Truman Receives Continued Accreditation

The Higher Learning Commission, a commission of the North Central Association of colleges and schools, notified University President Barbara Dixon that the Institutional Actions Council (IAC) voted to continue the accreditation of Truman State University at its meeting June 13. The Commission Board of Trustees validated the IAC action through its validation process that concluded June 24.

"Truman's continued ten-year reaffirmation of accreditation by the Higher Learning Commission is the result of much hard work by senior administration, faculty, staff and students," Debra Kerby, professor of accounting and self-study coordinator, said. "The reaffirmation offers confirmation that student learning and development is the focus of the University's planning, decision-making, and educational activities.

"I would like to offer my sincere thanks to all the individuals involved in the self-study process who collected and reported the evidence that demonstrated that the University fulfilled each of the five accreditation standards."

Truman hosted a team of evaluators from The Higher Learning Commission Jan. 31-Feb. 2.

In preparation for this visit, about 70 Truman faculty, staff and students were engaged in a comprehensive self-study process during the 2003-2004 academic year. The University submitted an evaluative written report to the HLC in December 2004.

Kerby chaired the 19-member steering committee that guided the self-study process. Five subcommittees collected, analyzed and evaluated data. The subcommittee chairs were Adam Davis, professor of English and interim director of interdisciplinary studies; Jay Bulen, associate professor of music; Doug Davenport, interim dean of social science and associate professor of justice systems; Janet Gooch, associate professor and director of communication disorders; and Karen Smith, associate professor of psychology.

Kiddoo Sworn in as New Board of Governors Student Representative

The Board of Governors has a new member.

Gov. Matt Blunt appointed Emily Kiddoo to the Board of Governors in July.

Kiddoo is a sophomore political science and business double major from Memphis, Mo. She is a member of the P.E.O. Chapter C and the Truman State University College Republicans. Kiddoo is a member of the United Methodist Church. She is a recipient of the Truman Leadership Scholarship award and the Missouri Health Care Association Teen Volunteer of the Year award in 2004.

Truman in the News

Truman has been recognized by two publications recently.

For the ninth year in a row, Truman State University has been recognized as the No. 1 Public University in the Midwest Region-Master's Category by U.S. News & World Report's "America's Best Colleges 2006." Truman also was ranked No. 8 overall in the Midwest region among both private and public institutions. Truman is the only public university in Missouri to be included in the top 10 public university-master's ranking. The Midwest region category includes Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Truman was also highlighted as having two programs, The Senior Capstone and Undergraduate Research, which are considered outstanding academic programs that lead to student success.

U.S. News & World Report based its regional master's rankings on graduation and retention rates, faculty resources, student selectivity, financial resources, alumni giving, and peer assessments among those institutions whose focus is mainly undergraduate and master's-level programs.

Truman State University is one of the nation's best institutions for undergraduate education, according to The 2006 Princeton Review College Guide's "The Best 361 Colleges." Truman is among a select group of schools featured in the latest edition that looked at academic programs, institutional data, feedback from students at the schools, and visits to schools during the years. Opinions of independent college counselors, students and parents were also considered. Efforts were made to have a wide representation of colleges in the book by region, size, selectivity and character. Truman also ranked No. 5 in the category "Students Happy With Financial Aid." More than 95 percent of incoming freshmen receive a University scholarship and/or federal financial aid.

According to "The Best 361 Colleges," only about 15 percent of the four-year colleges in America and two Canadian colleges are in the book. The book contains two-page profiles on each University listed.

Tel Alumni Seeks Help

Students interested in a part-time job this semester are encouraged to apply to work with the Tel Alumni campaign. Tel Alumni is hiring between 30-40 students to work for 12 weeks.

No experience is necessary, but they are looking for students who have good communication skills, an outgoing personality, a strong work ethic, and a willingness to ask parents and alumni for financial support.

Students must be available to work at least two of the following shifts each week: Sunday, 4-7 p.m.; Monday, 6-9 p.m.; Tuesday, 6-9 p.m.; Wednesday, 6-9 p.m.; or Thursday, 6-9 p.m.

Tel Alumni offers nightly prizes including items such as gift certificates, clothing and food; a relaxed, fun environment; paid training; a flexible schedule and an hourly wage of $5.15. Scholarship and work study positions are also available. Tel Alumni is an excellent resumé builder for students majoring in fields such as business and/or communication.

For more information, go to <http://truman.erecruiting.com> or pick up an application in the Advancement Office, McClain Hall 100. The application deadline is Sept. 6. Contact Brad Neathery, at 785.7432 or neathery@truman.edu for more information.

Job Openings Posted on eRecruiting

Students should check out the University Career Center's eRecruiting Web site at <http://truman.erecruiting.com> if they are looking for a job on or off campus.

eRecruiting is used by more than 500 colleges and universities across the nation to address their recruiting needs. Truman uses eRecruiting for students and alumni to find opportunities both on and off campus, internships, co-ops and careers when they leave Truman.

eRecruiting provides students with a centralized location on the Web to find on-campus job opportunities for student work including scholarship, institutional and volunteer positions.

