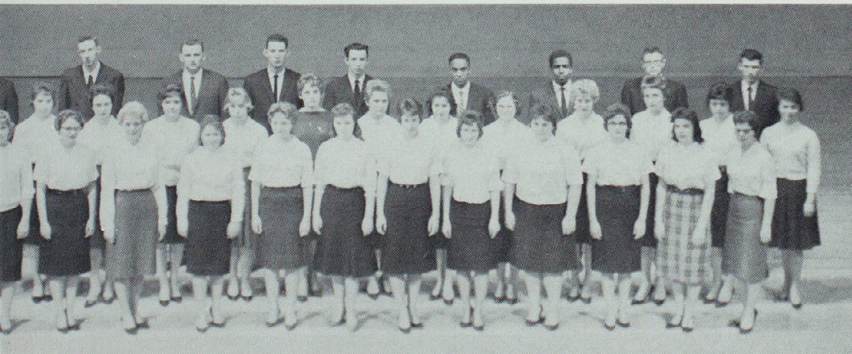

Chorus caters to contemporary composers

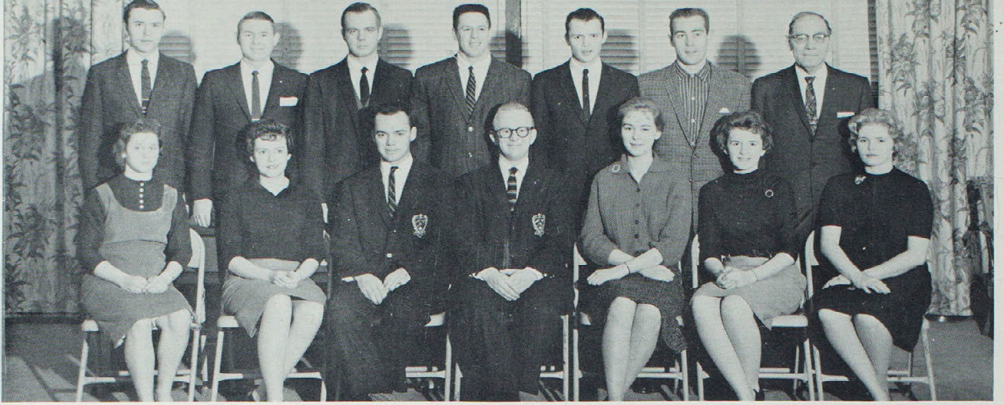

"Do, re, mi, fa, . . ." The chorus is warming up again. Under the direction of Miss Phradie Wells, the chorus presented "A Tribute to Oscar Hammerstein" in a fall assembly. Songs from "Showboat," "The Sound of Music," and "South Pacific" were popular numbers.

"A Tribute to Romberg" was the principal project for the winter quarter. For fun, the chorus worked out "The Heavens Are Telling" and "Finlandia" by Jean Sibelius. The group was introduced to the "Twelfth Mass" by Wolfgang Mozart, and this soon became a favorite number. In the spring the chorus began on "Wachet Auf, Fruhling" by J. S. Bach. Concluding the year, members applied the knowledge they gained in chorus by assisting in spring contests. Judy Trueblood was the accompanist for the group.

Pi Kappa Delta talks way to fame

They may not be Daniel Websters nor Abraham Lincolns but they can tell you the attributes of a good debate and enjoy "organized arguing" themselves, for the members of Pi Kappa Delta have proved to be proficient in the forensic arts of public speaking and debate.

The organization sponsors the Midwest Speech Tournament and the Regents Award Debate.

Master Masons boost Bulldogs

The well-fed members of the Square and Compass Club enjoyed quarterly steak feeds as a prerequisite to settling down to business.

Members, who must be Master Masons, extend a scholarship to a deserving student and sell Bulldog booster ribbons.

The organization, founded in 1946, strives to give its members a study of the history and philosophy of Masonry.

"Upper Crust" future teachers in Kappa Delta Pi graph time for guest speakers after assembly. Gene Sporer is in line.

"Teachers are our most important product" could be the slogan for Kappa Delta Pi. This honorary educational fraternity recognizes, by inviting into membership, those who make honor grades, eagerly contribute to educational ideas, and show professional promise.

As "upper crust" future teachers, members must be juniors with an honor point ratio of 2.0 and with 5 hours of educational courses.

This year Kappa Delta Pi joined other educational organizations on campus to bring Miss Taimi Laiti, Assistant Secretary of the NEA Department of Classroom Teachers, to our campus where she spoke on "Teaching for the Jet Age."

A spring banquet supplements the twice monthly professional and business meetings. A $25 scholarship award is given to the sophomore student showing the greatest amount of professional promise.

Marches or Charlestons--nothing fazes a K-Dette

Time out from practice for three purple-and-white-clad K-Dettes.

Sinking in a soggy football field, braving blustery fall winds, fighting the chaos of a basketball game—all this for school spirit?

But just strike up the half-time music, and the K-Dettes march on through mud, mist, or mob, promoting the Bulldog spirit with their precise and smooth-moving drills. These coed sharpshooters appeared at football and basketball games and parades, dressed in our school colors—purple and white corduroy outfits.

Practice during valuable after school hours gives the group the coordination and skill which enables them to present such routines as the Christmas "Jingle Bell" march.

Their efforts didn't go unlauded, however, for the girls were rewarded not only by increased student appreciation but also by a holiday party given them by the group's originator-director, Al Srnka. The group, doubled since its organization, now numbers 32 girls chosen at try-outs by Mr. Srnka and the officers of the group.

APO refreshes "dry" students at dances

"Tee hee! Look at that silly man over there!" The object of speculation was merely the winner of the Ugly Man contest sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega. Enough money was collected as a result of the contest to send a ton of food to a foreign country in the name of CARE.

Students "dry" from swinging at dances found relief at the soda pop and refreshment stands sponsored by the members of Alpha Phi Omega. An up-to-date feature in the form of a 50-star flag flew high over the college campus—a gift from this club.

A national service organization, Alpha Phi Omega is dedicated to high ideals in service, friendship, and leadership. To be eligible for membership one must have been previously affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America.

Church and School work together

Hit that birdie or someone will score! The recreation area at the BSU Center provides after-class entertainment.

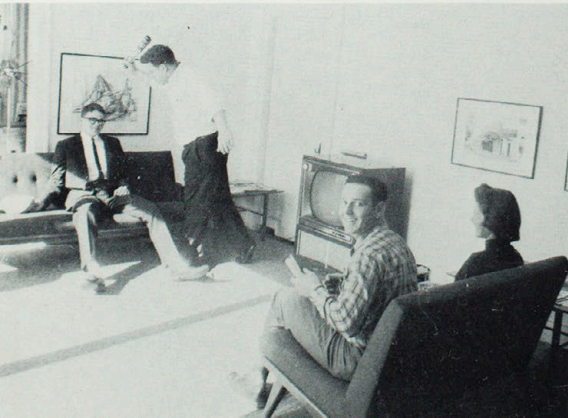

With the friendly invitation, "Ya'll come!", students flocked to the Baptist Student Center for ice cream freezes, hamburger fries, watermelon feeds, popcorn parties, and taffy pulls.

It was a year of fellowship and the never-to-be-forgotten Homecoming float, presidential election party, intramural athletics contests, "Lottie Moon" program, anniversary roller skating party, and Christmas party complete with a real (We knew it was Wendell all along) Santa Claus.

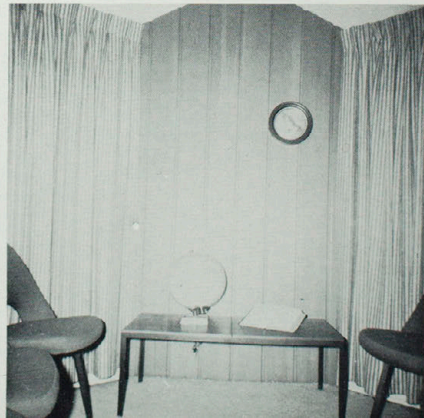

BSUer's attended the state convention in Springfield, a retreat at Windemere, and the sweetheart and spring formal banquets. Ross Thompson was appointed as a student summer missionary to Jamaica.

The BSU Center is a home-away-from-home for everyone interested. Spiritual guidance is provided through Tuesday and Thursday night Vesper Services, Monday morning prayer breakfasts, and Wednesday night Bible discussions.

Hey there! No violence in the Student Center.

Peace — in the BSU prayer room.

U.P.Y. covers scope of college life

Satisfying their appetites for fellowship, fun, and food, the members of the United Presbyterian Youth convened each Thursday night for supper and an hour of entertainment and enlightenment.

Featured on the program were Wayne McIntyre discussing "Conditions in Germany", Dr. Calvin Huenemann, sponsor, analyzing "What is Love", and Reverend Lawrence Gill outlining the organization of the Presbyterian Church.

The UPY members occasionally met jointly with the Disciples Student Fellowship as a part of the United Campus Christian Fellowship. They also participated in Religious Emphasis Week.

U.C.C.F. Student Union called "White House"

"It's even better than the White House!" exclaimed eager members of the United Campus Fellowship, as they viewed their new student union.

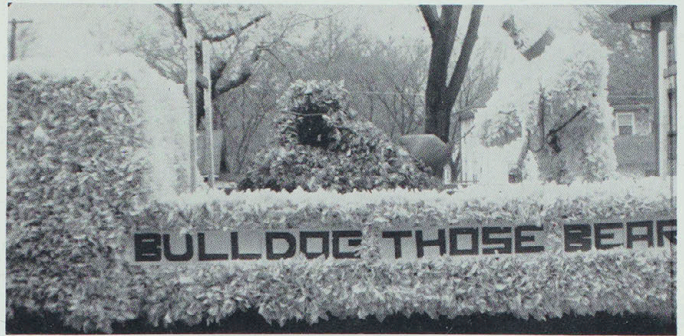

The large white house, just east of the campus, wasn't the only new addition to the church group this year, however, for they acquired a new name and a new outlook. Formerly the Disciples Student Fellowship, they are now a part of the UCCF, made up of four denominations.

The UCCF firmly believes in fulfilling its twofold aim: finding friends with a common interest, and giving Christ His place in their daily lives.

Wesley float wins first in Surprise

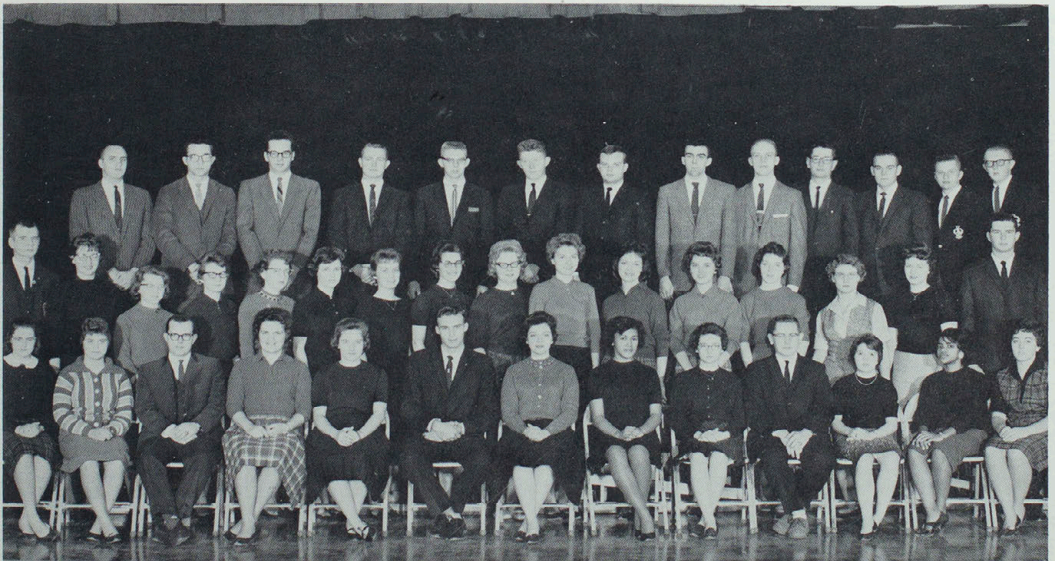

Bulldog those Bears! School spirit personified by Wesley's float.

It's not for fame and fortune, but for the kind of faith needed in our age that interesting and deep discussions come from the "Halls of Wesley".

Trying to put this Christian faith into everyday use, members of Wesley Foundation participate in their Sunday night meetings, study groups, campus functions and the new social activity, "8 o'clock Saturday Night".

In an atmosphere of congenial attitudes and mutual understanding, these college-age Methodists work together on Pancake Day, weekend retreats, Religious Emphasis Week and the Student Union movement. A new star shone in their crown this year when their homecoming float, "Bulldog Those Bears" received first place in the surprise division.

"Viva la Bool-dogs" was the inscription over the Arc of Triumph built by the members of Newman Club for the Homecoming parade. Jubilant students proudly displayed the trophy for the best float entered in the parade.

After get-acquainted parties, including the "Welcome Frosh" picnic held at Thousand Hills State Park, 40 new members received the Newman Pin at the formal initiation ceremony in January.

All members joined in a money-making drive by washing cars, serving a spaghetti supper and selling Christmas cards. Chapters from all parts of Missouri were welcomed at the Leadership Weekend held here. Itinerant Newmanites attended retreats at Conception and Jefferson City and the convention in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Gamma Delta hosts at Lenten Services

Wildly wielding paint brushes, the eager members of Gamma Delta fulfilled an "artistic" impulse as well as a Christian service this spring by painting their church basement.

During the Lenten season, the students were hosts at socials for the congregation following special services.

"Service" and "knowledge" are the key words of Gamma Delta which is the international association of Lutheran college students. The organization tries to promote Christian knowledge through Bible study and to serve its fellowmen in a Christian atmosphere.

Meeting twice a month, the group discusses topics which help them understand their church and lead a Christian life at college.

Alpha Phi Sigma travels the globe

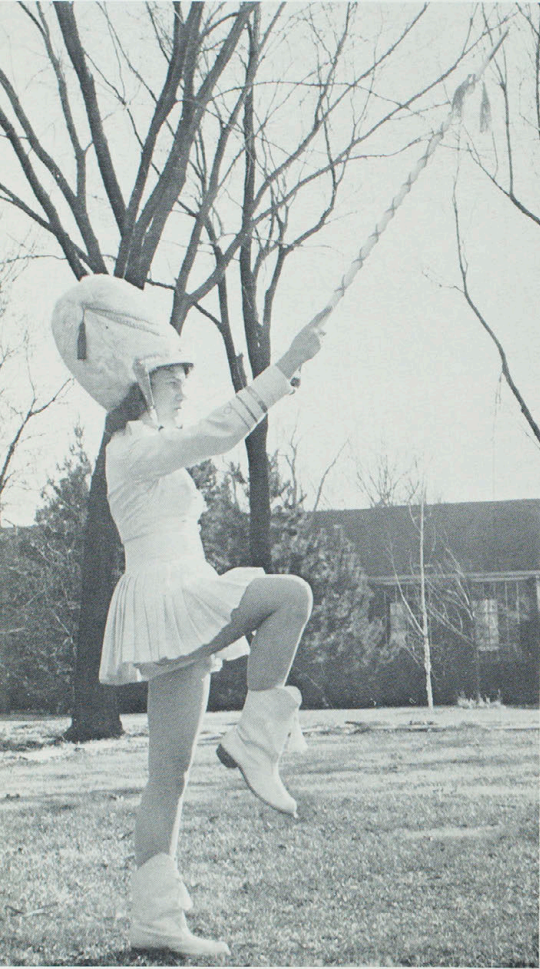

Through the lectures of the guest speakers, the members of Alpha Phi Sigma traveled about the world. The group also planned a panel discussion to evaluate the projects and accomplishments of the bi-monthly meetings.

New certificates for associate members were printed, and information concerning the club was distributed on enrollment day. A key and certificate were presented to outstanding members.

The Phi Beta Kappa of the small college, Alpha Phi Sigma is a National Scholastic Fraternity founded to recognize high scholarship. Students with an S average for three consecutive quarters are eligible for master membership.

Young Republicans prepare their strategy for '64

Comparing virtues of the candidates, boys?

This was the year for all good men and women to come to the aid of their party, and dedicated campus followers of the GOP took the old adage to heart and organized a chapter of Young Republicans.

Believing that you can best promote a cause by turning ideas and words into action and manifesting their love for their country and party, the members assisted the party's county committee during the election and helped bring about a Republican victory in Adair County.

Led by their president, Louis Byers, and sponsor, Mr. Noah Richardson, the members strive to attain a better understanding of the place of political parties in our country, and try to foster their party's belief in the freedom and responsibilities of the individual in the United States.

During their meetings they listen to speeches and discuss and analyze political theory.

College Players sponsor cinemas

"Thees ees how I weel talk," twanged one student after watching the Italian award-winning film, "La Stradva". This was only one from the classic film series provided for student enjoyment by the College Players.

The club produced "R. U. R." which featured those crazy strings as part of the setting. "The Second Shepherd's Play" delighted audiences in assembly and in surrounding high schools. A delegation of College Players attended the Dramatic Seminar "Imagination 61" held in Iowa City.

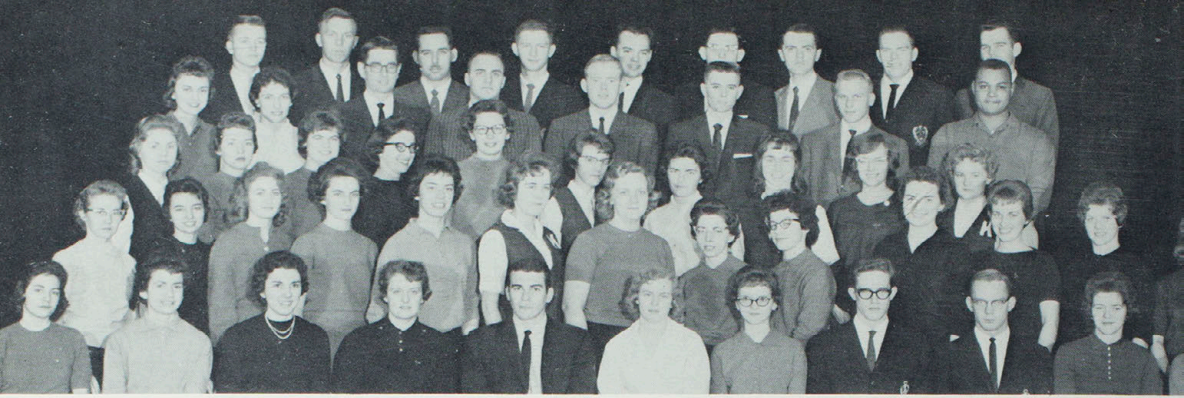

Pep Club called spirit raisers

Although the score was discouraging, the team was tired, and the coaches were "disturbed", spirits still soared as the peppery cheers from the gals in the purple and white rang out "loud and clear".

The members of the pep squad attended every home and away athletic event with a flurry of pom poms, beaming smiles, and enthusiastic support.

S.N.E.A. programs preview teaching

Worthy teachers play an important role in fostering the interdependence of world peoples and in promoting the democratic ideals of our country.

Realizing this, the Student National Education Association presents programs which provide members with a preview of the teaching profession--its problems, challenges, and rewards. They study to develop professional competence and to gain an understanding of the history, ethics, and program of the organized teaching profession.

Because the club is a part of the National Education Association, the members of the organization receive the "NEA Journal." This monthly publication contains numerous teaching suggestions and aids which are always helpful to the educator.

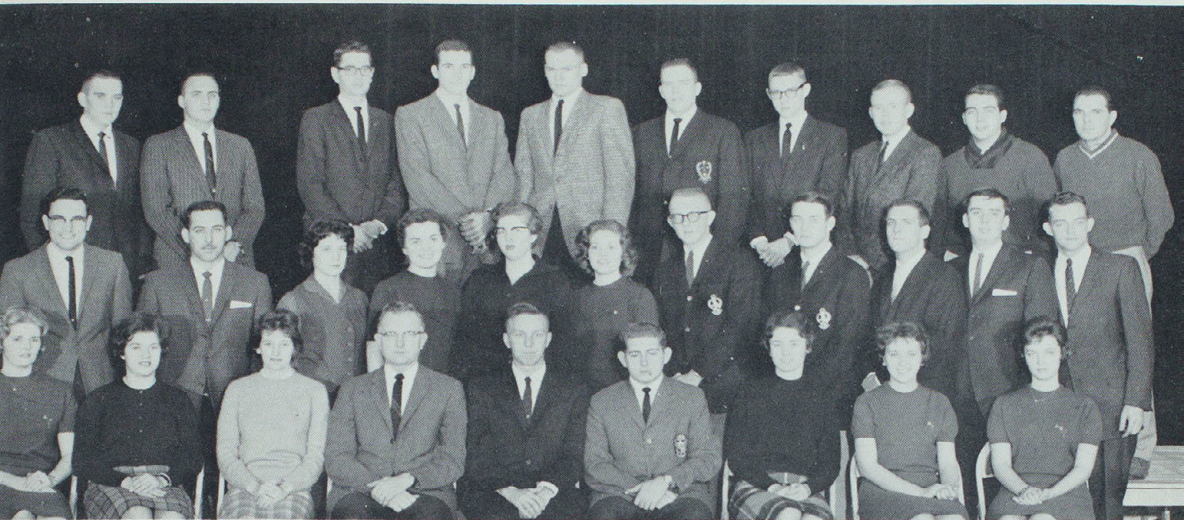

The club participates in area and state teachers meetings each year, sending delegates to the Kansas City meeting and to the local conferences.

Anyone interested in the teaching program is eligible to join the Student National Education Association and to participate in cooperative work on the problems of the profession and the community.

Orbiting around the world like Samos, Historical Society vicariously visits the peoples of many nations via lectures, movies, and discussions.