Maureen Bylina, a senior health science major from Chicago, has been honored with the Eta Sigma Gamma National Professional Health Science Honorary Founder's Scholarship Award. The award will be presented at the Annual Meeting of Eta Sigma Gamma during the American School Health Association National Conference in Burbank, Calif., on Oct. 21.

Taner Edis, associate professor of physics, together with Amy Bix, published the paper "Biology and 'Created Nature'" Gender and the Body in Popular Islamic Literature from Modern Turkey and the West" in the Arab Studies Journal 12:2/13:1 140 (2005).

John Ishiyama, professor of political science and McNair Program Director, had his article "Globalization and the Formerly Dominant Communist Parties in Central and Eastern Europe" published in the journal Globalization. In addition his article "The Former Marxist Leninist Parties in Africa after the End of the Cold War" has been accepted for publication in the journal Acta Politica.

Barry C. Poyner, professor of communication, had an entry on "James Shannon" published in The Encyclopedia of the Stone-Campbell Movement (Eerdmans Publishing Co., 2004). Poyner's earlier work on Shannon is still in print, Bound to Slavery: James Shannon and the Restoration Movement (Star Bible, 1999). This semester Poyner is on sabbatical researching the life of Emily Tubman, wealthy and independent southern philanthropist, who freed her slaves and accompanied them to Liberia. A descendant of the Tubman slaves became president of Liberia.

Gregg Siewert, professor of French, attended the American Association of Teachers of French annual convention in Québec, Canada, July 7-10. In addition to presenting a session on contemporary French song lyrics to 48 conferees, he earned first prize in the teachers' oral dictation contest, and was awarded a copy of the 2005 edition of the Petit Larousse dictionary. About 90 teachers wrote the dictation, but only 46 turned in their copies for evaluation. Siewert was invited to submit a chapter on sport in contemporary France for a volume on French civilization to appear in late 2007. He was able to have dinner with four of the six Truman undergraduates who were studying at U. Laval this July-August.

Truman Faculty Promoted

The following faculty were approved for promotion at the June 17 Board of Governors meeting:

From associate professor to professor: Jacqueline Collett, music; David Conner, psychology; Cynthia Cooper, biology; Adam Davis, English; Scott Fouch, accounting; John Hoffman, education; Patrick Lobert, French; Christopher Maglio, counseling; Joan Mather, theatre; Judith Misale, psychology; Sherri Palmer, psychology; Terry Palmer, psychology; and Donna Rhinesmith, education.

From assistant professor to associate professor: Scott Alberts, mathematics;

Matthew Beaky, physics; Dale Blesz, special education; Michael Bump, music; Scott Burt, biology; Dereck Daschke, philosophy and religion; Danion Doman, Spanish; Taner Edis, physics; David Garth, mathematics; Martin Jayne, justice systems; Jennifer Jesse, philosophy and religion; Priya Kambli, art; Peter Kelly, special education; Hyun-Joo Kim, mathematics; Andrew Klyukovski, communication; Alexander Koch, exercise science; Joaquin Maldonado-Class, Spanish; Marie Orton, Italian; Pamela Ryan, mathematics; Scott Thatcher, mathematics; Juan Carlos Valencia, Spanish; and Albert Weitz, communication.

Campus Bike Racks Moved

Those people riding bikes on the Truman campus may have noticed changes in where they can park their bike.

According to Karl Schneider, director of physical plant, most of the bike racks on campus have generally been moved toward the perimeter.

"The bike racks were moved in order to make bike parking more accessible from off campus and also to help reduce the conflict between pedestrians and bikes on interior sidewalks of the campus," Schneider said. "Although the changes may be hard to get used to initially, in the long run it will make the campus safer."

In the meantime, bikers are asked to please use the provided bike racks and not attach their bikes to light posts, campus fencing or rails.

Washington Center Program to Have Informational Meetings

Students can apply for internships in the Washington Center Program for either the spring or summer semesters 2006. An application deadline of Sept. 15 has been set to meet the competitive deadline for spring 2006 and the security clearance deadline for summer 2006, according to campus liaison Diane Tobin Johnson, assistant professor of communication.

Students who wish to apply to intern in summer 2006 for the U.S. Attorney's Office, the U.S. Department of Defense, the U.S. Department of Justice, the U.S. Department of State, and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security must meet the security clearance deadline. Students who wish to compete for placements for spring 2006 with CNN, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, The White House, and certain government agencies must meet the competitive deadline to compete for stipends and awards in various leadership and government programs.

Students from any major can apply for this program and are invited to attend an informational meeting and/or application workshop. The application workshops will take place in a classroom with computer access so that students can actually work on their applications.

Informational meetings will take place at 7 p.m. Sept. 1 in Baldwin Hall 262 and at 7 p.m. Sept. 6 in Baldwin Hall 249. Application workshops will take place at 3:30 p.m. Sept. 9 in Baldwin Hall 351 and at 9 a.m. Sept. 13 in Baldwin Hall 351.