The group's "lauching pad" underwent a face-lifting this year with the addition of a new constitution which strengthened operation and reduced friction.

The historically minded "astronauts" meet every third Thursday and explore the spheres of interests pertaining to the society, including history, political science, economics, sociology, and philosophy. A special field trip in the spring and a banquet, also in the spring, climax the year of exploration.

Anyone interested in the social sciences is eligible to join this progressive organization of the space age.

Reviewing the new constitution for the society are its officers.

Oral Interpreters emphasize literature

Up to his ears in books sat George Harris as the curtain in the Little Theater opened for "The Bookworm"--the first program given by the Oral Interpreters. The pile of books nibbled away and read by the "bookworms" represented new copies in the library.

Christmas time was an occasion heralded by the club with rollicking spirits. A medley of festive stories were on the program for "The Faces of Christmas". At this time Sally Bybee and Alberto Robago read selections in English and Spanish.

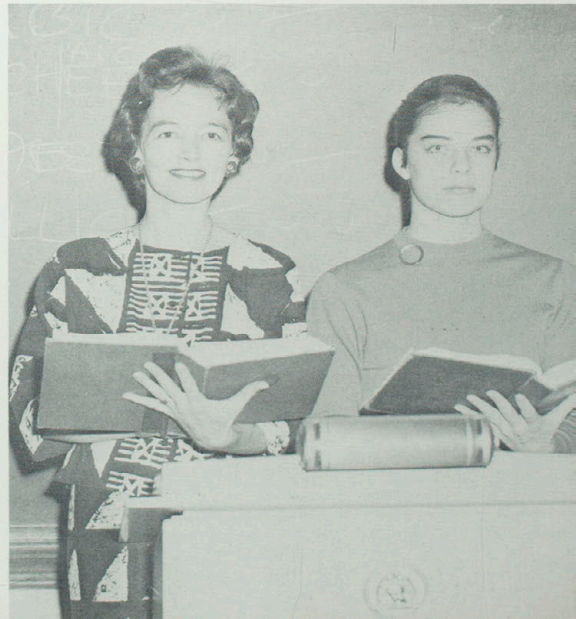

"Doctor Zhivago" -- Banned in Russia! "Alice in Wonderland"--unobtainable. "Thumbellina"--unfit for children. These are cries of the past. Today, in the United States, these books could be read with confidence by the members of Oral Interpreters for the February program--"Freedom to Read".

Edna Smith and Karen Graber combined efforts for the March program, and the seniors worked to present the May spectacular. Dr. Elizabeth Worrell, Sponsor, and Mrs. Lucille Kimbrell from William Woods, at Fulton, read in April.

Occasionally, the Oral Interpreters have a "members only" gathering. New members read informally at one of these meetings, and a Beatnik party at the home of Al Srnka gave ample opportunity to display original talent.

The forty members of the Oral Interpreters place greatest emphasis on literature. The programs are student directed and produced. Each new experience provides the members with a foundation for better teaching skills after graduation.

Recognition of meter and rhythmic patterns is part of the Oral Interpreters training.

Aeolian Club follows the Muses

Listen to the sounds upon the wind, to the music in the air; and if you're on this college campus, you can safely guess that these euphonious melodies spring from the developing genius of one of the 77 members of Aeolian Club.

Composed of the music majors and those interested in music education, Aeolian Club helps develop talents and interests.

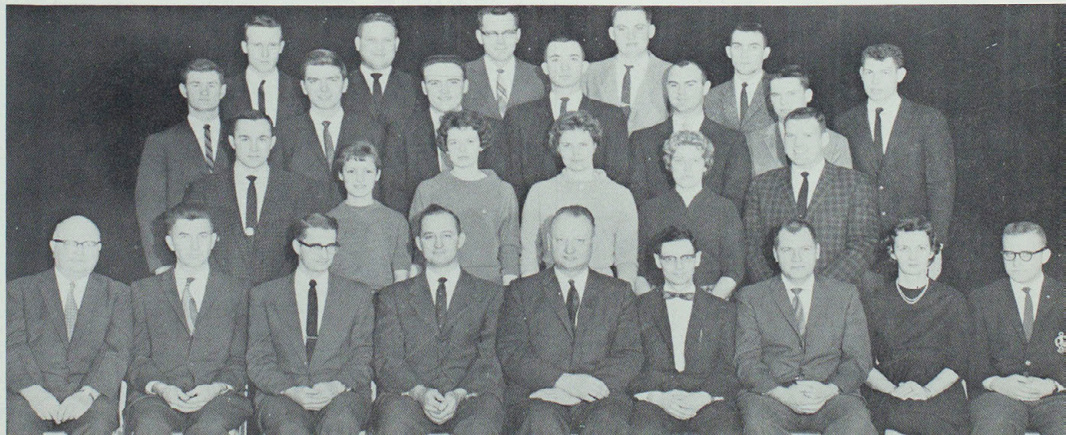

Each year they help with the spring music festival, act as host at receptions following the senior recitals, and attend the Missouri Music Education Association Convention where they visit workshops and hear informative speeches.

Sigma Zeta helps plan Science Fair

Let x denote the abscissa and y the ordinate of the point P , and let r denote the radius of the circle, and let members of Sigma Zeta tell you what it means. This would seem elementary to them, for to become members of this national honorary science society one must be majoring in the natural sciences or mathematics and must maintain a high degree of scholarship in these fields.

The group, which has one of the highest honor point ratios of all organizations on campus, presents a film or sponsors a lecture by a member of the science faculty each month, and participates in the Annual Science Fair.

Head point and pica counters for the winter quarter.

"With only a five dollar bill in my pocket I traveled the world around," declared Jimmy Bedford, a journalist who visited the campus this summer. He was sponsored by the members of Alpha Phi Gamma. The members of this national honorary journalistic fraternity also published one issue of the Index this year.

Founded on this campus in 1959, membership to Alpha Phi Gamma is limited to students who have a 1.2 over-all grade point average, an S average in three quarters of journalism, and an elective position on the Index staff.

Pi Omega Pi has Annual Banquet

"Chicago, here we come!" was the enthusiastic cry of Sandra Giachino and Suzanne Green as they represented Pi Omega Pi at the national convention. Upon their return, they told of visits made to the Prudential Insurance Building and the Midwest Stock Exchange.

Formal initiation, "completely" informal initiation (comprised of clicking the heels three times consecutively?) and the banquet were held in the spring.

Pi Omega Pi, a national business honorary fraternity, was founded on this campus by Dr. P. O. Selby in 1923. Since the founding of Alpha Chapter, 108 chapters with over 22,000 members have been organized in colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Colhecon declares cooking an art

Pastries, crisp loaves of homemade bread, crunchy, chewy cookies and other delectable goodies mean more than taste-bud satisfiers to Colhecon members. To these home economics majors, the creation of such choice items is an art in itself.

This year they sold their "art objects" to hungry students and used the funds to help finance the club's other activities. A Christmas party, a style show and tea, the annual senior banquet, and a fall get-acquainted picnic are all on the social agenda. One meeting each month is devoted to a professional subject.

A.C.E. studies Elementary Schools

"Three spaces to the left and you will find the key to membership," were the instructions for the exciting treasure hunt held by the Physical Education Major-Minor Club at its initial meeting.

During the year the club's members visited laboratories of the Kirksville Hospital of Osteopathy and raised money through rummage and candy sales. They heard lectures concerning physical education and the recreational plans for Kirksville. Mr. Asher Fahri gave an account of the school system and physical education in Israel.

PEM Club strives to encourage high standards of leadership and scholarship in the fields of physical education and recreation.

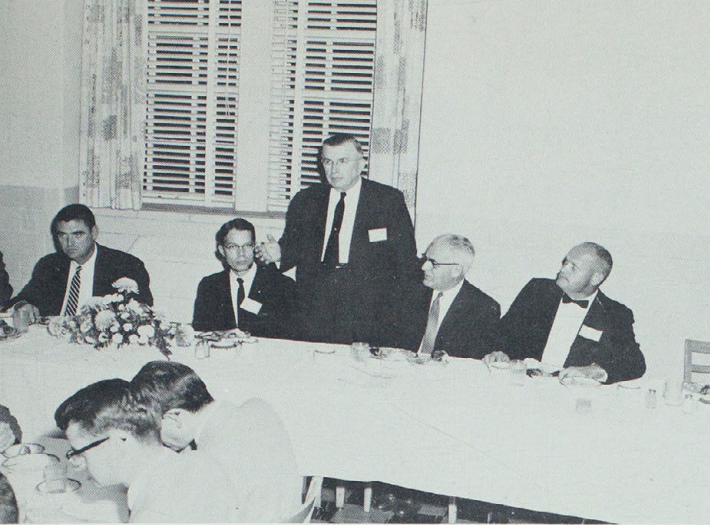

Eager faces reflecting a thirst for knowledge are characteristics of the children in the classrooms of proficient teachers. Such teachers are the products of the Association for Childhood Education.

Projects such as collecting toys and giving them to needy children at Christmas time help these elementary majors fulfill their organization's purpose: that of promoting the well-being and education of children in the school, home, and community.

Each month, the members receive the periodical "Childhood Educator," which is used as a guide for the student-faculty programs. During these programs, they encourage professional growth of teachers and investigate the needs of children and the ways the school program can fit these needs.

Hollow laughs peeled out of the depths of the tomb and a few shadowy figures flitted across the windows at the ghostly hour of one A.M.

We "spooks" were identified as members of the yearbook staff who defied all laws of the living. Down in the catacombs (room 104 in the P.A. Building) we buried ourselves four nights a week to decipher handwriting, alphabetize pictures, and write captions.

In this underworld huddled conferences took place to decide exactly how the masterpiece should be organized. All contact with the outside was exclusively by radio. (We knew every top tune.) Class work was ignored and many times the Echo served as scapegoat for low grades and late term papers.

Shut up together, we learned that Marthlu was fastidiously neat, that Jerry rated his own private upstairs office, and that Denny could compete with Robert Burns. Out of respect for Miss Babbitt's concern for others, we signed a silence pact.

We existed upon the smell of erasers, the scratch of pin points, and the taste of soda pop. "Coke break" was the only call which roused us from our dedicated trances.

We did have other haunts such as the Little Theater, the Bledsoe residence, and the smorgasbord at the Travelers Hotel. The odor of pizza wafted through the air at the celebration party where we met at Miss B's to congratulate ourselves on the successful completion of the book.

Without our photographer, Mr. Glenn Rider, who traveled from Kansas City, to "shoot" the students, Miss Helen Babbitt, sponsor, and Mrs. Eloise Hill, advisor, the yearbook would never have existed.

Special epitaphs should go to Marthlu Bledsoe, editor-in-chief; Steve Rinaberger, assistant editor; Jerry Noble, business editor; and Larry Wickless, assistant business editor.

Followor of the Bulldogs was Denny Wigal, sports editor. The last night we worked continuously at a killing pace to emerge the next morning from our cocoon of pop bottles and balls of discarded paper. Although our joints creaked, and our eyes were glazed, we had accomplished our goal--to give to you as a record of the dead past--this living 1960-61 Echo.

Catch those mistakes! We want to have a good Echo.

Wade directs fifth title team

The 1960 football season was the ninth for Maurice "Red" Wade as the highly successful head coach of Northeast Missouri State. It was also his best as his Bulldogs posted an 8-1 record and captured the MIAA conference championship. Wade's Bulldog teams have now compiled a 57-25-2 record while winning three conference championships and tying for two others--impressive credentials for any coach.

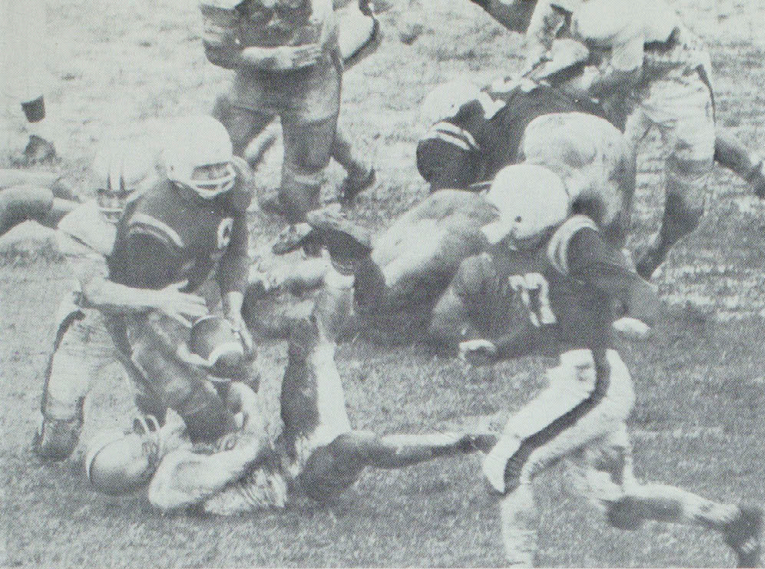

While in college, Wade starred in the backfield for the Universities of Missouri and Tulsa and was cited for All-American honors.

The secret of much of the Bulldog success must lie in head line-coach Kenneth Gardner. A giant of influence, both on the football field and off, Gardner's inspirational guidance and football savvy have developed many outstanding linemen.

Bulldogs embark on schedule with two wins

KIRKSVILLE 29—ST. JOSEPH'S 0. A sneak preview into a prosperous grid season in store for Northeast Missouri State was provided as the Bulldogs shut out St. Joseph's of Rensselaer, Indiana. Dale "Paley" Mills was in familiar form, rushing for 159 yards and a T.D. to add to six point productions by Joe Minton and Jack Ball. Tackle Fred Lyles blocked and tackled viciously to lead a murderous line attack on hapless St. Joe backs.

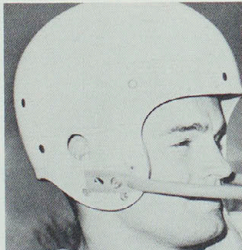

KIRKSVILLE 39—WASHBURN UNIVERSITY 12. The Stokes Stadium stands were seized by pandemonium from the game's outset as Wayne "Red" O'Neal returned the opening kickoff for 95 yards and six points. Later in the first quarter, the versatile wingback accounted for another touchdown, this time on a 25-yard pass from Jack Ball. Two T.D.'s by Paley Mills and one each by Jack Jones and John Carter served to complete the humiliation of the Washburn gridmen.

'Dogs split; Cape hex broken

KIRKSVILLE 8—CENTRAL STATE OF OHIO 32. Kirksville's early season bubble was properly broken by the irrespressible Central State of Ohio Marauders. An exceptionally fast, strong, and poised team, the Ohioans encountered the fumbling Purple and White on a night when nothing went right. At that the 'Dogs still managed to outrush their opponents, Paley Mills picking up the bulk of the yardage and also the only touchdown.

KIRKSVILLE 6—CAPE GIRARDEAU 0. The town was whitewashed with "BEAT CAPE" signs and esprit de corps ran high as the Bulldogs awaited the clash with the defending conference champs. Not since 1956 had the Purple and White been able to conquer the mighty Indians. However, victory in this conference opener was not to be denied them. Time and again the hard-charging Bulldog line, inspired by Jim Blacklock's recovery of two Indian fumbles, halted Cape drives and made a first quarter Ron Krueger touchdown hold up.

Another Ichabod is about to hit the turf. Crisp Bulldog blocking was a highlight of the 1960 season.

Rain fails to hinder big purple

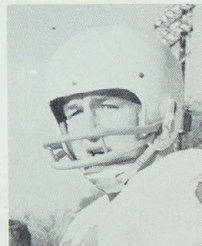

KIRKSVILLE 26—MARYVILLE 20. A lineman's moment of glory could not have come at a more opportune time. With but 1:45 remaining in the ball game and the score tied, Bulldog tackle Steve Stock inadvertently found himself in the path of a Maryville pass, grabbed it from the air, and lumbered into the end zone for the winning T.D. Moments earlier Paley Mills had made a tremendous catch of a Jack Ball payoff pitch. By this victory, Kirksville retained possession of the famed "hickory stick", a symbol of football rivalry between these two schools.

KIRKSVILLE 24—SPRINGFIELD 0. Kirksville supporters and returning alumni had to accept the "bitter with the sweet" as K.S.T.C. Homecoming festivities were virtually spoiled by a steady downpour. Only an important victory served to console Bulldog fans, many of whom had stationed themselves by radios in dry confines, "getting in shape" for the evening celebration. Those hearty souls who braved the rain saw a stubborn Bulldog defense yield the visiting Bears but 53 yards, never allowing them to penetrate the 40-yard line. Dale Mills scored two Kv. T.D.'s and a third was added by fullback Joe Minton.

Bulldogs grab title : best season since '36

KIRKSVILLE 25—WARRENSBURG 0. The Mules of Central Missouri State seemed hell-bent on handing Kirksville its sixth victory of the season by repeatedly surrendering the pigskin to the Bulldogs on mechanical errors. The 'Dogs were quite willing to oblige as they turned Paley Mills loose on four scoring plays, the final on a 53-yard jaunt which enabled him to pass the 4000-yard rushing milestone. With but one league encounter remaining the Big Purple had now assured themselves of at least a tie for the conference crown.

KIRKSVILLE 54—ROLLA 14. Traveling to Rolla with the MIAA title in reaching distance, the powerful Bulldogs intruded on the host Miners in a manner most unfitting for guests. After the smoke had cleared, even the slide-rule-wielding Miners could not find error in a score so one-sided as 54-14.

The game was one of outstanding significance. Not only had Kirksville won its first unshared league championship since 1954, but Dale Mills emerged the new four-year small-college scoring champion on the strength of his 32 points and 314 yard rushing. Only an extraordinary effort such as this could overshadow the fine running of freshman wingback Ronnie Krueger who struck pay-dirt on three occasions.

KIRKSVILLE 14—BRADLEY UNIVERSITY 7. The Bradley Braves were not a team to easily forget the previous year's trouncing suffered at the hands of the Kirksville Bulldogs. For three quarters the mighty 'Dogs could not emerge from a trap prepared by the ambushing Braves. Then midway into the final period, "Red" O'Neal burst from the enemy's grasp and galloped across the payoff stripe. A two-point run by Paley Mills was good and Northeast led 8-7. For added insurance Mills streaked 29 yards for a touchdown following Charlie Miller's interception.

Mills sets nine small college marks

The "Sweet Smell of Success" could not have been more aromatic for the powerful Bulldog griders. For the first time since 1954 the Purple and White became sole possessors of the MIAA conference football championship. En route to the title the charging Bulldog machine leveled opponents eight times, breaking down on but one occasion, and that before a non-conference foe.

Statistically the Bulldogs, leading in virtually every department, stood head and shoulders above league competition. And on the individual basis, the record was nearly as good.

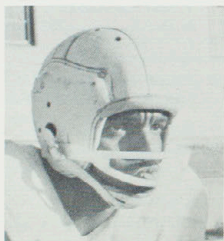

The man responsible for a major portion of the Bulldog success was the incomparable Dale "Paley" Mills. Mills for four straight years frustrated enemy tacklers and sent sportswriters searching for superlatives to describe this deceptive, slashing halfback.

When the season had terminated, Mills had broken eight small college career records and tied another. Among the most notable of these were his four-year total of 407 points; most rushing yards in a four-year career (4502); most in three seasons (4086); rushing champion for two consecutive years; most touchdowns (57) in three years; and he tied the four-year mark of 67.

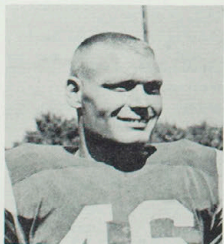

It certainly came as no surprise when Mills was selected as everyone's Little All-American, and became, for the third consecutive year, a unanimous MIAA All-Conference choice. In a post-season bowl pitting the major college stars against the small college stars, Paley carried the banners of Northeast Missouri State.

All of these honors are befitting to any great athlete, but perhaps the one treasured by Mills more than any other is the annual MIAA Sportsmanship Award presented him.

No team can attain the heights reached by Kirksville on the strength of one outstanding performer, and the Bulldogs certainly had many. Along with Mills on the MIAA first team were senior tackle Jim Blacklock, a co-captain, and sophomore quarterback Jack Ball. Daryl Danner and Wayne O'Neal were selected to second team berths while Fred Lyles received honorable mention. Both Blacklock and Lyles were listed for Little All-American honorable mention by the Associated Press.

K-Club initiates R.E. Valentine Scholarship Fund

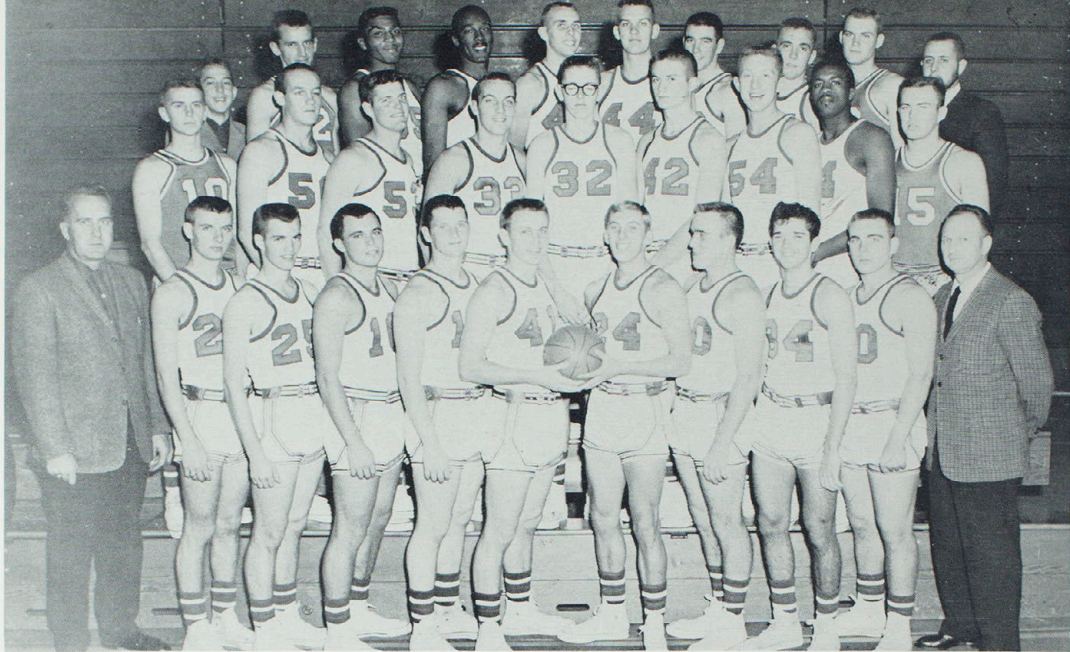

The students of Northeast Missouri State owe a big round of applause to K-Club. Directly because of its members, one of the basis aspects of college life - school spirit - is generated. As these lettermen are cheered at athletic contests, petty rivalries existing between individuals and campus organizations are cast aside, and a sense of binding fellowship is created among students supporting a common cause.