For additional information about the program, including projected costs, consult the Washington Center Web site, <http://www.twc.edu> or contact Johnson at djohnson@truman.edu or 785.7852.

The Child Development Center (CDC) at Truman State University has added a new Monday, Wednesday and Friday (MWF) half-day preschool program. The new MWF half-time program's schedule will be from 7:15-11:15 a.m. or 1:30-5:30 p.m. Tuition rates for this program are competitive with community tuition rates. If interested, call the CDC's Head Teacher Heather Rohn at 785.4473 or the CDC Director Jo Agnew-Tally at 660.349.0032. As part of the You Drink & Drive. You Lose. National Crackdown, the Department of Public Safety (DPS) is currently working with other local agencies to protect people from impaired drivers until Sept. 5. DPS officers will be conducting patrols throughout the University community. The University Art Gallery at Truman presents two exhibits until Sept. 30. A solo exhibit of Jo Stealey's work is on display in the Spotlight (side) Gallery. A public reception will take place at 6 p.m., Sept. 12, at the University Art Gallery. An art faculty exhibit, "The Truman Show," is on display in the gallery. A public reception will take place at 6 p.m., Sept. 19, at the University Art Gallery. Contact Aaron Fine at 785.5386 for more information.

Over the summer as part of the Summer Reading Program, Student Senate and the Residential College Program invited all members of the Truman community to read "War is a Force That Gives Us Meaning" by Chris Hedges (First Anchor Books, 2002) and/or "Betsey Brown" by Ntozake Shange (Picador, 1985). There will be a discussion of these books at 7 p.m., Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, in the Student Union Building Georgian Room. They will discuss "War is a Force That Gives Us Meaning" on Aug. 31 and they will discuss "Betsey Brown" on Sept. 1.

The Writing Center, located in McClain Hall 303, will be open for consultations beginning Sept. 6. The Writing Center hours will be announced at a later date.

The Center for Teaching and Learning will launch its Weekly Lunch Series for faculty, teaching staff and GTRAs with reports from the 2004-2005 E-Fellows at 12:30-1:30 p.m., Sept. 7, in the SUB Spanish Room. Participants may receive $3.00 toward their Sodexo meal by signing the attendance sheet at any of the Student Union checkout counters. Contact the Center for Teaching and Learning at 785.4477 for more information. The Observatory will be open to the public weather permitting from 8:30-10:30 p.m., Sept. 8, at the University Farm. Go to <http://observatory.truman.edu> for additional information.

The AAUP will meet at 4:30 p.m., Sept. 9, at the University Club. Contact Marc Becker at 785.6036 for more information.

The Brashear Elementary After-School Program is looking for Truman students, faculty, staff and organizations to share their knowledge and talents with the elementary students. This may be done through hands-on activities, displays, interactive presentations, performances, or any type of creative methods. This can be a one-time event, sequence of events or scheduled on a regular basis. Contact campus liaison Colleen McLaughlin at colleen_mclaughlin@brashear.k12.mo.us for more information.

Important Information from the Registrar's Office

Free add/drop for full-term and first block courses ends at 11:59 p.m. Sept. 2. Students may add and drop courses via TruView or make changes in person in the Registrar's Office between 8 a.m.-5 p.m. New freshmen and new transfer students will need to obtain their RAC code from their academic adviser to make schedule changes. Returning students will not need a RAC to make changes to their schedules. A $50 add/drop fee will be assessed for any schedule change made after the free add/drop period ends.

Students living off-campus should update their local mailing address with the University via TruView. Address changes can also be made in the Registrar's Office, McClain Hall 104. Students are responsible for all information sent to their local mailing address from University offices and personnel conducting University business.

Returning students who completed courses at other colleges or universities during the summer semester need to send official transcripts for this work to the Registrar's Office by Sept. 30. Students who have already sent a transcript to Truman, should check their transcript on TruView to be sure that this credit appears correctly on their records.

The tentative spring 2006 schedule is now available via TruView. To view the schedules, select "search open course list" from either the student or the faculty tab.

Graduation applications for undergraduates who want to graduate in May 2006 are due in the Registrar's Office by Sept. 9. Applications and degree worksheets are available at <http://registrar.truman.edu>. The tentative Spring 2006 schedule is available via the TruView open course list to help students complete their application.

December 2005 Undergraduate Degree Candidates:

If you have made any changes in your course schedule(s) since you submitted your graduation application and have not yet updated your application with the Registrar's Office, you need to do so immediately. Updates can be made in the Registrar's Office, McClain Hall 104, Monday through Friday between 8 a.m.-5 p.m. You do not need to complete a new application. To remain on the graduation list, all changes to your degree plan and all required substitutions must be on file in the Registrar's Office no later than Sept. 30.

Check out the online Master Calendar at <http://calendar.truman.edu> for additional events on campus.