Aside from the traditional service projects performed by K-Club, a scholarship award in memory of the late R. E. Valentine is offered each quarter to the member achieving the highest honor point ratio. The award consists of $25.00, and a member cannot win it twice consecutively.

Top-favorite bulldog cagers foul out

A coach could not have been more elated than Northeast Missouri's Boyd King as he welcomed back last year's entire championship squad minus one. The defending MIAA basketball champs were the unanimous choice of pre-season pollsters to duplicate their 1959-60 conference showing and a heavy favorite to advance to the NCAA Nationals a second time. No one anticipated the barriers that lay before the Bulldog cagers.

The veteran Bulldogs proceeded in the right direction by scoring wins over IOWA WESLEYAN and WILLIAM PENN and it looked like a profitable season in the making. The Leathernecks of WESTERN ILLINOIS were next to visit Pershing Field House, but it took a 77-72 Kirksville victory to convince them of Bulldog superiority. ROCKHURST supplied KSTC with its fourth win of the season. With five Bulldogs scoring in the double figures, Kirksville trounced the MISSOURI VALLEY VIKINGS 84-65. Larry Swift was the top Bulldog point-maker with 20.

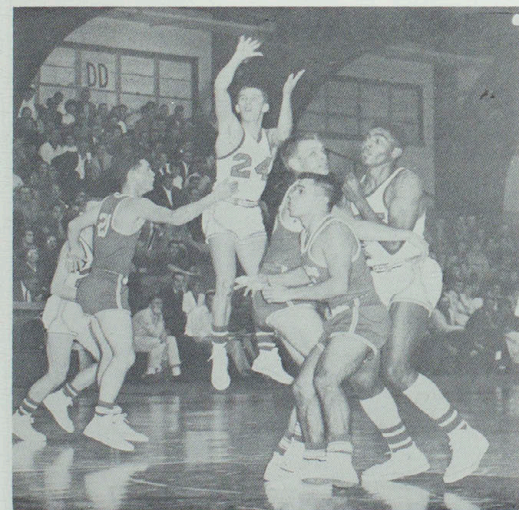

Mike Samuel sets sights for two against Western Illinois.

'Dogs run string to seven, then hit snag

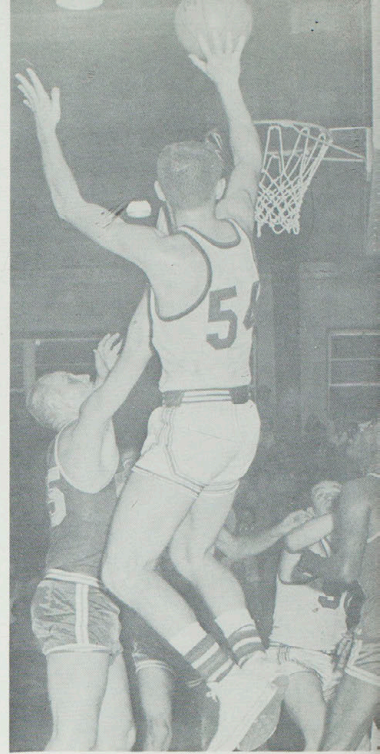

Hitting the road for the first time, the big Purple increased their momentum at the expense of the QUINCY Hawks in preparation for powerful Southern Illinois University. The Salukis of SOUTHERN, rated as one of the country's top small college teams, encountered the Bulldogs when they were possibly at their season's peak. Even Charley Vaughn's 25 points could not offset an 82-80 Bulldog conquest.

With Christmas vacation came the MIAA Holiday Tournament and, sadly enough for Kirksville fans, the initial signs of a hard-luck Bulldog story which were to become so evident as the season progressed. In the tournament's opening rounds, the ROLLA Miners offered little resistance, scoring 71 points to Kirksville's 93. But with MARYVILLE the story was quite the contrary. The bruising Bearcats managed to send the contest into overtime (the first of several such games to be experienced by the 'Dogs) and finally eked out a 80-77 victory. KSTC captured its final tournament encounter over ARKANSAS STATE as LARRY SWIFT and RALPH STERRETT were named to the All-Tournament team.

League disaster strikes big purple

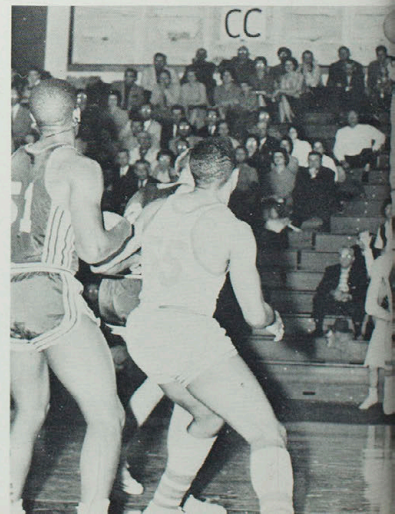

Turning to more serious competition, the Big Purple opened its official league schedule with a 68-62 loss, suffered at the hands of highly regarded CAPE GIRARDEAU. Mike Samuel and Larry Swift divided 40 points evenly between them to lead the Bulldogs to triumph over pesky ROLLA.

Back home for a one-game stand, the Bulldogs stood by helplessly as the SPRINGFIELD Bears took a 3-point lead in the remaining seconds and held on for a 76-75 win. Larry Swift's 25 counters were not enough to dampen MARYVILLE'S title hopes in a 51-42 score belying the closeness of the contest.

A 38-point spree by sharpshooting Larry Swift accounted for nearly half of the 79 counters scored against WESTERN ILLINOIS U. Five points again represented the margin of victory over Western as Swift set a school record. ROLLA fell before the KV. cagers for a third time.

Two overtime road defeats at the hands of WARRENSBURG and SPRINGFIELD shambled any Bulldog aspirations of a second conference championship in as many years. Kirksville could do no right, and that is the story in a nutshell.

Swift hits from the corner against Springfield.

Effervescent cheerleaders barked for the Bulldogs: Ken Ralls, Kitty Lundhoy, captain; Linda Bartlett, Sharon Simmons, Mary Ellen Graves, Barb Anderson, Sandy Ables, Larry Tate.

Big Purple cagemen close season with five straight wins

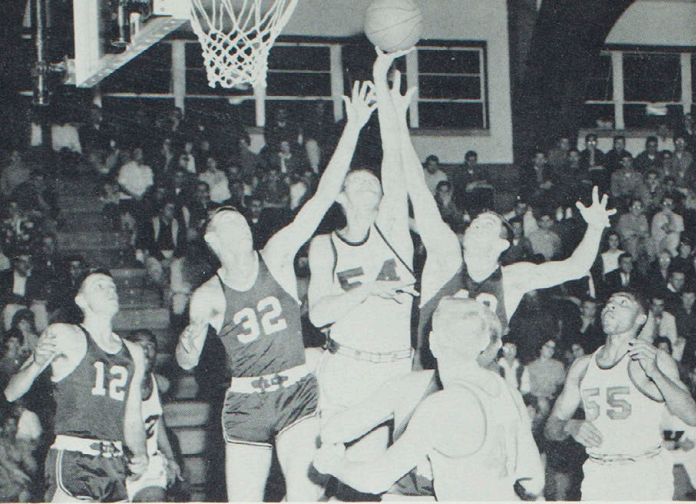

The Indian Carl Ritter battles Jumpin' Ed

The angry 'Dogs were now seeking someone to take their humiliation out on, and the QUINCY COLLEGE Hawks were the nearest in sight. Kirksville's highest point total of the year provided for a 94-68 romp. KSTC managed to harness the WARRENSBURG Mules from the proper end this time and coasted home, 85-70. Larry Swift rimmed 30 points for the victors.

A powerful tribe of CAPE GIRARDEAU Indians confidently invaded Pershing Field House boasting a 17-game victory skein and an unblemished league record. The Bulldogs, however, were equally confident and clearly the dominant team, as they turned the battle into a complete rout in the final ten minutes to the gallery chant of "we're number one." Kirksville supporters witnessed the Big Purple at full potential, and were little surprised at a 86-63 Bulldog conquest.

Making a quick trip to Kansas City, the Bulldogs disposed of ROCKHURST to end non-conference competition with a perfect record. Kirksville's final encounter against MARYVILLE was billed in advance as a contest likely to be filled with flying elbows and rough contact, and certainly nobody was disappointed. Two Bearcats were ejected for rough play as Ralph Sterrett and Larry Swift led the 'Dogs to a 81-69 win.

Larry Swift reaches among enemy arms to tip in two.

Swift selected to Little All-America

Most basketball teams would be perfectly satisfied with a 16-6 won-loss season record, but for Kirksville cagers it represented only bitter disappointment considering that five of these losses were in league play. Of these defeats, two were decided in overtime, a third by one point, another by six, and the fifth by nine counters, that margin being built up only in the remaining 60 seconds of the game. Kirksville's sixth loss was suffered in the Holiday Tournament at the hands of Maryville, that game also being sent into overtime. Despite these setbacks, the Bulldogs still managed a four-way tie for second place, indicating the stiff competition existing among conference rivals.

It is a feather in the Bulldog hat that the 'Dogs were the only conference team able to conquer the mighty Cape Indians. And it is a credit also to the coaching prowess of Boyd King, with one of the outstanding won-loss records in the country, for producing such a fine team. The overall achievements of this Bulldog aggregation were not as many as of some King-directed squads of the past, but the Big Purple of 1960-61 demonstrated that they could beat the best, and will be remembered as one of the greatest.

For three seasons Larry Swift, Kirksville's stellar performer has kept basketball spectators cheering on their feet with his graceful, radar-controlled shooting. Probably the greatest shooter ever to wear a Bulldog uniform, and an outstanding all-around team man, Swift has been anything but unnoticed. United Press International selected the Keokuk, Iowa product to the small college All-American team after having placed him on the third team last year. And for the third consecutive year, Swift was a unanimous choice for the MIAA all-star squad. As an additional tribute, the big red-head received the MIAA Sportsmanship Award.

Senior playmaker Ralph Sterrett was the second Bulldog honored as he was named to an MIAA All-conference second team berth. The flashy guard with the lightning-fast hands delighted screaming crowds by often defying opposition to steal the ball. Sterrett was also a consistent scorer.

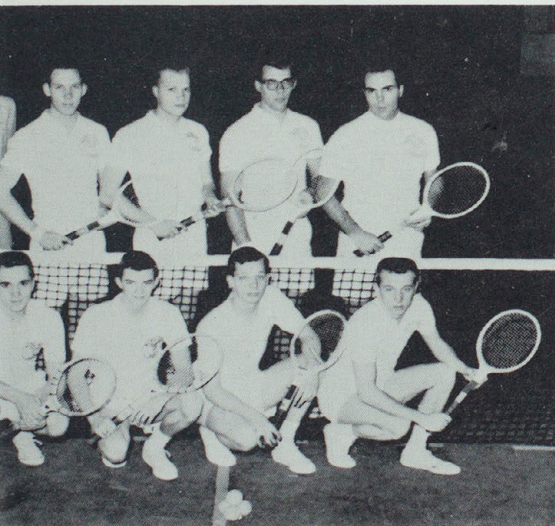

"Next time you get in my way Buster, I'll step on you."

Veteran golfers bolster title hopes

With the return of five veteran lettermen and the appearance of several promising freshmen aspirants, a banner year for golf seemed on the production line at Northeast Missouri State. Coach Boyd King's linkmen were "teed-off" at last year's second place MIAA finish, and were hoping to putt their way into the 1961 league championship. Enlightened sources agreed that this prospect was anything but dismal.

Tennis picture brightens

Kirkville netmen had only to look upward after having experienced an exasperating 1960 season. Even with such an ambitious schedule featuring the Universities of Purdue, Missouri, St. Louis, and Iowa, the '61 tennis future appeared bright as four lettermen bolstered the roster.

Coach Ralph Pink has done a commendable job in building KSTC tennis prestige, considering this is only Kirkville's third year of participation since pre-war years. And with fine young racketmen in the embryo stage, Bulldog fortunes promise to continue their steady rise.

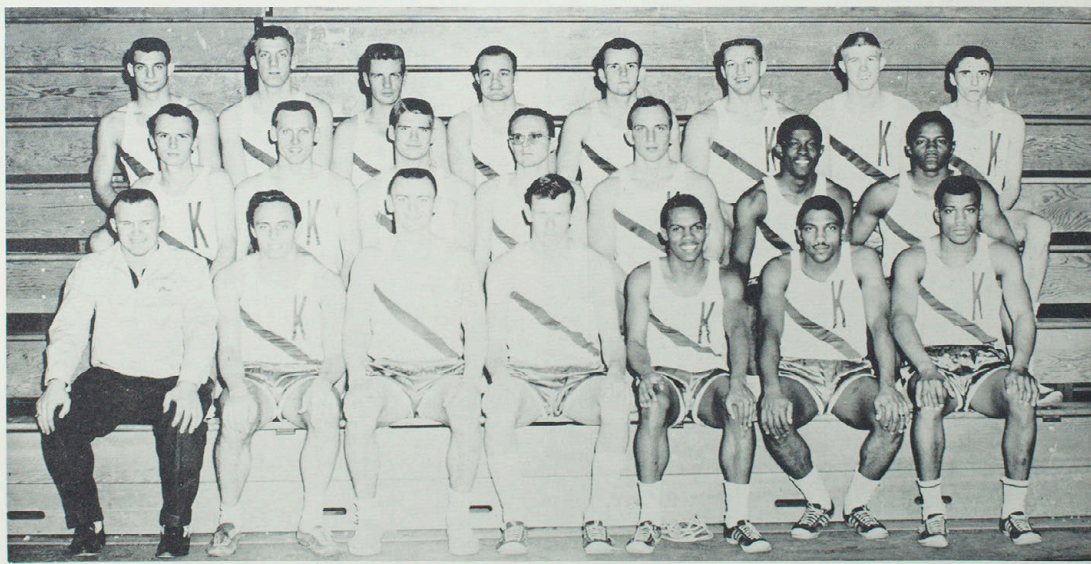

Leroy Berry demonstrates his broad jump form.

Cinder Squad shoots for third straight set of titles

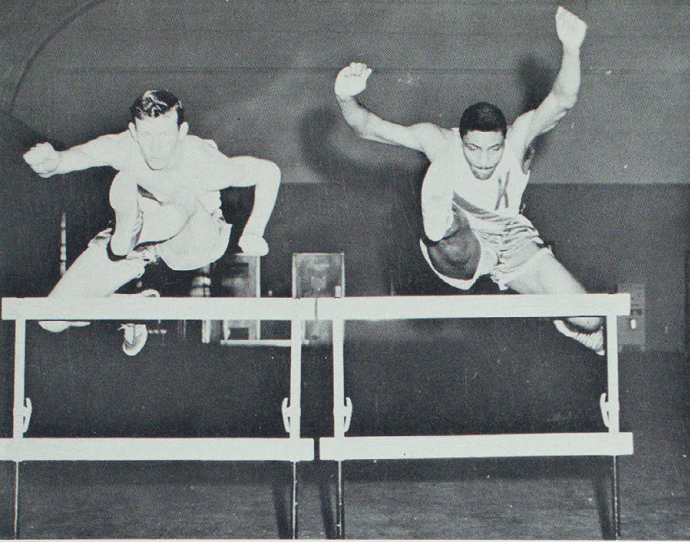

Within the past three years, dominance has become synonymous with track squads at Northeast Missouri State as Bulldog tracksters have swamped opponents with awesome exhibitions of tremendous strength and depth. Last year the overpowering 'Dogs repeated as MIAA Indoor and Outdoor champs, totaling more points than all other conference schools combined.

Even before the veteran thinclads could begin digging away at the cinders, pre-season predictors apparently were treading on safe ground by forecasting another championship year for Kirksville. At least two lettermen in nearly every event were returning to competition, and it appeared a virtual certainty that Coach Kenneth Gardner's cindermen would make these crystal ball gazers look like the prophets of old.

Harriers achieve national recognition

Kirksville's advance billing as the "team to beat" prompted all competition to be shooting for the big kill. However, only Graceland College was able to turn the tables on the veteran Bulldogs in dual rivalry, those two losses being avenged in the season's finale. Coach Wayne Martin's harriers completed their dual meet schedule with a 6-2 record.

During the course of the season, the Bulldogs squeezed by powerful opposition to cop the Quincy Open Invitational for the second time in two years.

For the second consecutive year the Purple and White found conference competition easy pickings as they romped off with the MIAA Conference crown. One-two place finishers Jim McFadden and Tony Barulich led the "Dogs to victory.

To add spice to their already successful year, Bulldog cross-country-men finished fourth in the NC AA meet run at the Chicago Country Club. Individually, Jim McFadden finished 10th from a field of 137.

Intramurals expand to lure more

Intramurals enjoyed another year of prosperity at Northeast Missouri State as student participation reached an all time high. An expanded program featuring new and diversified types of competition was designed to attract men students from all corners of the campus.

Fleetball opened the fall agenda of events, and the B. B. W.C.'s were on hand to accept the championship trophy for the second consecutive year. In the world of table tennis Ki Chul Chang dazzled all opposition into a state of passivity with his slam-band tactics.

The Phi Sigs tugged and the Sig Taus and Muckers slid into a waterfilled moat to provide P.S.E. with the tug-of-war crown. It appeared that Phi Sigma Epsilon was well on its way to another All-School Intramural trophy.

The cross-country turkey run climaxed the fall outdoor activities as freshman Floyd Waddle became the possessor of the first prize turkey. The remaining five runners had to be content with a live goose, duck, chicken, pigeon, and sparrow, respectively.

Badminton singles served to inaugurate indoor competition and was followed by volleyball. An unheralded faculty team surprisingly enough outspiked all comers to begin reign as new volleyball champs.

A record number of team entries demonstrated that basketball was far and away the most popular of all intramural sports. The basketball free-throw tourney and indoor tennis each proved appealing, drawing numerous contestants.

With the advent of spring, the doors of Pershing Building burst under the strain of intramural zealots seeking the freshness of outdoors. Softball diamonds were soon seen to be flooded with an influx of these enthusiasts while interest in track was nearly as great. On the eventful day of the track and field meet, it was no problem separating the frosh from the upperclassmen. These brew-sampling, once-a-year-athletes left much to be desired in the world of track and field.

Ralph Pink, the man behind the KSTC intramural system, has in two years doubled the now intensive and extensive program. In an era stressing the need for physical fitness, Coach Pink deserves credit for "doing his part."

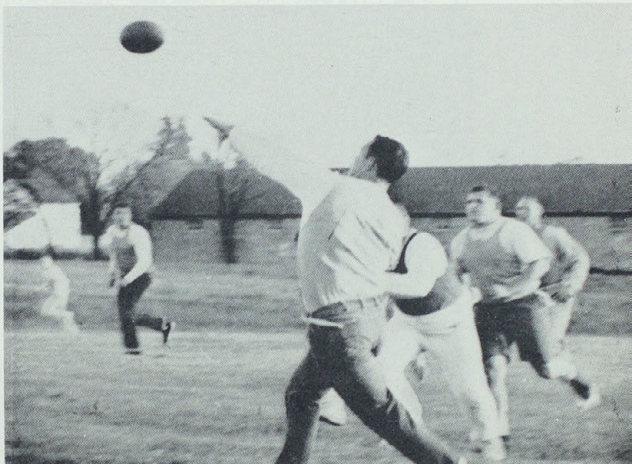

Cross-country turkey run victor, Floyd Waddle, crosses finish line, first.

The effects of a strenuous college life are evident in these supine Phi Sigs, pooped after a victorious pull.

Larry Tate is about to lose his flag.

H.A. Walmsley zeroes in on the intended receiver, Bob Stumpf.

Who said basketball was a non-contact sport?

Poise, purpose, and personality characterized the twenty pledges whom Alpha Sigma Alpha welcomed into its group following two rush parties: "Alpha traz" and "Teahouse of the Alpha Moon."

Ability in leadership was shown by Hylah Wilson who was president of Blanton and Nason Dormitory Council. Marilyn Lawson presided over the PEM Club and Barbara Freise was president of the K-Dettes.

As proof of their athletic skill, Alphas proudly possess the Women's Sports Trophy. At games, Mary Ellen Graves and Sharon Simmons were able cheerleaders; Lonna Hendren headed the WAA.

Social functions added balance to the sorority's activities. The pledges entertained the actives with a party, "Wonderland by Night." The Annual Sweetheart Dance, Mother's Day Tea, and the Breakfast Dance were all successfully staged.

No group has far-reaching influence without serving others; therefore, the Alphas helped at the Mentally Retarded School in Kirksville and gave the children a Christmas party.

Many Alphas added to sorority laurels. Karen Klinginsmith was elected Homecoming Queen attendant and Lou Jones, Echo Queen candidate. Because of their many campus activities, Mary Ellen Graves, Suzanne Green, and Hylah Wilson were chosen to be listed in Who's Who. Karen Klinginsmith served as treasurer of the Student Council.

This spring, Alpha Beta chapter welcomed the official visit of a representative from the national council of the sorority. As a result of plans made at a Tri-State Day at Warrensburg, Kirksville Alphas are looking forward to another year with an even more united and expanded program.

Temporarily cherishing the gleaming "silver chalice," Delta Zeta's worked hard to keep up their grade average so that the President's Scholarship Cup would become their permanent possession. To do this the sorority must win the cup for three consecutive years; they have received the honor the last two years.

Beginning in the fall, the Deltas swung into a year full of activities. Two rush parties led to a successful rush season with the sorority filling its quota of twenty girls. The rushees were first greeted by the barker of the carnival to open the "DZ Carnival." Sideshows, clowns, popcorn and lemonade were all part of the evening's festivities. "Geisha" girls and a bubbling fountain set the mood for the second rush party. "The Delta Zeta Teahouse."

For every honor there's a Delt, and this year was certainly no exception. Delta Zeta candidate, Sandy Ables, was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1960, and Myra Morris was selected by the junior class as their candidate for Echo Queen. The sorority was also represented in Who's Who by their president, Donna Dawkins. Kay Daugherty was elected senior class secretary in the fall, and Sandy Ables and Barb Anderson were chosen as cheerleaders.

The sorority took on two new philanthropic projects this year. Many of the girls visit with the patients at one of the Kirksville nursing homes, and others help a local girl-scout troop.

Service, scholarship and activities are all a part of Delta Zeta, the largest sorority in the National Panhellenic Conference.

Hobos sauntering down the sidewalk was not an indication of a sudden urge to hit the road-tramp style. These girls were merely dressed for "Hobo Haven." The national president, Mrs. Robert Lingle, was present as a guest speaker at this first rush party in fall quarter.

Rushees were treated to a trip "Around the World with Sigma Kappa" at the home of Mrs. Ivan Miller. A total of eighteen girls pledged Delta Theta chapter after formal rush and a Beatnik party held during open rush.

"Whoopee! All that hard work was worth it," was the happy reaction of Sigma Kappas and Alpha Kappa Lambdas when their float was judged second in the beauty division.

During the Christmas holidays, the girls, brimming with Christmas cheer and enthusiasm, visited guests. Familiar Christmas songs floated through the air as the group caroled the campus. Climaxing a fulfilling season was a dinner given by the Sigma Kappa alumnae at Elaine's Dining Room.

Crepe paper and glitter flew through nimble fingers as preparations were made for the traditional spring formal.

Several girls shone on the list of campus notables. Pat Mitch, president of the sorority, was selected as a member of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Janell Turner and Bibet Weber were elected junior and senior representatives, respectively, to the Student Council. Carolyn Cochran was elected secretary-treasurer of the sophomore class and represented the Sigma Kappa sorority as a Homecoming queen attendant.

"This year will be the best ever," was the solemn promise made by the members of Sigma Sigma Sigma. True to this pledge the girls successfully presented "Sigma in Vogue." From this sophisticated atmosphere created by French fashions the guests were whisked to an Italian sidewalk cafe complete with a violin virtuoso and pizza pies. Thirty-three girls pledged Mu chapter.

Who could forget Homecoming and Huckleberry Hound as he nodded from the float to the familiar phrase "Yogi made boo boo!" Santa appeared at the Christmas party, and giant candy bars were sold in order to make money for the Sheryl Fullerton Grim Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Founders' Day was commemorated with a spring banquet and Margaret Dixon, national president, visited the campus. The annual dance, entitled, "la Fantaise Viollette," set the scene in France complete with French pastry and line dancers.

Outstanding Sigmas on campus is the rule. Linda Bartlett and Judy Woods were Echo Queen candidates. Bernice Adams reigned as Homecoming Queen attendant. Included in Who's Who were Sherry Sowers, Marthlu Bledsoe, Jane Lawing, and Bernice Adams.

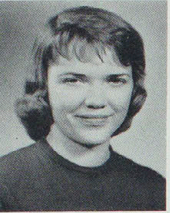

Connie Loughridge and Linda Bartlett were junior and freshman class officers respectively. Student Council members were Sandra Giachino, Kitty Lundhoy, and Kay Hutchinson. Kitty Lundhoy and Linda Bartlett led the team as cheerleaders, and Marthlu Bledsoe edited the 1960-61 Echo.

Panhellenic builds scholarship fund

The chaos heard in Baldwin was merely that made by students stampeding to buy theater tickets from Panhellenic Council members. All proceeds from the sale went for a scholarship fund.

The Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils organized Greek week and assisted with receptions, Freshmen Orientation, Parent's Day and Senior Day.

Members of all four sororities on campus attended the spring Panhellenic Banquet where new officers were installed, and the scholarship cup was awarded to the sorority with the highest grade average.

I.F.C. keeps alive fraternity ideals

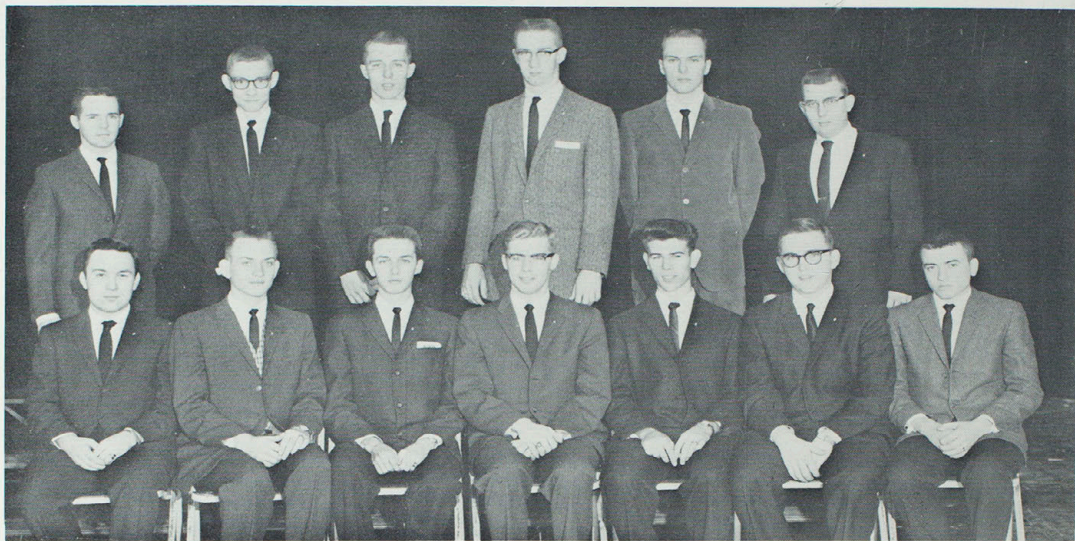

Possessing the olive branch for the Greek men of the campus, the Interfraternity Council settles any disagreements that arise between the fraternities and sets the dates for their rush events.

During Greek Week in the fall, the Council, in cooperation with Panhellenic, sponsors an all school dance and an assembly. The council also gives a banquet each spring, at which the fraternity with the highest honor-point ratio is awarded the coveted President's Scholarship Cup.

The gleaming trophy high on the mantel of the Alpha Kappa Lambda house represents the seventh year of outstanding scholarship for these college "brains."

With colors flying, the members of the fraternity went all out for a successful rush season. Supplies arrived from "Playboy" magazine to set the scene for the first smoker. Entertainment was supplied by Colin Skinner, an honorary member, and Tom Perry, an alumnus.

Many eager rushees attended the annual "Univerity Rush Dance" for an evening of fun and frolic. During the intermission, trophies were presented to the outstanding active, Roger York; the most loyal member, Harry Smith; and the member with the highest scholarship, Gale McDonald.

The members had a chore of housekeeping as they redecorated the fraternity house from top to bottom. This, the first chapter-owned house on this campus, took on a new appearance with the addition of new curtains, fresh paint, and modern furniture.

High flying Alpha Kappa Lambdas are always on the go. The annual formal was presented in the spring. House parties, informal get-togethers and the rush functions rounded out the social activities. Campus-wide, the members participated in the student council elections, Greek Week activities, Homecoming, and intramural contests.

Among its outstanding members are Roger York and Gale McDonald who represent the fraternity in Who's Who.

Founded at the University of California in 1915, AKL holds the distinction of being the only fraternity founded on the west coast, its growth being to the east. AKL has 19 active chapters and five colonies across the country as well as a number of alumni chapters.

Phi Sigs emphasize both brain and brawn

Phi Sigma Epsilon began preparations for Homecoming after a successful Open House. Weary hours produced papier-mache hands, dark-ringed eyes, and, triumphantly enough, a second place float in the spirit division.

Twelve burly Phi Sigs flexed their muscles and proceeded to pull all comers through muck and slime en route to the tug-of-war championship. Meanwhile, the Old Masters captured a second place finish in their fleet-ball league while two Phi Sig entries in basketball captured their respective leagues, serving notice that the defending All-School Intramural Champs were on the move again.

The Honorable Fred Schwengel, Gamma Alumnus, served as guest speaker at the annual rush smoker. Further rush activities included "La Apache," traditional rush dance, and a swingin' band which helped set the atmosphere of the lower French quarter. On the day of decision, Phi Sigma Epsilon emerged with 38 pledges.

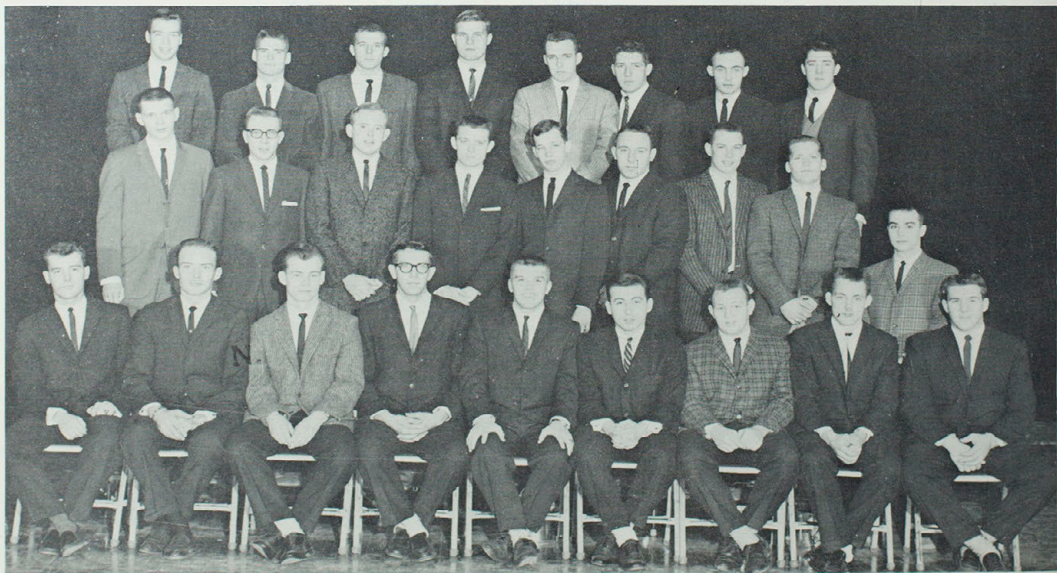

The supply of midnight oil was always near empty at 503 South Davis as the fun-loving Phi Sigs took time out from parties and activities to post a very respectable 1.57 accumulative honor-point ratio for fall quarter.

In the BMOC department, class presidents included Jim Blacklock and Ben Averbuch of the senior and junior classes respectively, while Jack Ward was junior class councilman. Who's Who selections were Calvin Berrey, Jim Blacklock, and Wayne O'Neal.

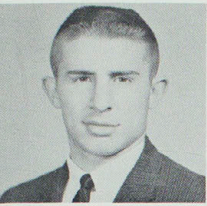

Blacklock, football co-captain, was also an all-conference choice, with Wayne O'Neal and Daryl Danner second team picks.

Jerry Herrin was elected Historical Society prexy and Denny Wigal was Sports Editor of the Echo.

Phi Sigs promote campus spirit

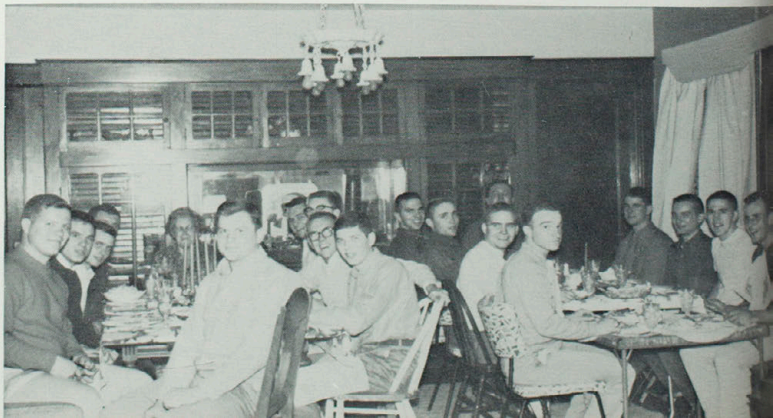

Phi Sigs use hard work and beautiful girls to roll up a second place float.

Even house clean-up evokes a smile from these tidy mixed-up pledges.

Everybody's here, where's the party cheer?

"Bring on the turkey!!" is sounded throughout the Phi Sig house on Thanksgiving Day.

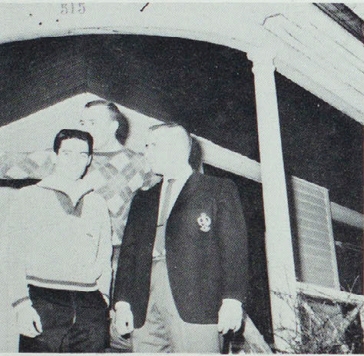

Taus contribute to community and college

This Tau team attempts to trot for the turkey.

ry Reece singing "Ci-gar-eets, and whiskey, and wild, wild women," will drive you insane.

Again the Taus contributed to the community by giving to the Blood-Mobile Program, making the donors feel anemic but happy.

"Pancakes and more pancakes, all we could see were pancakes," thought the pledges at their annual fund raising day for the Angus T. Memorial Scholarship fund.

Climaxing the winter quarter, the brothers celebrated their house-mother's 80th birthday with a dinner plus a delicious three-layer cake. With the year drawing to a close the feeling is: "job well done."

First prize! Congratulations, Bernie; now you can shave and give the girls a break.

Beta was honored this year by a visit from their National President, Ollin Drennen, from the University of Wisconsin, who praised the chapter for its contribution to campus leadership.

Active in promoting a Student Union was Gerry Campbell, student council president. Other outstanding Beta's were Wayne Mosher, Francis Sporer, and Jim Soderstrom, presidents of A.P.O., Blue Key, and sophomore class, respectively.

Members elected to Who's Who were Terry Lantz, Gerry Campbell, Wayne Mosher, Francis Sporer, Earl Turner, Wayne McIntire, Brandt Crocker, and Gary Hendren. Jerry Noble served as business manager, Larry Wickless as assistant manager, and Steve Rinaberger as assistant editor, of the Echo.

In December the annual 49'ers was a howling success as a final function for rush season. Bernie Buckman came out wearing the winning beard.

Events of the year which the Taus will never forget are Homecoming, the blast at Maryville, spring election parties and spring trips to the lake.

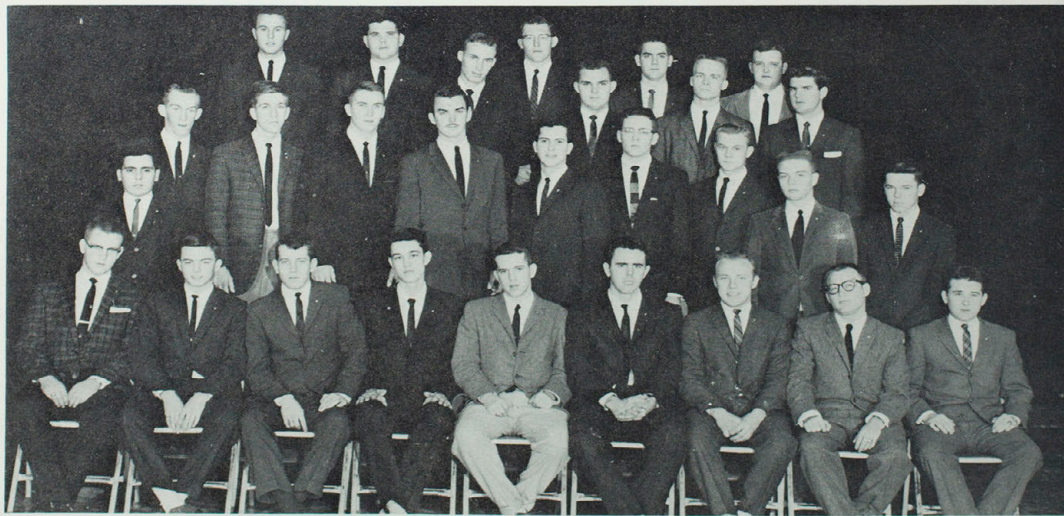

The traditional spring formal climaxed the year's activities as the Tau's proudly crowned their White Rose Queen.

Conflict of the id, the ego, and the super ego cause personality conflicts. The struggle between these may be caused by the decision of whether or not to go to class, says Dr. Pauline Knobbs.

Being a class officer isn't such a serious job. Junior class officers Ben Averbusch, Pres.; Joe Kelly, Vice Pres.; Connie Loughridge, Sec. Treas.; Janell Turner, Councilwoman; Jack Ward, Councilman, agree that the job isn't too serious.

Dean of Instruction

"If there is some question that a member of the faculty or the head of the division cannot answer, he always says, 'Take it to the Dean!'" commented Dr. Wray M. Rieger after serving his first year as Dean of Instruction.

Dean Rieger attended the Teachers College and graduated from the University of Missouri with a B.S. Degree in 1927. He received an M.A. from the University of Chicago and a Ph.D. from the University of Southern California. Having spent thirty-three years as an instructor at this institution, he served for fourteen years as head of the Division of Science and Mathematics.

Oh, the problems of being a Dean!

Registrar

"PLEASE tell me what my matriculation number is." "But I just know that I turned in my transcript!" "Where is my credit for assembly?"

These are familiar cries heard in the office of the registrar. Amid these interruptions, the efficient staff, headed by Orville E. Bowers, files all of the academic data, furnishes transcripts and certificates of credit to the State Department of Education and other colleges, checks candidates for degrees, evaluates credits, and reports grades.

Fan mail for the faculty.

Admissions

The first contact a high school senior has with the College is through the Admissions Office. First impressions are always important; only good ones are formed by dealing with this department, headed by Charles Elam, Director of Admissions.

Because of the tireless work of this department, more prospective students have been informed about this College, enrollment has increased, and the members of the student body are happy with their decisions.

It's enrollment day and the lines seem endless but no one has to wait for an unnecessary length of time due to the lightning speed and efficiency of the members of the Business Office. They quickly add columns of figures, make change, and hand out activity tickets.

During the school year, the members of the Business Office work behind the scenes to keep things "balanced." Keeping College records, purchasing materials, and handling financial matters are only a few of their responsibilities.

Extension Service

"Extension" is truly an appropriate name for this far-reaching service. Influential in many areas, this department manipulates the education of teachers away from the campus, the placement of competent graduates in desirable teaching positions, and the maintenance of a rental film library.

It truly lives up to its goals--"To extend a helping hand to all communities of North-east Missouri by encouraging, promoting, and directing worth-while educational programs in the area."

Some of its many useful appendages are the Placement Bureau, the Field Service, and the Correspondence and Extension Bureau.

THE DIVISION OF PERSONNEL SERVICE

Dear Abbey, "My roommate and I cannot agree on the color of curtains for our dormitory room. What shall we do?" There is no need to let college life worry you. The Division of Personnel Service is always eager to assist with intelligent counseling.

Every student is assigned an advisor who guides him in the selection of classes and aids him in adjusting to situations.

The personnel counselors, guidance directors, clinicians, College Physician, and academic division heads, all cooperate in order to provide a happy atmosphere for each college day.

Howard Morris

Head, Division of Maintenance Service

Without the Maintenance Service, chaos would be the order of the day. Who would stoke the furnaces on cold mornings, check the flowers to ascertain that none were missing, or retrieve test questions from faculty wastebaskets before these papers fall into the hands of eager students?

"Unsung heroes of the College campus" would be an apt title for the custodians, engineers, firemen, carpenters, painters, electricians, night watchmen, and gardeners. These men comprise the maintenance force in charge of the College grounds and buildings, non-instructional materials, store rooms and warehouses.

"Old Missouri"

"Old Missou" and "Old Missouri,"
And thou our love hath won,
Fondly cling we to the mem'ry
Of old Missouri's Son."
Gladly thee our hearts we tender
By the dim and flick'ring light,
Every lad a proud defender
Of the Purple and the White.

In debates or feats of athletic
The broader field of life,
Midst the shifting scenes of progress,
Where the fiercest fights are rife,
Taught by many a glorious victory
From many a hard fought fight,
They have learned they have to reckon
With the Purple and the White.

Hark the sounds of yells exult'ng
From the Tigers Den!
Did ye hear the shouts of triumph?
'Twas the Warrensburg brave men.
Far above them hark the tumult,
Like the triumph of the right,
Underneath the sacred symbol
Of the Purple and the White.

Through to Harvard, Yale or Princeton
Should we onward still pursue,
As adopted "Sons of Eli"
To the violets prove true,
Shall we ever cease to love thee,
To tremble with delight
As we mark the gallant flutter
Of the Purple and the White!
